Thread: One rubber chicken and 240 ramen packets

Papa Cuda - October 9, 2017, 8:00 am

After kindly declining my offer of a rubber chicken and 240 ramen packets as a house warming gift

I've decided that I'm going to do a giveaway for this shit.

That's right, you can be the lucky owner of a genuine rubber chicken and enough ramen to feed the entire isis militia.

All you have to do is tell me why you think the chicken crossed the road and tell me about how poor you are that you need 240 ramen packets.

Domestic or international, doesn't matter. If you're the best meme you win and I'll announce the winner in 3 weeks from today where I'll then make a video of me packaging the ramen and the rubber chicken along with a hand written letter from me congratulating you on your gains.

I'm adding a stipulation:

If you win, you have to be willing to make a video of the unboxing.

GrandpaSherman - October 9, 2017, 8:01 am Yawn let me know when you have a more interesting giveaway but send it to me u?op ?pisdn - October 9, 2017, 8:03 am

The chicken didn't cross the road, he was thinking of an original and sad comment to post here so he could get those ramen packs.

Ramune - October 9, 2017, 8:04 am

The chicken crossed the road because it is suicidal, it wanted to "get to the other side". The joke has overwhelmingly dark undertones and really isn't appropriate for public consumption. However your ramen noodles would be great for consumption, in fact I think I would consume them all day long. I would stuff them in my pillowcase and pull it over my head and just munch till my heart is content.

Don't waste the ramen on me, i'm undeserving.

Papa Cuda - October 9, 2017, 8:10 am

Just to clarify this is not a meme, I'm 100% serious.

Sotrex - October 9, 2017, 8:11 am

The chicken crossed the road to tell you, that I need those ramen noodles :D I'm hungry 24/7 so I really need those ramen noodles :D

Hatchet - October 9, 2017, 8:29 am

Chicken crossed the road cause he was suicidal, I will be too if I don't get them noodles

Papa Cuda - October 9, 2017, 8:46 am

I'm hoping this legitimately blows up cause I'm excited about making the video mainly.

Almonds - October 9, 2017, 11:39 am the chicken crossed the road for 240 packages of ramen

In return I offered the chicken a pillow to sleep on, and he has forsaken you and given me all of your ramen for the costs of shipping.

but forreal, it would get consumed let me know

SIM-482212 - October 9, 2017, 1:08 pm waiting for that video packing up those 240 ramen

TBE ClockWork - October 9, 2017, 1:10 pm

The chicken crossed the road because he was drunk and had no idea what he was doing. I am a poor college kid there is almost no better reason I need the ramen. (Only if chicken flavored)

Windows 98 - October 9, 2017, 1:17 pm the chicken cros rode to meet chicken friend and havve good time . he check for cars before corss to be sure it safe he did not get hit but close call. ..

ramen packet good and am very hungry...am broke cuz am young and mom no mkae many money thx

Kswag - October 9, 2017, 3:19 pm

The chicken crossed the road because i was a broke boi and sacrificed himself so i can eat him.

Pope - October 9, 2017, 4:04 pm

The chicken crossed the road because his life is in shambles. Life took a turn and he ended up by his lonesome. His wife was taken from him by the almighty beings that brought them the food and shelter they needed. He understood that this required some sacrifices as nothing comes without a price, but taking his wife was too far. In the beginning, they took his to be children right from underneath his wife. After years of the constant kidnapping, his wife's slew of children slowed down to a halt. The beings took notice of this and took his wife away from him, never to be seen again. Ever since that day, the chicken has been crossing roads, fields, and forests in search of an escape from his past.

Anyways

I'll probably start by making myself a much needed, chair and mattress out of all the ramen packets. If there is enough ramen. I would also make a ramen table so I have a place to cook the ramen in my kettle. Of course i'll share this gift from the ramen gods with my other deadass broke roommates (and perhaps classmates) as I know that I would die from the MSG if I do eat all the packets myself. Hopefully i'll be able to get this on camera as well.

Danktober - October 9, 2017, 4:15 pm

The chicken crossed the road because a black man was walking his direction. I have nothing in my apartment except ramen supplies. One bowl and a fork. I can't afford anything at the store unless I'm grabbing a 33 cent burrito but that's once a week. Please I need the food. I will not only record myself unboxing, but will show a one of a kind cook-off.

I have withdrawals from not eating ramen man I finished what was donated to me and I'm starting to get itchy, short tempered and have the sweats. I'm dreaming about it. I can't keep up with my addiction please.

Goku - October 9, 2017, 4:40 pm

The chicken crossed the road to get the noodle place. I focking need this m8 I ain't lying.

I've a Nikon D3300 I'll make a cool video and put it on youtube idc.

Papa Cuda - October 9, 2017, 5:47 pm

This is already great. But it can get better.

oscast - October 9, 2017, 5:59 pm

It all started one stormy night in 1998, when I was running across the road from asians twas a day I will never forget 4 years later
I started my business in the ebook industry it was rather profitable here

I employed manny people in the bsuiness

they helped me make many rupees i decided to then go buy an elf it was a very beautiful and scientific elf

as you can see it has the face of bill nye veyr scientific
a month later I got into a dudel with a character form star wars I still dont know which but we dueld alright shse had this big black stick was veyr scary to me being an asian only having a tiny yellow stick I had to unleash my self which scientifically proved her to be an elf she was scared by the fact and dissaapeard but not before mortally wounding my self and my elf

in order to heal
I needed nutrienets
so I had to do the msot difficdult tghing in my life
I had to mince my slef elf*
to make a meal

was very sad
having to eat my self with my strength regained I became a ciber hacker

veyr spooky syber hack I was involved in many great hacks notably the omnihack in which we created Omniscient an AI who now runs HF there was a secret mode that we named the "omnimen" mode as you can see very stronk laser kinda like superman's eye laser thingy very stronk

he was sadly later possesed and became a spook admin who was veyr mean to members very sad story
anyways
the revenue from making omnimen was used to buy my second elf it was a nice elf although not as nice aas the first it had many elf obfuscars with it we did a lot of things in bed together but then one sad day the star wars evil return and my second elf being weaker than the first died
I had to fight now to avenge his death so I summond a magic goat and then began having goat sex the ejaculation was very powerful it blew up my enemy but that was then that I realised that Im gay for i have fucked not only a goat but also 2 elfs
and a few gay guys
was very sad
after being many times penetratted from behind i could no longer walk so I bought a cow and now I ride it for transportation
ya knokw
I decied next to hire a loli
for my army
to take over the world we started our campaign inv ietname

it was a terrible war our force raided hidden enemy bunkers edverywehree but then turns out
the enemy discovered our secret morale booster aka the loli
they called in an airstrike and so RIP eent our unit so that was the end of my dream to take over the wrold i decided to go and become a janitor instead but not a regular one I specialised in cleaning up thots Begone, I would say and begone they would be i then decided to havbe a kid
but first i need a waifu to have my kid with me so i chose rexmen
after we had sex he evolved and thus my child was born however then it was the great depression we were starving i suppose you can guess what happened next my son was tastey some called me barbaric some called me discugsitnign but in the end they were alla heretics so next i invested into some nigerian princes theye were professional but idk why they stpped responding after i setn the m money very sad story they told me moved my heart was very veyr veyr sad you know i creid creid a lot
my life was psinnign out of control so i bought a fidget spinner i kept spinning it and i kept spinning until i remembered that I need a pet seal so a seal I bought and a seal I rode from behind it was rather wet and squishy a weird experience that I would nto recommend anyways after riding my seal from behind i found a duck and also attempted penetration however that duck apparently knew japanese for it spoke to me YAMEROOO

it screamed
I was so surprised
i jumped back and found myself facing a very scary 2d grill she threatened to knife me bso i had to call the anti bully ranger who protecc but also attacc very stroncc anyways
after the end of my adverntires i went to school only to realise one thing and as an asian i often had to speak against the white teachers of mine especially my math teacher for their intellects are far beneath that of mine a true asian ding dong ur opinion is wonrg i would often say only to have them pull their yugioh card out and this was such a storng counter they would almost deprive me of my HP so i usde the last weapon i have left that of the school shootio i esecapted tgeh shcool
was very sad
wen i realise
that there was sumone who loved me
all this time
itw as my waifu so yes i would like to conclude that i will forver love my waifu ty vm for reading it was a very emotional story let me know what u think of this story of when I crossed the road

i am very poor becuz i usethe same cup all day for 2 weeks is tru

The chicken crossed the road to find out the answer to why did the chicken cross the road. Im so poor I cant even afford ramen but only eat leaves i find on the side of the road.

The chicken stood alone.

The crisp June air blew softly against its feathers, silent but as cold as ice. She gazed across the road, her beady eyes darting from left to right and a quiet chirp the only sound emanating from an ageing beak. Her feet moved slightly ever so often; a vast difference to the millions of thoughts flowing through her mind.

"What if?"

Chances are you've heard of this chicken and the accompanying age old question of "why did the chicken cross the road?" Timelessly echoed everywhere from school halls to office buildings, it is a familiar question; yet one that few understand the meaning of.

You see, dear reader, that 'the other side' you've heard so much about isn't the other side of the road, but the afterlife.

This chicken wanted to die.

She turned her head sharply to the left and listened to the slow rumble of a garbage truck approaching. Its wheels moved slowly crunching on loose gravel, almost hypnotic to the distracted chicken.

She has the power to make her own decisions in life. To be anything from KFC to an everyday salad. But this chicken can only see the road.

Only the ending and nothing in between.

As much as I can tell you about what I saw that dark morning, I still don't know why it had to act the way it did. Was it a lonely bird looking at the world's problems with a cold heart and the words "it's not my responsibility"?

Or was she an average working bird, pushed too far. Maybe she had too many eggs to nurture, too many fellow chickens to listen to. But did she have the authority to leave her eggs behind with only a joke 'question' haunting them forever?

Still, she waited.

The metaphorical gears of her mind could almost be heard whirring as thousands of thoughts came into being. when would be the perfect time to step forward? What if I wait too long? Or maybe it was thinking of the unhatched eggs waiting for it back in the coop. Alone in the world, waiting for the mother that will never return. Thrust upon their own decisions, their own judgement with possibly none to turn to.

It was then that she heard me.

I shifted my weight only slightly; which was followed by a sharp crack of twigs under my feet in an otherwise deathly quiet street. She looked into my eyes and I saw nothing but sadness in the beady black circles. She was probably wondering what I was going to do next.

Would I try and stop her? Should she just run down the road squawking frantically?

I felt like a negotiator with a megaphone gazing up at somebody preparing to leap from a building. But this megaphone is broken. 'I can't speak chicken' I remember thinking. A car might happen to come through the fog just as I rushed to grab her.

Maybe if somebody had listened to her chirps things would have ended up differently. The chicks would have grown up to have eggs of their own.

Whatever the answer, whatever the reason for her choice, whichever car was the one to hit her, the chicken ultimately got what it wanted.

In the end, she won and that's all that matters.

All that was left was a confused teenager stepping out from behind the wheel and a bloody red mess staining his tyres. I stepped away before he asked any questions that I couldn't answer. It all happened too quickly for me to put together and there were still the same questions of 'why was it in the street?' and 'who was this chicken, before today?'

I zipped up my jacket and started the slow walk back home; the early morning grocery run forgotten and replaced with feelings of remorse and sadness.

Such is life, I guess.

Ramen is always good my dude ;p

Why did the chicken cross the road?

Me: Because it wanted to get to the other side.

Plato: Because it was looking for good.

Aristotle: It is in the nature of the chickens to cross the road.

Marx: It was a historical inevitability.

Moses: And God went down from heaven and said to the chicken: Cross the road. And the chicken crossed and all rejoiced.

Saddam Hussein: It was an act of unprovoked rebellion and the one who fired 50 tons of nerve gas was fully justified.

Ronald Reagan: I forgot.

Capitan Kirk: To go where no chicken has ever come.

Hippocrates: Due to excessive humours in its pancreas.

Martin Luther King: I see a world in which all chickens will be free to cross the road without their motives being questioned.

Bill Clinton: The chicken did not cross the road. I repeat, the chicken did not cross the road.

Machiavelli: The point is that the chicken crossed the road. Who cares why? The end of crossing the road justifies any reason.

Freud: The fact that you are worried that the chicken crosses the road or not reveals your sexual insecurity.

Bill Gates: I just launched ChickenOffice 2000, which not only crosses roads, but archives your important documents and blocks your accounts.

Darwin: Over large periods of time, chickens have been naturally selected so that they now have a genetic disposition to cross roads.

Einstein: If the chicken has crossed the road or the road has moved under the hen depends on your frame of reference.

Buddha: To ask that denies your own chicken nature.

Hemingway: To die. Under the rain.

Homer Simpson: Chicken ... roasted ... with oranges ... mmmm ...

Shakespeare: To cross or not to cross, that is the question.

Homer: Because that was its destiny.

Nostradamus: One day, somewhere, a chicken will cross the road and everyone will wonder why.

Hitler: That chicken could cross the road and do everything it wanted because it was not Jewish.

Woody Allen: Why chickens? Nooo!! There are other problems of more importance. Insurance a divorce has greater affective consequences in the...

John Lennon: We say give the chicken a HOPE.

Christopher Columbus: The chicken was discovering a new side of the road.

Donald Trump: So what??? I paid it to do it.

Alfred Hitchcock: I do not know, but never turn your back on a chicken.

Jung: If a chicken crosses the road in the middle of a desert and no one is there to see it ... did the chicken really cross the road?

U.S. Marines: If that chicken does not cross the road, who will?

Neil Armstrong: Not only is it a step for the chicken, but for the whole chicken house.

Jim Morrison: The chicken had a long and prolonged disorder of the senses.

Fox Mulder: The chicken thought the truth was on the other side of the road.

Descartes: The chicken said to itself: I cross, then I am a chicken.

Dante: The chicken, when crossing the road, is ascending from the 5th infernal circle to the 4th circle, when it already had to cross a river, a mountain, an anthill, a sea, a plain and the earth.

Sun-Tsu: That chicken crossed the road because it read my book entitled THE OLD ART OF CROSSING ROADS.

Obi-Wan Kenobi: Because the force was with the chicken.

Steven Spielberg: That's the story of the chicken that crossed the road and found dinosaurs on the other side, right?

Da Vinci: You see? If my helicopter had run, that chicken would not have crossed the road, it would have FLYED over it.

Elvis: Because it was being chased by a HUNTING DOG.

Jacques Cousteau: The animal instinct of the chickens forced it to be curious and a strange desire to know new horizons.

Area 51: We have an emergency case: a Space Mutant Chicken with Instinct Crossing Roads (PMEICC) in a Red Code N. 143. The chicken wants to escape to its planet of Xaarlt with the secret planes of our UN. Capture it with XL EEESRTG guns of type 94 to precision. Warning: Proton bullets will not effect the chicken. Shoot to kill!!!

911: If the chicken is an armed psychopath, press 1. If it's doing road works press 2. If the chicken cut off the traffic press 3. If the chicken was run over, throw it in the trash.

Well, If I win then I'm gonna donate all the ramen to my grandpa because he needs to be connected to an oxygen tank often. He has problems in his heart and lungs. I know that he will appreciate all that ramen so much.

The Chicken crossed the road because he wanted the crazy worm in the road, however that worm swarmed away. The reason why I need all these ramen packets is a few reasons actually. I necessarily do not exactly need them however, I love ramen noodles. I also know a few people around my area who are hungry and honestly, I would give away some ramen noodles (cooked) to some homeless people. I always think the most valuable thing in life is to give back what you really do not need. So all them ramen packets would not go to waste.

Why did it cross the road you ask? To prove that the chicken had enough courage to get to the other side. Some may call the chicken a fool, but when pride gets in the way, one wouldn't be thinking straight.

I'm also a college student on a tight budget- I literally live off of ramens so this kind gesture would be much appreciated.

And I'll also video the unboxing of it! Thanks for the opportunity!

Just keeping this alive and questioning the terrible new MyBB theme

Papa Cuda - October 30, 2017, 4:15 am

Still just keeping this alive. I think the drawing is in a week but I don't remember

Almonds - October 30, 2017, 4:35 am

please don't forget to pick me <3

Why did the chicken cross the playground? To get to the other slide.

I'm so poor when I try to calculate my net worth I open up my pantry and count how many cans of soup I have.

3 weeks and one day

NEVER FORGETTI THE BABY CHICKEN

Papa Cuda - November 3, 2017, 6:27 am

Ok so I thought I put in a month cause I'm retarded. I'm going to make the video announcing the winner today and will release it tomorrow! Sorry but life is busy irl :D

The chicken crossed the road for pussy.

I'm a broke uni student and most of my diet is ramen. This would be a months supply of meals!

Why did the chicken cross the road? :

There was a group of black teenagers walking toward her on the same side of the road. She did not want to appear racist, but they were dressed like gang members and there was no one else around... In the end she did it due to an overabundance of caution. But deep inside she felt a little guilty about it.

Send me ramen if it's the maruchan chicken because food at college is overpriced as fuck i also have a gopro drone (got it for free) so i can get some autistic shots of me unboxing this duck and ramen
