Thread: How do you introduce Crypto to your Family and Friends

sw0p - October 6, 2017, 6:17 pm

Hey Guys, since I started with crypto currency all my Family and Friends are asking about it. Im really bad at explaining and i was wondering how you guys are doing it?

They always ask for some videos or something but im not sure which.
Do you have some nice Videos to share which are easy to understand etc?

thanks :)

I host 50 person seminars about it.

Or just pull the "online currency, like stocks" card

Look at this thread Omni posted about introducing friends and family, it should be helpful

You want to give them as many resources as possible so they can make a educated decision.
Check out my thread which has some helpful links to direct them ETH TO THE MOON

*It is geared toward Ethereum but many of the links are helpful for general crypto currency

Whenever anyone asks my typical response is the 'like the stock market, but more volatile' card

Some of my family already into it but there are also alot who say that they dont trust this stuff :D

Also i like Omnis post ! i like those Videos but this video is from 2013.

Do you guys know some videos of this style to explain cryptocurrency/blockchain?
