Thread: Who would be interested in an ESEA cheat?

Cubex-Software - October 8, 2017, 12:19 pm

Im asking this question because im curious if it worth my time on doing it.

???????????? - October 8, 2017, 12:20 pm

Pretty sure there are enough ppl who would spend a lot of money for a UD Cheat...

Is not about spending to much on a cheat, is about the quality even if you spend 10$

qNxX - October 8, 2017, 12:47 pm

Personally I'd spend $500 on it once I get unbanned from ESEA. Radar or simple box ESP would be enough for me. Probably wouldn't get accepted though because I'm a pleb lmao killshot707 - October 8, 2017, 1:24 pm

you could make an esea cheat but really the cheat has to be super limited and to people that you can trust that won't give away the cheat or anything else like that :) and the price tag should be a lot higher than $600

Yeah the limited slot is a must. Also yes but the problem is that some people wan't to buy and you don't know them. So that will require ID indentification. Like you holding the id.

There is no such thing as never undetected...at some poit yet it might be detected, but that doesn't mean it can't stay UD for a while. ?

You are not capable of making an undetected ESEA cheat, please don't pretend that you are. You've already tried in the past and all your customers got banned.

PingersAndMash - October 8, 2017, 4:04 pm

No one can sell a cheat to the public for esea and be undetected no one can do it thats why there is none to ez for esea.rat

I'd be game for one, but its a tough market

Phreezer - October 9, 2017, 5:13 pm

Cubex, you're known to be a quick money grabber. You failed at most anti-cheats and you won't bypass esea as you failed many times before scamming customers.

Check d3scene cubex, anyone interested can just look at his topics and the customers response.

Depends how competent you are.

If you know how ESEA's anticheat works and are confident you can consistently bypass their anti-cheat you can charge a monthly fee lower than what you are asking for (100~). If you are incompetent to the extent if you get detected and won't become undetected again then charge a higher price.

In short: If you are not competent don't even bother selling, it's just a bad practice.

That's correct, yes well i failed 2 time, but at this moment im working on a better bypass thats goes well for now. That's basicly i asked what could be the best price .

So you are not competent.
