Some vouch credits are available for L33T and UB3R members. Register on the site then send a PM if you're interested.

JUSTIN - October 6, 2017, 8:58 pm

Works well, thanks for letting me try it out :)

Pretty cheap and easy to use, I'd recommend it, I'm a lot less lonely now.

Great,

postmaster so kind to give $20 vouches as soon as i register on fill email, its so amazing.

mom37 - October 8, 2017, 11:30 pm

no offence but your sites BTC price is way lower than current rates... i sent $20 your site shows $15 in balance...

Hello,

I just tried the website and send 300 mails to a gmail adress to test. (5mail rate/ 60seconds)
I receive mails but i have gotten only 3 mails in my inbox and 79 in my spam.
Is there any way to get more "real mails" in the inbox? I wouldn't call 3 mails bombing ;)
Everything else works just fine.

thehyenas - October 15, 2017, 12:50 am

It's working. We don't have guarantees on how many will end up in the mailbox over time, but we do guarantee the number of messages sent during the time period selected. These mailing lists do tend to send out quite a bit of volume over time.

Just for one person. You don't get to control the content of the emails.

This works great for providers that offer email to SMS gateways, a number we tested on has been receiving messages for months.

Here's a list with a few carriers

<https://github.com/preston/sms-easy/blob/master/templates/sms-easy.yml>

If you have an AT&T number 4214214414 then you enter 4214214414@txt.att.net as the target.
You can easily look up carriers on <https://twilio.com/lookup>

Punisher - September 6, 2018, 12:11 pm

I didn't realize there was still a market for email bombing especially this day and age were there's hundreds of free open source code email bomber projects all over the internet. From what I'm reading in these most recent post the OP is missing and the product isn't currently working. It's a cool domain name for sure though and the price seems fair if the OP ever comes back and gets it working again.

what % of emails actually hit inbox?

Ablublu - November 21, 2018, 2:42 pm more than 95%. I'm building a copycat; it's an awesome method ! :')

LGx Hackz zZ - November 22, 2018, 12:15 pm

whats the % that are actually going to hit the inbox?

Jdutchman121 - November 27, 2018, 2:18 am is it something like mailbait? how fast is deliveries?

urk - November 27, 2018, 8:03 pm

Did a test (1 email per second - 100 seconds = 100 emails = $0.10)

gmail - 18 inbox, 57 spam

yahoo - 11 inbox, 39 spam

live - 42 inbox, 34 spam

Emails were from newsletters so assuming some of the sites in the database are dead and that's why I didn't get my 100. Most email inboxes first page are 50-100 . If you are trying to take over an account and was trying to make sure owner doesn't see email confirmation.
