Thread: The Flash Season 4 Premier

Woes - October 11, 2017, 12:42 am

Just watched the new episode, it's honestly not even good anymore. Seems so rushed and poorly executed.

I would go more into detail but I don't want to spoil anything ;p

Let me know how you guys feel about this trash

I love the flash since it started. Episodes from season 1 was awesome but became quite boring after the season 3's flashpoint, it became trash. Most episodes are wasted on useless talking and instead of showing savitar it took them almost the entire season just to show what other people had already guess. So since then, my expectations for the flash is low af. Haven't watched season 4 yet tho.

hopefully the season kicks up i haven't seen the first episode yet but Ill have to see how it is

You summed it up pretty good, everything they did just seemed too easy and rushed. And the horrible animation efforts.. most of the stuff they make CGI doesn't blend in with the environment at all

Couldn't agree more. It pisses me off when Iris started acting like a boss and telling them what to do when she herself is completely useless to the team. She should've died instead of H.R.

Oh God, Season 4 is out?

I was trying to finish up DC's LEGENDS Season 2 before October 27th waiting for Stranger Things.
Thought Flash would've come out sooner.

Truth. An author was more useful to the team than a salty news reporter.
