Times like this I wish I was good with SQL Injections and pentesting.

Good luck to the users participating! I'll sit back wait to see what this "surprise" is.

here is a theory

you're talking to the REAL owner of the site claiming you can put your handle name on it, then you post this thread and get one of our fellow very busy HF members to do this thinking they are doing it for you when you're just using someone.

any proof of ownership?

Done. I left my username on the site. Find out where exactly and PM me for a surprise.

Spoiler (Click to View)

Seriously though, provide proof of ownership first before you ask anyone to do this for you.
