Thread: The Las Vegas mass shooting.

Oh my fucking god, give it a rest with this fucking stupid conspiracy shit. EVERYONE seems to "know" that something they didn't witness and don't have all the data about was a "conspiracy." No, you fucking don't.

WHY THE FUCK WOULD THE CONSPIRATORS FIRE MORE THAN ONE WEAPON, FROM MORE THAN ONE LOCATION, IF THE STORY WAS GOING TO BE THAT ONE SHOOTER DID IT ALL?!

All that would do is make it instantly apparent that it was a conspiracy and that the official story was false! But the whole fucking point of a conspiracy is to FOOL people into believing that your narrative is true even when you're totally lying! Why make your narrative be instantly doubted?

And what about when autopsies show that angle-of-entry isn't consistent with the reported location of the single shooter? Are you going to involve the medical examiners in your conspiracy as well? Pay the ones who are willing (because there'll be SO many of those) and kill the ones who aren't, so there are no witnesses? Give me a fucking break.

Dude just chill, there might people around here that were affected directly and indirectly with the Las Vegas shooting.

Deal with this sad event with caution, speculations and theories are sometimes all there for the people who lost loved ones to read and search for.

FalloutGirl - October 10, 2017, 12:08 pm

It just annoys me that people can't accept the fact that people in this world lost the plot sometimes.

Woe Is Me - October 10, 2017, 12:09 pm

It's not that deep homie chill

Just keep in mind that sometimes, logic is not universal. Your logic might contradict the logic of others.

i was there. It's a cluster-fuck and there are multiple witness accounts of other shooters. FBI just release some docs from Orion (the database shared by all law enforcement. Check it out. I'm writing a book on it.

Please don't bump threads from 2 years ago. It's not even relevant and the account that posted the thread hasn't logged on since beginning of this year. thanks.
