Shit young mullah baby over here fucking damn keep it up dude!
But for real tho was the money worth after all the dick pics?

Earner - October 9, 2017, 12:48 am

lol. Everyone saying "PayPal is going to get limited" - What the hell? It's 2017. If you're worried about limited accounts when you're not a "real seller", you're doing it wrong. I literally have 3 PayPal's that I accept payments on and then transfer them over to my real one. Once on my real one, I buy CSGO skins/Runescape gold and then exchange them to bitcoin on skins.cash or boglagold. If you keep money in PayPal these days, you're just asking for trouble. I have heard of eBay sellers who have done hundreds of thousands in deals for the past 15 years end up getting perm limited for some stupid reason.

So do you pay tax on all your runescape gold

Not to mention this adult method is fraud unless using real girls, of course its profitable for a bit but it will bite you in the ass either by 2257 (google it), tax man, and/or banks

If you're in Adult stay legit, its already a dodgy industry, i used to be in the grey areas, and i can tell you from personal experience its just not worth it, it will come and bite you in the ass even if its 5 years down the line, its all traced, its all logged, its all monitored, i found out the hard way.

If you paid taxes on eWhore money, once again, you're doing it wrong if you're in the US. I don't know other countries laws, but taxes are not required to be paid on gifts and donations in the US. If all of your payments received are Amazon giftcards/PayPal gifts - You owe the government nothing. Reselling Runescape gold to a gold website also isn't something you pay taxes on. It's not an official business. It's just you selling something you own to someone else on occasion. It's not like when an eBay seller sells 80 items per day and is running an actual business.

SO OP must have setup an LTD or a charity in that case to accept these 'donations'

Just having payments sent on PayPal as a "gift" or "donation" is all that is necessary for the payment to be constituted as a donation. No "real" charity organization required.

Until one customer trys to claim money back

Or writes to pp linking the email

And PayPal would perm ban and any linked accounts that the money has been going too

PayPal is strong against adult content and selling Snapchat subscriptions is pretty must against their Tos

Ofcourse you can get away with it for a while but once they catch you, you will loose your money, account, linked accounts and have real info Blacklisted

Sure I get it

Burn and churn

Quick cash right

Yea it'll work

But not long term and not stable imo

Get into real shit, have patience and it will help you in the future

Think long term to win in this online money making business

If you don't yoill be back to working the 9-5 slave life or whatever

Anyway my inputs, had a few beers and smokes so my ideas are flowing

Peace

Rod

I'm not fucking pro here

But lv been in the adult scene a while 3 years

And lv been in more grey and black areas when I was much young

But if anyone wants to chat or have a discussion feel free to reply

Always like to learn and debate

Great reply Ron,

I thoroughly enjoy reading your posts, you're extremely knowledgeable.

I am working to more "legal" business ventures.

EWhoring is a great way to fund it while staying away from a 9-5 and affording my rent etc

By no means is this a long term goal for me,
But thank you for your input

Have some rep, you deserve it, 90% of people give up after a week or month, stick at anything long enough and you will become the god at it, laser focus, dont jump around once something doesnt work, stay in one area, one niche, one vertical, eg adult, pin submits, nutra , gambling etc

thank you for your kind words :)

ill see you at the top brother

cheers

There goes me skim reading again ? sorry, ROD!

Appreciate it brother.

I've stuck eWhoring for a while, after many failed business ventures, I like to latch onto things that may generate income, no matter how minut

Weather it be CPA, eWhoring or any of the above, I've always focused on an adult niche, As I've plenty of RL resources around me to benefit that,

On and up my brother <3

Checked my phone a few times today while waiting for my xanny plug to come thru,

And found these, shits basically rolling in auto pilot now lol.

<https://imgur.com/a/Lnq8n>

Plug didn't come thru so idk if I'm gonna sleep tonight. May hit snap a few times during the night for some SE and quick bux. Will update if I get a goldmine

Ty to all the members PM'ing me, trying to answer your questions as honestly as possible

Don't trust a word Rod says.

This guy a year ago used to report lots of peoples snapchats for adult content through a method he found and got lots banned.

He personally got my 50k snapchat banned and lost me thousands.

This kid is toxic and doesn't know what he is talking about.
