What do yall think about kodak black? Is he a mumble rapper?

Eagerkid - October 10, 2017, 3:54 pm

I guess he could be considered that. I like a decent amount of the newer rappers like him, uzi, playboi carti etc

World Peace - October 10, 2017, 3:54 pm

He appeals to kids who like mumble rap, lyrics with no true meaning - yes.

If you actually look at the lyrics they do have a meaning,

Maybe you just didnt grow up in the same enviornment like millions of people do. He appeals to a lot of people because lots can relate

Well uh, Kodak Black possible is about to have 30 years. "They don't wanna see you winning mmmm they wanna see you in a penitentiary."

You're right in a sense, he does have some songs that have 'meaning'.

That, and his bars just sound good together lol. I love the interview where they ask him where he got his name and he was like " I am no camera man, but I will shoot a n@.@@@"

Which is a play on words and is a clever way to put it

No, that song was an example of pure trash. I'm sorry, but that's my opinion. But, I will eat my words and admit he does have some decent songs.

I cant tell if your being serious now. If you relate to the things he is rapping about then you would appreciate the lyrics.

1:24-1:38 is really good.

Maybe he is mumbling so that way you have to look it up and spend more time researching and paying attention to his lyrics. Marketing at its finest....wokeeee

I was serious about the second song I linked, it's decent. I can't say I'm a fan of Kodak Black, but he's got a couple jams. On the other hand, he has more than a handful of songs that are just dumb as fuck, but he isn't the only one anyway.

That appeals to most rappers nowadays, not like I have a vendetta against him or anything. I respect it.

It's his teeth cuz they gold, listen to him when he younger and has normal teeth, clear as.

Neon Hitch - October 10, 2017, 4:33 pm

I think hes a mumble rapper. Honestly though, once I get a few drinks or light up I love all these new rappers lmao. Keeps me vibin'.

Chiinx - October 10, 2017, 4:37 pm

Anyone who considers him a mumble rapper is just one of those annoying edgy kids who watched All Eyes On Me & Straight Outta Compton and think they know everything about Tupac and NWA.

I can fuck with any style that makes good music. Point blank.

God, I hate people who actually say and assume this. "Oh dude, hur I fuck with this new music. You probably listen to Tupac and NWA. HUR HUR EDGY HUR"

No, some people are simply subjective to their own opinion. Just because others classify or categorize him as a mumble rapper or simply aren't a fan of him or his music doesn't mean they listen to Tupac, NWA or Nas. Sure Tupac has some good songs, do I listen to him at home, in my car, or in public? Fuck no. I respect that he has good songs though, just as a lot of other people maybe do.

People who assume this are the real 'edgy' kids. There's a lot of great modern rappers other than KODAK BLACK. #KODAKGANG FUCK YEAH!!!

Oh and yeah, I think he's a mumble rapper. soedgydude

If you consider him a mumble rapper you simply haven't heard him compared to an actual mumble rapper.

Or you have no idea what you're talking about.

TBE ClockWork - October 10, 2017, 5:17 pm

Kodak has some songs that can really hype you up. He is a good rapper in terms of his vibes. While he can be hard to understand sometimes he is for sure up and coming.

Goods - October 10, 2017, 11:00 pm

Not really a huge fan of him at all.

I wouldnt really say hes a mumble rapper. I think thats more like Uzi and Yachty. In my personal opinion.
