Thread: Looking to buy a group: 6.5k \(raising the value\)

Allelujah - October 9, 2017, 7:16 am

All you other low ballers get out.

I will decide who to buy from. Post here. Do not pm me.

Paying in BTC/ETH - I CAN tell you no. I will decide who to buy from. If you get butthurt then that's on you.

Crystallize. - October 9, 2017, 7:42 am

This guy is spicing things up,good luck dude

Thank you. I'm just trying to help rejuvenate the group section.

Just because you buy high doesn't mean someone else will.

Don't care. I know what I'm wanting to do, and it's not sell memberships.

It's a start. Although, I'm unsure of whether or not it'll be effective.

Raptor. - October 9, 2017, 8:05 am

Considering the current market, I'd say pretty much every owner, myself included, would sell at that price point.

(Oct 9, 2017 07:47 AM)Allelujah Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Don't care. I know what I'm wanting to do, and it's not sell memberships.

I would be surprised if any of the current groups are able to make any real cash from selling memberships. Nex and Astonish kind of ran that niche into the ground.

I think the group scene suffers from a lack of creativity and drive at the moment from the leaders, and that's the key issue at the moment, but my two cents aren't always correct.

Thanks for your input. Groups at the current are just copy cats. Skill is a stand alone and there's honestly no room for another group with gaming as it's main focus. They're more than welcome to do so, but like you said it's a lack of creativity at this point.

We'll see who wants to sell.

Skill in its current iteration is a revival of an old group by the same name, and there have been gaming groups for as long as HF has had a group scene. The only recent groups that come to mind in terms of being completely unique in their concept is Torque and Baka!. Whilst I was never a part of either (and have no interest in either the finer points of cars or anime), they both had cult followings that truly enjoyed their group, and that's something that HF could use more of.

That said, I doubt it'll be long before people who are currently/have just sold buyins come flying across trying to peddle their group and swindle their customers who have bought in.

I'd be willing to sell Skill at this price obviously, but I wish you luck in finding whatever you're looking for here. If you do acquire a group, hopefully we see a new direction brought to the HF group scene.

Elitas - October 9, 2017, 9:00 am

May I ask why you would care which group you purchase? Is it so you give the cash to the right owner or do you plan to keep the groups' names/graphics/posts?

J. McCarthy - October 9, 2017, 9:12 am

As they say, talk is cheap.

Good luck finding one though... Hope to see a follow through what's the group's focus gonna be?

Nebo - October 9, 2017, 10:29 am

Great idea, I like the effort you put behind your words. You truly are pursuing your own ideals and it is indeed quite commendable.

I hope you buy a group from a decent person and that the new group becomes an great part of HF community.

Good luck :)

DOG - October 9, 2017, 10:49 am

Why don't you just pm the owner of the group you want ? -_-

I want to make sure I pay the correct person. I don't care what group it is, but there are some I wouldn't deal with. If I feel the group still has potential then I will continue the group, with the permission of the previous owner.

You don't need the group owners to post publicly to figure out who you are talking to.

I'm not going to private message each individual owner and try to make a deal and this way no one thinks they're getting a lower offer than the last.

Plus this thread can stay up and been seen daily, while a PM can be lost.

Deany - October 9, 2017, 12:04 pm

It's more of an auction type deal. 6.5k is what I'm willing to max right now and seeing other groups selling I know they will compete to sell.. I wouldn't go below a certain number though as it would do the opposite of what I'm trying to do.. raise the value.

ra1d - October 9, 2017, 12:21 pm
