Thread: <#1 KEYLOGGER> SENTINEL | Native | 100+ Features | DOC/XLS/PDF/PPT Exploit |

Raymond Reddington - October 11, 2017, 5:36 am

Previous threads have surpassed 5000+ replies

Welcome to the sales thread for Sentinel, one of the longest standing keyloggers in the market. As of July 2018, Sentinel has surpassed 10,000+ active customers - being the largest keylogger base on HF. We proudly feature several strong features in Sentinel including password stealer with 40+ modules, multiple loggers, and an exploit toolkit to compile your payload as a DOC, XLS, PDF, PPT or REG file. Sentinel is well known for its strong persistence module and UAC exploit that will instantly grant you admin rights without the UAC prompt, on execution. Sentinel has been coded by a team of professionals in an advanced & completely native language and thus has no no external dependencies like .NET or Java.

Sentinel v1.0.0.0 released - 10/09/2017

Raymond Reddington - October 11, 2017, 5:39 am

Post holder for some important announcements and updates in the future.

DaFreak - October 11, 2017, 5:41 am

Glad to see this back on the market. Vouch for Raymond and this keylogger. The features are great and there has been a lot of work done to get this back on.

DinamicoBoys - October 11, 2017, 5:45 am ur keylogger work with pdf exploit ?

Yep, Sentinel does work with the PDF exploit accompanying it.

ganstephanos - October 11, 2017, 7:53 am

Vouch for this logger, I have used it since 2015, its always the best.

Yakz - October 11, 2017, 11:01 am

I can vouch for this product, have used it in the past, smooth shit. Don't hesitate to buy!

SmartScreen you'll need certificate signing. No product on HF offers it anyway and its mostly a after-crypt function

MasterRankam - October 12, 2017, 8:38 am

I know this program very well and I can safely recommend it to anyone.

Its very good and stable + the administration very nice and helpful.
big vouch ?

ganstephanos - October 12, 2017, 10:51 am

Just used it rn, recovered like all my passwords even WiFi network wtf lol

Turn this on

Allow less secure apps: ON

Some apps and devices use less secure sign-in technology, which could leave your account vulnerable. You can turn off access for these apps (which we recommend) or choose to use them despite the risks.

Hello everyone of HF. I just purchased this keylogger today, and it is easily the best on the market. I opened the stub on myself, and I almost pissed myself. It had my webcam, all my passwords, and all my info. This keylogger is amazing, and the devs did a very good job with all of these features. 10/10, go buy a license and check it out.

Lrrr - October 13, 2017, 9:18 am

Big vouch for Raymond Reddington and Sentinel.

I have been a lifetime customer for about 4 months and this thing works flawlessly.

Are you talking about Extension Spoofing? Yeah, you can. But it won't be much effective since its an old overused trick.

Try DOC/PDF exploit accompanied with this KeyLogger. You will have higher chances of getting success.

Hi, I bought the sentinel keylogger premium version today and managed to install it OK and build the exe file. However, I am having trouble attaching it to a PDF file. I ran the PDF Exploit Builder which asked me for an external download link for the exe file so I put the file in my dropbox and pasted the dropbox weblink into the Builder. However, I received an error message from the program saying 'Error: Variable used without being declared.' Can anyone help me please?

n4xiii - October 17, 2017, 4:27 am

I want to use it for (whatever i want to) let me know if i can spread it and use for my own purpose.
Looks very good and might be easy to use tool.

Use the exploit present in the "Legacy" folder. That will work fine.

I don't see a problem with that.

t.jobbs - October 17, 2017, 5:35 am how frequent is the exploit updated for pro and premium members. Cos most keyloggers with exploit once updated are easily detected by anti-viruses the next day and renders it useless. Kindly shed more light on the exploit and hope it is attachable to all kinds of email especially gmail and other strong domains.

Raz Jin - October 17, 2017, 5:44 am

Thanks for the reply Raymond. I used the legacy PDF builder and it worked fine.

However, now I have another problem. The keylogger stub.exe is picked up and deleted by my AV (Avira) as soon as I attempt to run it. Do you have any suggestions about how to prevent this from happening?

Bjorn Lothbrok - October 17, 2017, 7:25 am

Does it keylog real time username and passwords along side its login websites ?

We try to keep the exploits up-to date on a fixed schedule. It depends upon the user base. Like in 2015, every second day the exploit had to be re-coded. Currently the customer base is less, but we are spiking constantly.

Also, the spot-light is the Keylogger itself, not the exploits. Those are just addons. Its free, so we don't pay much attention to it. But I assure you, you will always find it in a good usable condition.

Try disabling non required functions. Also, if it doesn't work, get a crypter. It will do the job.

(Oct 17, 2017 07:25 AM)igbsam Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Does it keylog real time username and passwords along side its login websites ?

No. It requires the keystrokes only. Although, it will show the process name and if you are lucky enough, it might also show the website name depending upon the browser window.

What you are talking about it a Form-Grabber.

Thanks again for your quick response Raymond. I am still having the same problem though. I turned off everything except for: add to startup, hide process, AV killer and screenshot logger, but the stub was still picked up by Avira when I tried to run it. The security alert said it picked up the pattern of 'TR/Spy.Autiot.751d78 (Cloud)'

Will crypting fix this problem? If so where can I get a good cryptor? I tried the cryptor which comes with the package but still got the same message.

Secondly, is there a way to attach the sub to customized PDF? Currently, the PDF file I get is just blank. I thought there's be a way of selecting which PDF I wanted to embed the code to.

This detection can be explained as -

PHP Code

<?php

The term 'TR' denotes a trojan horse that is able to spy out data, violate your privacy, or perform unwanted modifications to the system.

The term 'Spy' denotes part of a malware sample which tries to collect user information, serial numbers, or keystrokes.

It may also upload the collected information to another location called the 'drop zone'.

A generic detection routine designed to detect common family characteristics shared in several variants. This special detection routine was developed in order to detect unknown variants and will be enhanced continuously.

Use a crypter and this will go away.

Also, for the PDF exploit, just hit me on skype and I will do the live setup for you over TV.

Yes

Yes, you can drop to different subfolder

Depends on the BK. But not many are that advanced

Yes, for Win TaskMgr only

Yes, but not all. Some run on ring0/kernel, and cant be "killed" off

?? Use better persistence? (or it may just be detections not BK)

Has been sent through all, but there are a few detections on them rn. They're freebies with the keylogger though Gmail works fine except that it blocks emails when sent from different country IP.

You can use mail.com, we tested it few days ago and it works!

I press "test email" but im not receiving anything. I have tried 5 diffrent gmail accounts, i have enabled the "SMTP server usage/access, less secure apps, unknown logins"
i have followed all instruction correctly, but still doesnt work.

I have also tried 2 diffrent mail hosts, but im still not getting any mails from this.
I have contacted all support options on both discord and skype.

please one more thing... how FUD is the DOC, XLS, PDF Exploit?
and how soon you refund? because i will like to buy lifetime license
sorry i cannot pm because i dont have enough post and can kazy crypter work with it because i already have it ?

airy52 - November 27, 2017, 4:35 am

I just bought lifetime and it already has bugs. It can't send an email to any of my accounts I created at aol, mail, and yandex. Not even gmail. I enabled pop3 and imap, and allowed untrusted apps. Nothing works its email function is broken. Any ideas on how to fix? How do I get a refund if I can't fix it? I tried to add the 3 devs on skype but they're not listed conveniently, and they're all offline discord, support is definitely a little difficult :/ Skype me at airy52

I got it fixed, for some reason yandex doesn't work, aol doesn't support imap or pop without paying, and gmails nonsecure app function had to be disabled 3 times in a row, all with accompanying emails about it being turned off, 3 times.... Strange.

Now I am having the problem that when I test it, windows defender detects it immediately. Everyone has windows defender, its on by default one every copy of windows, how am I supposed to use this? I thought it was undetected. I didn't check anything away from default options.. What can I do to make it undetected?

There is another 3rd DOC exploit in the works. That is an embedded DOC exploit (your stub.exe will not be dropped, but it will be embedded within the code).

FUD period for that is unlimited, and the condition is that your stub must be 100% FUD (as the stub.exe is within the DOC, the stub's scan is basically the DOC's scan).

Manual builds are offered, contact support on Skype

Yandex and Mail are not supported as per my last post:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5734981&pid=56253958#pid56253958>

AOL doesn't need POP3 or IMAP, you just need SMTP which is with the free version

Also you've added impostors, two of them didn't even get your request at all. I request you not to deal with the impostors and only with the legitimate accounts (check Skype details from the ones within the thread)

Also it is not 100% undetected, we say it has an in-built obfuscator / code-protector which lowers the detections. We have anywhere from 1-6 detections from time to time (Keep in mind Gen.Bary/Zusys/etc are not actual detections, they're generic detections - use a HQ icon & assembly and they'll be gone)

For 100% undetectability a crypter (or more, a private stub) is preferred.

When you have a huge userbase in the thousands, you can't maintain the FUD-ness of the keylogger. It simply isn't a thing.

(Nov 27, 2017 03:09 PM)shoto4meeee Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) after compilation, no log do comes on clicking it.

You must've compiled with the wrong settings, contact support on Skype and we'll fix it over TeamViewer.

Please, read the Readme.txt file. There's been people who've been able to operate it all by themselves since they just took 5 minutes and read the Readme.txt file

Thanks for the tips mate.

More tips: Run the builder as admin

Don't tick too much implies just use core functionality (keylogger, pass stealer, screenshot&clipboard logger would be fine) - club that with hidden startup & startup, and you're ready to go.

As per my observations, its been 24h only. People live in different timezones. Leave a message and you'll be attended to, though.

We offer TeamViewer setups and offer private video tutorials for the procedures involved.

Welcome to the sales thread for Sentinel, one of the best keyloggers ever seen. We ensure that this will work effectively as well as it will have more functions than any other keylogger on HackForums. The new features that have been implemented in Sentinel include a multi-platform password stealer, a screenshot logger, a snapshot logger, automatic stub update mechanisms as well as a working USB spreader. Sentinel features very strong persistence that will prevent termination of the process. Sentinel has a UAC exploit that will grant you admin rights without the UAC prompt. Sentinel has been coded in AutoIT & Python and has no dependencies. We currently have a 90-95% FUD stub so a crypter is completely your choice.

Which FTP are you using?

You need to put the exact FileZilla address (and the webhost link must end with /)

If the example_logfile.htm comes in your FTP then the test worked

Make sure to have the example_logfile.htm in your folder and make sure Sentinel.exe is ran as admin

000web doesn't work, nor does [censored], preferably use a domain instead of an IP

BTW this isnt the loggers fault:

When you chargeback, you violate the ToS which makes you ineligible for anything

Normally requesting a refund works as well but you still had to chargeback

Update: hearing from the coder there is a small bug with password recovery, it will be fixed soon in a day.

Automatic updates will be sent.

I have not read the Queue so my question may seem stupid.

Exploits pdf, doc and xls are they silent or all macros? If they are silenced do they work on patched or unpatched systems? if so which ones (dates)?

Thank U

The message was intended for "hadisboycarter" not you, and PM Raymond your purchase ID and the reason, All refunds are not "given" unless and until the reason is valid (locational blocks for certain regions, etc)

If its an genuine issue with the program we can get it fixed/resolved through TeamViewer anyway.

They're offered for free mate, these aren't obviously silent.

Silent sells for $500-$1500+ even more if Oday.

Which functions are you using? There might be a few ones you're not operating properly (i.e. stub updater needs a link specified, some functions are just for Win7 - mentioned, etc)

An optimal build should be: Add to startup, Hidden startup, Password recovery, Steam reset/recovery (optional), Clipboard log, Get sys info, Screenshot/snapshot logs

Uhhm for gmail its usually supposed to be FUD, guess so UD also works if their API doesnt use those scanners.

You dont know how to use the program and you're the most annoying person when it comes to being online on Skype - should people sacrifice their sleep and be there 24/7 just to assist you AFTER you already charged back - showing that you were willing to SCAM anyway?

It suspends/freezes existing process and uses its attempt to kill

Video proof is provided

A lot of AVs have been updated and some of them run on kernelmode hence some cannot be killed anymore, but testing with all those AVs will take a LONG time. It does execute & kill some like Avira,

AVG & all (vid proof)

As I told, you will need a crypter due to the large userbase. It is only UD, not FUD.
also, Windows Defender isnt on any online scanners either, hence it is almost impossible to scan against it unless you do it manually each time.

Updates are automatic without any confirmation, as in if you login = assume its updated.
Also, the PW stealer dose work, add the skype mentioned and we can arrange a setup

(Dec 22, 2017 05:01 AM)kimoosa Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) yes sureGoing to write up a few but - never ever scan on VirusTotal

VirusTotal unlike other scanners (NoDistribute, VirusCheckmate) etc. distributes to ALL the antivirus companies, who further decompile the stub and detect its functions, and add it as a virus signature to their database and release it in future updates => the stub gets detected.

Sure, it might get VTed by clients and poor spreading but the buyers themselves are scanning it on VT themselves and then complaining it isnt FUD -> is ridiculous which is why it is not possible to maintain it FUD.

reFUDs have been sent out weekly in the past, but considering it is no longer 2015 and the userbase is no longer in the hundreds, VT scans are unavoidable, which means detections are unavoidable. The only way to circumvent this is to use private stubs or a crypter - since the product has been overused. reFUDs dont even last a few days, let alone a week now.

Monthly packs have contributed a LOT to that, since there's a lot of people who buy the $15 pack and spread 100x more than other people have done.

The detections have to be countered with another way, which will take a lot of work. A possible recode of the keylogger for a version 2.0 - which will take a lot of time.

Yeah, I understand but when dealing with malware, always stay away from VirusTotal.
Np, try a crypter if possible.

Which do you mean? The userslist for FTP?

Also with the last question, did you mean the AutoUpdate function?

Find? Assuming you mean find

On Emails: the logs are sent as per PC name in different emails in the intervals, the logs are included in the attachment with screenshots/snapshots/passwords/etc

On FTP: Install FileZilla - <https://filezilla-project.org/> - and access the FTP server and download the logfiles & passwords

Yes, the promotional offer is there to stay for the final two packages.

You will get a builder (in the "Legacy" folder, if you've purchased) which can make unlimited builds.

No, not for macOS. The exploits will work if they have the respective versions but the EXE output wont.

Only way you get a reliable malware for macOS is if you use native C w/ a toolkit such as GTK+ (Java isn't even an option considering its one of the worst languages for malware)

(Jan 14, 2018 09:02 PM)red25572 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) can you make this FUD (or include crypter)?
Having a 100% FUD product and a 1k+ active userbase at the same time is not possible. We do not want to add any more attempts to make the stub FUD or close to FUD as it may render it uncrutable and a majority of our userbase uses private/compatible crypters along with it.

We will release a standalone crypter later, and soon we will be accepting private stub requests.

(Jan 13, 2018 03:37 PM)morrigan Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So you can't respond to your skype messages?

I screenshot and sent you error message i was getting yesterday while trying to compile stub, no response from you till now.

Here is the screenshot again: <http://prntscr.com/hzewpw>

Skype support will be down for a few days, we are working on sending an update, everything will be active then.

Till then, we have Discord / HF PM support

Also, for that error message, delete any excess files (stubs etc,) or make sure Sentinel.exe is running as admin. (or both)

(Jan 14, 2018 12:47 AM)foxtrott50 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hey bro, are the exploits gonna be updated anytime soon?

Yes, real soon.

We have added two new exploits.

Once I run it on my PC, it captures only the screen shot, but before it sends the result to my email, I do see the entire recovery in the Roaming/Log hidden holder with my entire password recovery.

But once delivered to email, I get only screen shot and others got disappeared.

What might be the cause.

We are facing issues with the recovery right now, and hence we will be sending a new update soon (and that will include new exploits too, yes)

(Jan 15, 2018 06:36 AM)deniisis Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hello can i ask ? Automatic stub update works with FUD Update?

You will have to manually input a webhost link for the stub update to function. Look up the readme.txt for more info on the unique function we offer.

Tkkg1994 - January 18, 2018, 4:37 am

I have purchased this product. Received the correct file, creating the stub.exe also works, but here the problems start:

After I execute the stub.exe, it gets installed for a few seconds. It starts to write a log, after that it gets auto removed, no message from the system or anything like this. Did this happen to someone?

Of course, anti virus+windows defender is fully turned off. The same thing happens even if the stub.exe is run as administrator.

It does not come with an in-built crypter, there is an obfuscator (that prevents reverse-engineering) but preserves the stub so it can be crypted by other crypters as well (without affecting the stub).

Well, AgentTesla is .NET - and we're not. No dependencies for a start.

Not here to substitute any other logger but to completely replace deficient KLs with a native one that works.

Add the skypes, they should be online soon in a hr or two.

Yes, using the one month package and then you can upgrade to lifetime for the difference.

Everyone on Skype have been duly responded to (Jan 29, 2018 12:26 AM)joshwieg67 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) how would this last stronger if it doesn't have a crypter??

It does work without a crypter, just a few detections - which may affect infection rates (globally).

Also it depends on a lot of stuff

- If you spam enable all functions (disablers, AV kill, botkill), it will bump up detections
- If you use a crypter on the stub, whether the crypter is a privately or publicly available one
- If you use a private crypt/stub, it'll last the longest.

And of course, polymorphic stubs last the longest but nobody on HF sells "real" polymorphism at all.

Hey, you must have your settings wrong, so contact me on PM or contact the Skypes mentioned and we'll tell what to correct on the SMTP.

Hey competitor, was waiting when you'd use one of your LQ multis to bump us.

Yes, this is AutoLOG, mentioned on thread and I don't think native classifies as "shitty" while you clearly love sucking up to .NET (as it is easier to copypaste? hm??)

Get off the thread if you're just here to spam.

I see you have figured out the payment issue, Which DOC exploit are you using? If its #3, is your original EXE FUD?

What I suggest is to use <http://rgho.st/>

Procedure to get direct link:

1. Go to <http://rgho.st/>
2. Upload your stub (in this case, using putty.exe)
3. You will get a link like this: <http://rgho.st/6NdNJHxPS>
4. Download your own file from the link.

5. Press Ctrl+J to go to the "downloads" section of your browser

6. There you have the direct link (i.e. in this case

<http://meson.rghost.ru/download/6NdNJHxPS/dc165de2313254d88782fd29b92cb11c5eeadd1b/puty.exe>)

[For clarification, this is the exact clean version of the putty file, I'm just using it as an example]

It is automatically updated, we keep adding new exploits and reFUDding the existing stub.exe (although major usage of the stub does recommend one to highly go for private stubs or crypters).

Few bugfixes and optimizations are sent, we have not updated the changelogs then, also we've had a new version come out in Jan 2018 itself (with new exploits)

Yes, you can purchase with PerfectMoney. Recommended crypters include SpartanCrypter & DataProtector.

Majority of the exploits are macro, I think it is obvious at this price right? The DL+Exec ones bypass all smartscreen/UAC, but the embedded EXE it'll be better if you use a SmartScreen Bypass (cert) on it. > This exploit is the always FUD one

The stub can never be always FUD, unless if its polymorphic - and that has not been on HF almost ever. Its around 80-90% FUD, crypter is recommended.

We're considering a private FUD version of the product standalone as well.

See? The customers are satisfied

Although disregard maggai, he is just a multi-accounter working for a competitor - who has no life - so he chooses to just trash the thread with nonsense. Sad to see how bad the competition in the market is, guess they're pretty insecure of their inferior products :)

the license, I'll be fine with it.

for those who didn't know:

I purchased lifetime sub tried it but it wasn't fud enough for me bought a crypter and it was costly decided to just buy 1 month crypter

i asked the keylog seller for a refund

he denied my request

so i asked to downgrade it to 1 month and get refund

he still denied it and says it's costly to create a new license so it got me thinking, why not delete the license at the first place and give me the full refund if it's costly for a downgrade? what i mean is raymond reddington could save more if he'll just give me full refund than a downgrade.. but it got me thinking why he can't do it.. 75% would be enough.. just be a man and go straight to the point..

Responded to your RocketR support as well, there is no webpanel we offer RN (as it is easy to configure webmails like Vivaldi) - they can be accessed via any devices to check logs.

Also for remote uninstall you have two options - either reflecting the autoupdater to Antivirus.exe or using a self destruct date.

Hi, I don't suppose anyone can give me a walkthrough on the binder part of this application? I live in a different country to my Dad and I'm trying to send him it in an email (JPG perhaps?) with a keylogger hidden behind it so I can freak him out when I tell him I know what he has been up to :) Just being a neard lol.

Someone please help but be warned... I'm a nube! So talk to me like I'm REALLY slow and maybe I will get it :)

Many thankyouoooooooouuus!

Hey, send me a PM.

The exploits are in the folder provided, run it as admin.

There was a bug with opening the PDF exploit but it works

Program crashes:

If its a .NET (builder is .NET, stub is native) error, then I suggest you to run it as admin so it can overwrite files and have the permissions for it

If its a 504 Loop Detected / related error, its mostly due to the connection timing out with the backend licensing server, re-running it should work

Regarding the license, try again, it should work now.

No need for the usb, just execute it to a machine and it will do the job.

There's an option of USB Spread wherein your stub will copy itself to the flashdrive(if existed).
When the flashdrive put on the other computer, the copied stub will get automatically executed.

You can remotely execute it, it is not necessarily a hardware keylogger (can be configured to be one as well)

I'm very unhappy with this support and I haven't been able to generate a single stub since I bought this product. I'm not happy at all. Someone needs to come and help me out. I'm tired of waiting and I'm tired of the excuses.

I think you asked him for a working DL link? With the server down, he sent you the file.
Also we need TeamViewer and a convenient time to solve the issues.

When did you purchase this? I think you're using the old PDF builder which bugged out a few weeks ago.
Look for a "Legacy" folder and use the only in it.

Do not use mail, as has been told. It has started blocking.

Use the following: Vivaldi, Zoho, Gmail, AOL, Yahoo.

BTW for FTP, what is your host? Try AwardSpace, it works (just mentioning 000web doesn't work)

Check the end of the thread design for off-site contact info.

Also, we have a Hidden Startup function so the entry will be hidden, and hence not be manually disabled

Hi,

I'm looking to infect a PC running a Mac OS X operating system. Can this keylogger do that? Also, is the keylogger file still 90% undetectable by antivirus software?

For PCs running Mac OSX, try using C/C++ with toolkits like Qt/GTK+ respectively
Or, you have the option of using Java.

This PC has no dependencies (like .NET, etc) and can be used on all Win OS perfectly.

Also for detectability, I think if you're using a software that's popular enough, you should already have a crypter. With large userbases, maintaining a FUD state is pretty hard (unless you want to buy private stubs/versions)

Are you sure you're using the proper FTP protocol (port 21) and not sFTP (port 22)?

Also, I hope it isnt vsftpd as it doesnt include upload rights by default on the users created.

You do seem pretty persistent, I must say

i) The problem with stubs not generating lies entirely on your own PC

ii) a 1GB RAM PC is not the "best" place for us to debug in as you know, that even the TeamViewer session was lagging on your PC.

iii) If we were so interested in sales, why would we not let you upgrade to lifetime? As you said "only interested in sales" but why are we not trying to get your money for the upgrade if it is that way?

Please don't start assuming things on your own, thanks.

Has no scan as of now, but it was initially 95% FUD when the update was released in February 2018, new update coming soon although stub algorithm has not been modified with that much, so it may just be around that.

We do not recommend people to use the raw stub as its always the best option to use a crypter to achieve maximum efficiency

(Mar 12, 2018 05:49 PM)dorobado Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) when will this release be ready? i've been waiting for 3 weeks now...

Releasing the update almost now.

Send me your order IDs or to support on any Skype and you'll get the new links (New licensing added so updates will be automatic since that as well)

Update is ready.

There was an issue with the new licensing hence we had to recode the Login form part, which took an unexpected delay, although this has been a long time, I can confirm all the functions are working (as long as they are used properly)

RocketR links have been replaced, due to the custom login form, we will not be supporting AutoUpdate on updates anymore, hence the update this time will be manual.

Send your order IDs (RocketR order ID) or your license key to the skypes below (make sure you click the button, do not add any impostors). You will be sent the new files

Videos will be worked on shortly, including videos for everything as well as the exploits (as of right now, the exploits do have step by step text/pdf tutorials with images for every step) - but we're working on getting the best out.

Skype: (first one is more active)

Added vivaldi and zoho to the readme, hyperlinked the tutorial videos for rn while I make more.
Will make videos for the mailboxes soon

Also if you dont have the skypes, you can PM me the order ID and I will send you a message with the new link.

Replied to your PM, crypter should be used for maximum efficiency but depending on settings used in the keylogger, can be anywhere from 70-90% FUD, hence it is UD~

The PDF exploit works on all Windows versions obviously, and it is a download+execute type exploit

On topic: Videos for the creation of 6~ exploits have been added to each respective package, includes the entire procedure of creating your own file.

New videos to be added:

How to get a direct EXE link for your stubs, manual macro doc creation, further tutorials explaining the keylogger and its functions.

Hey I bought the Keylogger and there is a lots of detection like a lot.

All the important AV's are detected the Keylogger and that is the worst part of it and also the password recovery is good but its got detected I mean the autoupdate.exe is getting detected always even I used crypter but still getting detected.

Also the keylogger did not any antiviruses that he mentioned above in the picture like IOBIT , Avast, Eset.

Instead of that, those AV's deleted the keylogger even with crypter.

But in other ways the keylogger is really good and it logs everything just fine.

But, just the Detection in runtime and scan time is a problem also the part the it kills the antiviruses it does not kills any ANTIVIRUSES that mentioned above I think its because of the detection!

Thanks I hope I get answer quickly from you guys.

Yes it will be, it is native as well, so no .NET dependencies.

(Mar 20, 2018 01:56 PM)Fortnite Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What is the current detection rate with this logger? Can you provide an updated scan?

I would say it would be around 80%~ UD, which is why a crypter is always recommended if you want 100%.

As said in my post here and similar posts before, there are plenty of reasons why we're not going to keep it 100% FUD. (especially the large userbase it caters to rn)

The logger sends an SMTP request with the config mentioned, it doesn't "confirm" the test mail sent or not, it just sends the command via SMTP and now it depends on the credentials/SMTP whether it goes through or not

Which SMTP did you use? Also I assume the configs were correct right?

As we had some tests yesterday, the password was indeed not working, although we have changed it. Try clearing your %temp% and %appdata% folders and reuploading the files from the link you received from Rocketr.

Sure, I think people should take a second and open Readme.txt, and if not, open the folder "Video Tutorials" where everything has been addressed already.

The same thing is what the support agent has to do on TV.

Webpanel is easily makeable, you can program a SMTP server to get the files and then split the files received, i.e. main.db for skype, *.json for cookies, Passwords.txt, System Info.txt, logs, screenshots/snapshots etc and then categorize it. Webmails are also another option if you mean you don't want to rely on a third party email provider

Sadly the heavy usage of this product we cannot warrant detectability anymore, the rates have fallen from 90% FUD to 75-80% UD. A crypter should be used

An update has been released.
Send me a PM and make sure to include which was your package
SN Package 1 = 1 Month
SN Package 2 = 3 Month

SN Package 3 = 6 Month
SN Package 4 = Lifetime

I will respond by sending a file which will include the RAR file, password locked with the same password you received on purchase

If you have forgotten the archive password, send me a PM with the order ID

As for email configs, please refer to my post here:

Did you test it yourself or did you mass send it already?

Do have a debug run with the stub/exploits before they're sent out, also in case you used a crypter, then you should 100% make sure if you tested or not

OLE's compatibility is pretty high and its written in the TXTs provided as well, alternatively, download the archive with Tutorial Videos and it shows how to properly build it

Send me a PM to inquire about it

Video tutorials are provided on purchase so you need not worry about support not being online for

TV or it not working, as it literally shows everything that needs to be done

Just a reminder - rghost is now defunct, and wont work for direct link hosting

(Apr 5, 2018 01:47 PM)Jordana Brewster Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there a way to detect when a client installs this? Like is there an overview? Or do I just wait by the email account waiting for the emails

A notification email?

Well if you're using a offshore webmail then there is no problem with categorizing the mails as per PC-name and having more intervals, after all if its the daily logfile, you need not read every single log as well, since a single file will have all the daily logs.

The test mail gets sent 100%, only SMTPs that doesnt work rn is Mail.com and Yandex.com whose algorithms have now been recoded to block misuse of emails through Sentinel log spam, so those wont work rn, the rest do work. Vivaldi/Zoho is a good option right now.

Hello, I'm really interested in purchasing this product but went through the thread and saw the parts where it said no actual need for crypters for this keylogger, but now you mentioning the use of crypters. How well will you describe this product, a little bit about it's great capabilities as of its last update, its "FUDness" without the use of a crypter and also with the use of a crypter, and please with your experience which crypter would you recommend, the type of crypter and the perfect product!

Looking forward to your speedy and enlightening reply,

Thanks.

Apologies, the time when this keylogger was released and updates were sent (back in 2015-16) it was optimized to be almost 100% FUD. By the time of the re-release in 2017 (after NetSeal shut down), the stub had been used by a lot of people, which was why the detectability is now a concern. It is no longer FUD (Fully UnDetectable), but it does count as UD (at a 70-80% UD range). Frequent updates as reFUDs have been pushed lately but there are no longer viable due to the mass use of the program. Which is why we recommend crypters.

It is still pretty much undetected for a keylogger being used by thousands worldwide, it doesn't generate stubs that are 32/35 detected unlike other RATs. Also, I should mention it is coded in a native language, unlike other .NET software, which means you won't require any .NET dependencies to run the program on any versions of Windows (alternatively, there is no issues with .NET target framework, and CLR compatibility versus v4.0+ and v3.5-). It has a lot of functions, and we're open to new suggestions and at the same time we've included some simple exploits for free for the customers as well.

Let me know here or via private message if you have any other concerns, thanks.

The crypters that have been tested with this program include: Spartan Crypter, Topher Crypter, DarKEYE, Data Protector.

Did you type the filepath yourself? It has a lot of typos
Also, are you running it on a VM? If not, make sure it is run as admin (PPT&DOC have AntiVM capabilities on them)

As for PDF, do refer to the TXT in the same folder as for its compatibility
Alternatively, open the folder "Tutorial Videos" and you will have links to download the videos for each exploits.

how would i remove this from someones PC like i have them sending logs but im tired of getting them how would i undo this stopthisbullshit - April 15, 2018, 12:12 am i bought it, it seems to work decently. however I tried different configurations and it seemed to still be picked up by both Fortinet and windows defender (win defender doesn't detect it outright, but sees it is suspicious due to heuristics and asks to submit the sample (obviously declined lol)). The Fortinet detects the autoit side of things.

question to the devs: what was the thought process behind using autoit? Also there are a few minor nitpicks, like the program shows as "Form1" lol.

Ah, I couldn't manage to get the thread updated (Raymond is really inactive these days). On release this keylogger was 90-95% FUD but with the surge of customers, the stub started to be used a lot. Our updates also were rendered ineffectively the same day (within hours) of its release as well. We did not incorporate a lot of parts (EoF, runPE?, more crypting-oriented), due to the fact that as a keylogger, one of the only native ones in supply here, there is bound to always be a lot of customers and we cannot compromise with the stub (which may render it uncrutable at all, and that would be a problem). Which is why we've maintained the stub as it is. It should be UD, ranging from 75-90% as per the features enabled/disabled.

AutoIT is an easy-to-use native language, as well as the fact that it outdoes other managed languages with dependencies like .NET, Java, etc. The code for the KL is hybrid, being in different languages. On this release we've managed to get the stub down to 800kb~ but for our old AutoLOG private version, as well as a beta version rn, we have the stub even at 400kb~ (that's a remarkable feat for AutoIT)

It is possible, the password recovery + PDF exploit will suffice for it.

Not FUD, it will be UD, approx 75-85% depending on settings.

(Apr 18, 2018 09:28 AM)Sethmumu Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How it can be fud, when many autistic full filled of hf kids wouldn't scan on distributed services?

Kind of my point but a lot of the clients who purchase it spam the same raw stub.exe to thousands of PCs (usually in botnets) which cause AVs to flag it and then more detections. I think its at a point where any more detections may not come but it is definitely not 100% FUD.

Hey, can you send me a PM on-site? I've posted multiple times on the thread here.

As for the keylogger, I need to know your SMTP config (pretty much the first tab), is the test mails coming in? If not its a conflict with the functions, and as for the DOC exploit, there are videos detailing exactly how to use it, which I can demonstrate similarly on rghost links with putty.exe EDIT: User's SMTP config is confirmed wrong. Working on the issue.

Hey, please do test the email before building and the stub after building. In case it works on your own PC then it should work at the final deployment. In case you're using crypters, do test after the crypt as well, as some settings are not supported (i.e. this is a native file, crypting with .NET support will not be pleasant for the stub)

Not as of right now, but you can use a SMTP panel (webmail) which is similar to a panel (retains all the emails as well without any worry of being flagged for spam)

Possible things I can think of: Using AntiDebug and executing it on a RDP

UAC Bypass / Hide Process on non compatible OS versions UAC bypass + Mutex enabled together

Overloaded functions in general / duplication

Not cancelling out the possibility that it was crypted before test, but I can get it solved. I just need your settings/config to tell you what to enable/disable/change

Hey, for steam reset - steam uses the ssfn and vdf files to verify your current session, logged user accs, etc. The reset function deletes these files, forcing the user to re-log in and then the password can be keylogged.

v1 video shows bypass/kill of Avira & AVG. Has bypassed Avast and other AVs in the past as well. Although detections have rose due to the largely increasing userbase (May 3, 2018 12:26 PM)Garazinis Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hello, im usper intrested and going to buy it tommorow and im just wondering. What does the steam recovery do?

It recovers and sends you the files such as loginusers.vdf, config.vdf, other .vdf files and the main ssfn files as well.

Steam Reset deletes these files so it forces the user to log in again on Steam and thereby ensures the steam creds will be in the keylogs as well Exploits do work, there's a video for approximately 6~ of the 7 exploits provided, with the 7th one being same as the other two in the video.

No. Keylogger executable doesn't affect the detections on the office file. But, in order to execute the exploit properly, I would suggest you to make your executable FUD.

UAC bypass, which windows versions are you supporting? Do you have multiple bypasses or just one?

Autolt and python??? This doesn't make much sense, python must be packaged up with its runtime environment with a tool like pyinstaller which produces a huge stub, then an autoit loader? Does the loader drop to disk or exec in memory?

It generates a stub.exe along with sufficient exploits to convert it into a PDF/DOC/XLS/PPT, and can be sent over in any such format. It includes an obfuscator but for 100% undetectability, you will require a stand-alone native crypter.

Are you sure the link you've mentioned is a direct link? It downloads & exectuves.

As for the EXE,

i) Windows Defender isnt recorded on online scanners, so we have no way of verifying the stub against it runtime

ii) Most similar products are detected runtime (anyone who is providing fully FUD and claims runtime will be lying to you at this point) - as the keylogger makes globally detected keyhooks either way.

iii) A crypter is always seen as the solution to reduce detectability and ensure a 100% FUD stub.

The DOC provided is a macro, unless you've purchased the Premium package which includes a semi-silent OLE exploit. Silent exploits are offered starting from $850+ minimum and stand-alone only. These exploits are offered for free, in exchange for nothing, to the users who purchase the keylogger.

Hi,

I recently purchased sentinel and i had installed it on my virtual machine. I restarted my VM and now when i try to access with the serial code it says " Valid license but this device not found". Would love to get a reply on this one.

An email has been sent to your PP email, do respond. (Jun 2, 2018 06:47 PM)rikudo_sensei Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I read somewhere that virustotal distributes scanned results. How about nodistribute or viruscheckmate?

Yes you are right, VirusTotal distributes to all AVs, NoD/VCM is better and doesnt distribute.

Side note: Dont use VirusTotal, it distributes. (alternatives: VirusCheckmate, NoDistribute, etc)

Windows Defender might've deleted it, in case you have the mediafire link for SentinelPremium, you can re-download the original files.

We do not have any confirmation of this,

In case you own a license I'm sure the devs will be co-operative with lending you a stub to test the crypting functionality. (or we'll contact Byte himself later in the future)

Send over the config of your stub to support (on my Skype). There's clearly something conflicting there.

i.e. Just yesterday he pointed out someone was running it on a VPS with AntiVM/Debugging on.

Unpack UPX as per this guide:

- i) Make a folder "upx" on C:\
- ii) Copy upx.exe into it
- iii) Copy stub.exe into it
- iv) Run CMD as admin and write "cd c:\upx"
- v) Write "upx.exe -d stub.exe"

The stub.exe file will be overwritten with unpacked UPX file

Last update was in June itself, for password fixes/updates.

All mentioned modules are functional, all features are functional (a few combinations are preferred against, to ensure max compatibility) - but yes, all in all it is functional.

That happens when "file melt" is enabled. It drops to a subfolder (AppData/Temp) and deletes itself. You can rename the stub file.

An update is in the works right now, will be released in a few days.

Has a few updates to PW rcv modules, as well as deprecating any old functions, and possibly releasing a 50% stub size reduction.

I don't want to spam to this thread. But I am kind of upset. I contacted support at Jabber (DamienVC) and he was trying to help me and then went offline. I have tried to get help to my problem for like 2 days. If I don't get this solved, I would like to issue a refund. No hate to Damien, he sure has a reason to be so busy etc. but I want someone to help me. (It's not a problem with settings or my usage. It is problem with the product it self, which I cannot do anything about by myself.)
Thanks.

Its almost the same as any other keylogger, the USP being that its native (no dependencies). The main catch is the keylogger in the packages, and videos are provided for everything (even the bonus/free exploits TuT)

I see you're using it on a old RDP.

The Sentinel.exe builder is coded in .NET so will require .NET 4.5 but the stub.exe generated is coded in AutoIT and will have zero dependencies.

Thanks, as for live.com/Yandex.com/mail.com, they are blocking logs via Sentinel due to mass traffic (over 1,000,000+ sent emails on their servers). So it pretty much gets detected. I'm sure live.com should work though but it will involve more/faster blocking than even Gmail.

As for gmail, it does work but actual deployment is preferable if we're using Yahoo/Vivaldi.

Check this post by the support agent:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5734981&pid=56253958#pid56253958> - It has 5 working SMTPs.

there are various. You can get or make an .exe file. You can create a FUD that emdedded with to avoid detection. you can make a .jpg file; an excel file; a word; file and a .pdf file. The options are entirely yours or play around with what works for you. I hope that kinda explains it. Damien can add more or someone else. I am still new to the product. It runs under Windows environment (OS). The STUBs are meant for Windows machines. I already tested it under Linux, and Mac, nothing happens on those OS.

It does work, just email support through Rocketr and it will be sorted.
Make sure to include whatever config/settings you're running it on.

Sentinel doesn't lie about FUD rates. It is not feasible to maintain FUD when userbase is in the thousands. It will be approx 80% UD right now (due to the obfuscator included).

As for exploits, there are exploits for .reg, .pdf, .doc, .xls, .ppt so far.

You purchase it through the autobuy link on the thread

susan743 - June 30, 2018, 5:04 pm

I've purchased this keylogger for a month but I want to use it very well before making a vouch. To my experience with this key logger so far. It is the best keylogger I've ever purchased. I make a vouch for this product.

anonymousboss - June 30, 2018, 10:31 pm

I wouldn't recommend Sentinel at this point

This project is practically dead. The owners have abandoned the project, and setup AutoBuy, and people are still buying this unknowingly.

Sentinel has not been updated in over half a year and there are a lot of hidden bugs. This software will frustrate you. It is not stable at all, and also, you must get the right settings in the build for the keylogger to even work.

If the right settings are not set, keylogger will not work. And even when keylogger works, it's bugged.

They also don't have an active support.

If you still wanna buy this, go ahead.

I love how you think that just because the changelog isn't updated, we haven't been doing ANY updates. There has been over 5 critical updates within the last 3 months itself,

<http://i.prntscr.com/GMNe2k7-TCu5fUHBPNYFeQ.png>

Not to mention the two new exploits added completely for free, stub size optimization (from past version), updating the obfuscator, adding password recovery modules.

The ONLY issue where it DOES not work is:

- i) When you use a non-compatible crypter with it
- ii) When you use Anti-VM on a VM.

Which is basic common sense.

People have been testing with MAX bloated functions (especially the stub update, nobody knows how that works).

I'll get you the updated changelogs, which are going to probably be over a page long.

There are videos made for ONE reason, not that support isn't actively provided but some people just buy a monthly package and expect the support agent to be their slave and get on every single time they want to build a stub.

In case you've posted this for any competitor what so ever, just keep in mind that at the end of the day you will still be stuck with .NET dependencies in 2018. Sentinel's userbase is the largest so far and it is, for a reason.

Our legit customers can speak for this product and its legitimacy:

(Jun 30, 2018 05:32 AM)salifusman1 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i dont understand what you mean which other configure why cant guy set it up for us

If you're reporting an error with the stub (i.e. saying it doesn't work) - it is useless for anyone, even the support agent as there is no reason behind it.

You need to specify the OS you're running it on, whether an AV is present or not and all the functions you've enabled.

eg. Using AntiVM on a VM isn't exactly a bright thing to do.

Actually when I used it like 3 months ago alone with CyberSeal, the combination of two worked perfectly at the beginning. I mean first few builds. Then it started crashing down.

The error may be in injection (if self injection fails, maybe try to RegASM or svchost). Probably CyberSeal doesn't support Autolt anymore. I've switched to DarkEye recently.

OLE DOC will always be FUD as long as the EXE is FUD, as it is an embedded exploit. As for macros they might've been spammed by now.

We'll release completely new exploits instead of reFUDding as it isn't possible to maintain FUD macro exploits (which are frequently spammed) at that rate.

FTP is functional (if using awardspace). No bans on SMTP if you use lax providers like Vivaldi.net and/or private webmails (only if they have similar SMTP settings/adjustments for attachments pertaining to normal inboxes like Gmail, Yandex etc.).

We've made sure password recovery is functional.

Mozilla isn't supported, only Firefox is. Chrome all versions is supported (even copied Chromium browsers are as long as they store their files in the same format as Chrome). Opera is supported as well.

I assume PW recovery in itself hasn't been launched at all for which I'll have tests conducted via RDPs for you. Just send a message on my Skype.

I've heard of it as well. Back in 2015-16, the keylogger used to work fine with CyberSeal, and it did at the time of relaunch during 2017-18 as well, although I'm not sure why it doesn't work anymore like it used to.

Will be looking into it as I'm not entirely aware of the changes in CyberSeal (only a bit about Sentinel).

Hey, Yeah, you would need a crypter (an undetected one, and not a free one). Free ones are usually detected as they larger userbases.

The case with Sentinel is that, it is not 100% FUD (around 80-90% only), so it is detected by a few AVs. Its because the same program is used by thousands worldwide, causing a lot of stubs being flagged for detections.

Add my skype if you need further help.

Add request has been sent to your Skype. Support should handle your issues from there.

Do mention what the error is, are you facing detections on attaching it via email? Since you will have to crypt it before.

And yes, it is completely possible to send it as doc/pdf/ppt/xls/reg (currently supported extensions in Sentinel), but not jpg/image files (which isn't virtually possible, in a realistic sense).

Thanks, its recommend to crypt the exe before using the doc exploit, and its macro (which is why it is given as free).

Made sure you were responded to.

Thanks,
Partly, yes. The obfuscator does take care of a lot of it. But it still gets detection and is UD. To get it FUD, crypters / manual crypts / private crypts/stubs are preferred.

Yes, its native so no dependencies like .NET or Java
Also, yes, recovery is functional.

Open "Tutorial Videos" folder and download the archive containing all the videos.

And yes, Spartan is compatible.

You are not supposed to open Obfuscator.exe, the program uses it on its own.
Sentinel.exe is the file you should use.

Add/contact support, since I think you've messed some things up.

Delete & redownload the files, this time with your AV off or an exception added, then run Sentinel.exe as admin and compile the stub / test the email.

Issue is that something in your PC modified the Aut2Exe.exe compiler so it is refusing to compile

All of them are paid crypters.

And yes the raw stub will be detected by Windows Defender. Why? Because people scan it on VT, and there's mass distribution on a large scale. Mainly the former is why we stopped providing reFUDs as customers scan it themselves on VT.

Dude please stop using VirusTotal.

No wonder the stub is more detected every day.

And definitely do not scan crypter files on VirusTotal.

ALWAYS use antiscan.me, there

- 1.) Autorun.ini spreading has been patched since WinXP
 - 2.) There is no need to crypt putty.exe, just crypt stub.exe and add it in the exploit.
- You can still crypt the binary after Sentinel obfuscates it. No problems.

If Plasma Crypter is a variant of Exynos Crypter, I highly doubt it works.

No, it has an obfuscator to prevent reversing, but you will need to get an external crypter (with a smaller userbase so it can remain FUD longer)

kashi1 - August 6, 2018, 1:45 am

(Aug 6, 2018 01:45 AM)kashi1 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) what about the exploits? are they any good? fudtime and compatibility
They're only offered as freebies, not regularly updated/maintained. Some of them are FUD (OLE etc) but all of them require prompts/macros to run.
Cant expect much from exploits that are free.

Knight Are you here i just bought this keylogger. How can i download now ??

nospan - August 8, 2018, 1:57 am

My module is not sending the email. Ive tried with both zoho and vivaldi. Also, when I try to test from Sentinel, it doesnt send either. In error log I see that it says it doesnt find the .htm log, but it shouldnt send any, since its just a test sent from Sentinel builder(i would expect it to send just a text file with the word "test" in it to be honest..).

Maybe i got something wrong.. Where does the email goes to? To which address? To my account address or the email that i put in the builder ?

Switch over to FTP and turn it OFF, you have turned both SMTP and FTP on.

It doesnt need the example_logfile.htm unless it is to test FTP.

And it sends that, to the email address itself, yes. Its just text content for the test email though.

It was switched OFF, Im 100%! I always disable all the shield features. I've checked many times mate, same result. Email config is fine, FTP is off, still no test email.

The error you said "Example_logfile.htm is not found" only occurs on FTP tests. Also, you need to extract ALL files from the .rar archive to a folder and not just running it via an .exe

Make sure to disable settings that are not needed

Optimal config:

Startup + hidden startup + hide file + pw recv + get sys info + screen/snap logger

Thats it.

You can turn OFF SMTP with the slider tab which you use to turn on FTP.

Both of them cannot be enabled at the same time

Also which hosting are you using?

1. Keyhook method, yeah it does. I personally type at 100+ WPM.

2. Internet Explorer includes Microsoft Edge, which is its modern version.

It records game launcher windows too yeah, i.e. WASD during games, any in-game chat,etc

It gets detected faster as over 10,000+ users use the KL, contact Ray if you want a silent one that has better FUD times.

So far, I think these are the one that work:

MOHX (native), Spartan (native), DarkEyE (native), DataProtector & TopherCrypter.

Hello Boss how reliable and good is this logger, is the exploit working? is it micro? does it requires crypter? if yes which crypter is compatible

Exploit provided for FREE / no charge is always macro.

The stub requires crypter

Check post above for compatible crypters.

Trying to fix an issue with the PDF builder. Even when i link a txt file to it, it still gets detected. Seems the program itself ISNT FUD. No matter what you attach to it, the PDF still gets detected as malicious.

The PDF builder has been spammed a lot and mass mailed so I wouldn't say its FUD either. Also it uses DL + exec so .txts wont even be supported, only .exes and .jars.

I uploaded a txt file then loaded the url to the PDF builder. Doesnt matter if it wouldnt execute but the program created the pdf with that link but the PDF file comes back detected. Would a crypter solve this issue?

The PDF file's exploit method might have been detected, but it isnt patched.

Unfortunately since we dont license it, people tend to leech the builder and give it out for free or rebrand and sell it. That way we cannot control detections as more people than our userbase (which is already 10k+ users) have access to the builder and its stub.

Results in really faster detections, even more than stub.exe

You better fix this Password recovery issue ASAP!

You can see from the comments i'm not the only one complaining about this empty passwords report.

Since many weeks I purchased this, i'm not using it cos it doesn't recover any passwords. And I purchased lifetime license.

Please fix this recovery issue. I can't waste money like this.

Why is it that when you test this on yourself it recovers passwords very well, but when you send out via email, when the target opens it, it doesn't grab the passwords (more than 50 PCs all empty passwords).. This is so annoying.

You guys need to start from beginning to fix this tool.

OLE exploit wont work on Office 2016, and you need to manually click the OLE object for it to execute.

You can't expect much with free exploits tbh dude.

Tab 1 + 2 + 3 of the keylogger.

Tab 1 includes your SMTP settings and I'll be able to check if you're using the proper ports or a blocked mail provider (which is advised against on Readme.txt). Since your problem exactly fits the results of a blocked SMTP.

For fuck's sake.

You added on ICQ yet didn't send screenshots of the config as well.

AOL/Mail/Yandex is not reliable but works at times, Zoho/Vivaldi works most of the time. As for functions the best config is: Startup + Hidden Startup (optional) + Screenshot/Snapshot Logger (optional) + Get Sys Info (optional) + Password Recovery + Clipboard Logger (optional).

1) Crypt is preferred for 100% FUD yes. But the stub works without crypt as wel

2) As said above ^

Thing is there are so many products on HF that sometimes we don't always get to check them out straight away. Sometimes a description would sell your product quicker than me having to troll back through posts looking for it.

To those who haven't sent their "configs" or screenshots yet.

Dont expect a "fix" as there isnt one, its 100% caused by human error on the config usually.

Nothing much, as far as the readme is followed.

Only issue is with FUD times, but this already has a huge userbase so its not possible or feasible to maintain a FUD stub at $15/month.

Aut2Exe is the compiler, it is not the stub, so it isnt initiated if you opened that.

As for your own stub.exe, you can use AntiVirus.exe (or Tools -> Self Cure) to remove it.

Ah, I see. For gmail you would need less secure apps enabled (plus deploying it on new PCs of different IP/HWIDs also blocks it from logging into Google's SMTP) which is why we suggest ones like Zoho.com.

Check <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5734981&pid=56253958#pid56253958> for its config

Passwords are every X hours.

Screenshots and Keylogs (HTM) files are sent every now & then.

Follow the minimal settings and it'll work fine (you can use other functions, but make sure you know what order/combination they'd be best suited with, i.e. which function combinations should be avoided)

Certainly not a silent exploit.

The only free exploits in the world are macros.

The exploits you get for free with the $45 package are all limited by macros & PDF by versions. Plus the FUD times on them wont be as reliable as 10k+ people have access to it.

At this price, macro. Probably detected as a lot of people mass spam it.

AutoKMS is a Windows activator and has nothing to do with Sentinel
The exploit builders may be flagged as it does generate exploits (macro).

Completely optional anyway, as the exploit builders come free.

The functions directly influence the FUD rate so it varies. Same applies for different versions of the program.

Anyways, for 100% FUD, you will require a crypter.

AT is still there, probably not stickied yet.

Also, you can bind it to any file, although I'm pretty sure what you intend (end file: being an infected .jpg, .pdf or .xls) wont work out since that's not the way binders are supposed to be used :)

It depends. Even if you make the extension work, you will need FUD functionality if you want to spread to PCs and bypass AVs.

A JPG exploit can be made using the JS/GIF polygot possibly (have heard about it). Not sure about FUD.

As for DOC, you could get a macro or a silent exploit. Macros are generally easy to get FUD so it would be cheap, but silent is pretty much a myth (or too expensive)

XLS similar macro/silent.

AntiVirus.exe (system cure) or self destruct are two ways to uninstall the keylogger.

And no, there is no limit. As much as your webmail/SMTP/FTP can handle.

The test mail will work regardless of anything since it does not contain any attachments. It is to test the SMTP credentials and server.

But the attachment procedure of webmails are different, which is why some mails dont work regardless if test works.

I've noticed that:

Mail.com & Aol.com block the logs, same goes for Yandex.com.

Zoho.com blocks account completely.

Yahoo.com, Live.com and Gmail.com does not (but Gmail.com does have region restriction, i.e. only people from your region will be allowed access via SMTP).

Some webmails do work though.

Drop me a message on Skype and we can work out your problem.

All stubs will be saved with the username. If/when they receive an abuse with the stub, they will find the creator (username) of the stub and suspend the account.

Stubs are only logged at times to check VT detections after a reFUD. Used to be a precaution back when we released weekly reFUDs (ah, the perks of a small userbase)

Considering more people use Sentinel, the main reason reFUD is not viable is due to the heavy number of users who VT scan it themselves, or spread it in a poor way resulting in the stub being VTed.

It doesnt use CVEs, just a simple command & OLE. That exploit is determined by your EXE's scan, so yeah it'll always be FUD.

If you are really serious about a silent exploit, check out:

It is offered for a cheap price, dude. You cannot expect a regular private exploit to be done and hardcoded to be FUD. There are thousands of users using the same files the moment a FUD update hits up.

Hey, I'm not declining the use of the exploits - but at the same time I can't control the way how people use it, especially since anyone can purchase it at <$50 and spam it. You can look for a dedicated private macro or silent exploit in the market as per your needs.

I wonder how come the password is not recovering ?
where is the password and the emails recovering to ?
does it go to the coder ?
why is it that this issue cant be fix or managed ?
I am very worried about this password recovery.
Please respond

anyone who knows what the problem is about ?

its been a week! no replay. regarding my licenses.

this is very disappointed I hope you fix this issue to me, this is really unfair

DamienVC - November 21, 2018, 3:42 am

Notice: I was away from my main workstation/home and my laptop was submitted for repairs. So over the course of 1 week I wasn't able to get online properly. I'm back now and sales have always been delivered.

In the meantime, I've handled such issues like download links, rearchiving etc. I have noticed there is an issue with PW recovery, so a hotfix update will be provided within 24-48h once the recode is complete.

Thread responses, now:

It will be just UD, due to several active users, it isnt viable to maintain a FUD keylogger (isnt viable after you surpass 500-1000 customers anyway). Private crypts, versions/stubs, or public/private crypters should work fine for maintaing FUD.

Send me a PM with your license and I'll reset the HWID. Just saying I've not been active for a week due to unexpected PC problems (and it isn't viable to port the entire tunnel-network system with my workstation, RDPs, IDEs into a new computer).

All responses dealt with, let me know if any issues are encountered after the update.

AutoLog.exe is the same as Sentinel.exe in this prospect.

As for the remote server issue, make sure HTTP traffic is not blocked or not being firewalled, if so make an exception for the licensing system's site (961api.com). You can also use it in an isolated VM.

DamienVC - November 28, 2018, 3:20 pm

@coder_killer_brokekid_chargebacker - You are not getting a single ounce of support from anyone since you charged back instantly after purchase, and used fake/stolen paypals to make your payment. Your license and all derivations from it are terminated.

And as for "tool not working" maybe you want to see the fucking videos included in the RAR for once. But hey, you're probably using the wrong config thinking you know everything but you're actually using a wrong outdated config (i.e. SSL on port 587 which is meant for TLS, or using a webmail that isnt even supported).

Get lost and go chargeback someone else's product.

They are not constantly updated and I am sure at the low price they are spammed, so I am sure they aren't always FUD.

Only the embedded exe macro/OLE works as its always FUD (scan of doc = scan of exe)

The obfuscator is automatically applied in the compiling processor. You cannot manually use it just like that, there are a few parameters (which is why the stubs wont work).

From my opinion; I think you've 2 problems.

1. Either you victims (slaves) didn't save passwords on their PC's at the time of spreading.
2. Use .net 3/ 3.5+, and I think RegAsmis the best when it comes to crypting KL's. And what Crypter do you use?

Hey, so.

- The keylogger is native, you should use no/self inject. VBC is probably not a good idea, but RegASM should work as well. Make sure you test your stub fully before and after crypting before deploying, within a VM or sandbox.

- As its native, you'll need a crypter w/ native support. The target framework (if a .net crypter) can be anything, 4.0 is what people use mostly.

It doesnt use autorun.ini since its patched since a decade now. It just uses the new method of replicating and hiding the original folders and replacing it with malicious .lnks with the folder images. Works fine.

The password issue was temporary, I've sent a fix for it. As for the attachment:body change, I will consult with further clients and ask. The main thing is that several clients use advanced custom coded SMTP protocols which automatically download and sort the attachments into different folders for them. Having to copy the entire email content is something that will overcomplicate stuff for the people who've been using it that way.

tested with zoho and a roundcube webmail no is working .

the test button on the builder reported to those emails.

the after building non of the reported.

i told one of my friend about it he was angry with me on why i bought it he said that he has it that his own is not working too.

that he would have told me not to buy if i told him earlier.

i went back on skype to talk to the owner he stop talking to me as if he knew that is not working.

For all I care I dont give a fuck if your webmail does not deliver or not. We do not warrant any webmails so use them at your own discretion/risk. The KL is tested with all the popular SMTP providers (till they start blocking of course).

Thanks for wasting 26 mins of my time. I recovered a previous Zoho account just to test it.

DOC/XLS FUD rates are not warranted, and yeah works with latest firefox, last update to the module was a month ago.

which webmail is working with this keylogger?
say it if you think is working. i will send you PM to buy it and prove me wrong.
you kept talking about shinjiru as if they are the only one offering the service.
stop running from the questions and answer the question.
and as for the rating, like i said , i don't give a flying fk.
why didn't you cite it from your thread that your KL only works with rediff mail?
which i've not even tested to confirm.
you keep using rediff mail as excuse because is not that easy to open like other email clients.

stop hiding on the excuse of being lazy to test your tool before selling.

apart from rediff mail, which other email client works with your tool.
you will still run from this question again.

Keylogger does not work, shows only the mouse click in the logs. Internetexplorer password recovery does not work and I get the test emails but no logs. I am using my own mail server.

Please refund the money!

Raymond, i cannot find the updated file in my PM

What do you say, it is my fault that the KL was so overused on Zoho that is stated blocking? I couldn't care less about mediocre .NET loggers and the fact they haven't been specially flagged just goes to say that Sentinel has the largest userbase among all. Does any product get so popular that over 5 popular inbox providers would completely code updates based on preventing the amount of spam generated by people running campaigns through there?

Don't get me started on webmails. Your webmail does not follow the same attachment procedure as the online inboxes. Now there was Shinjiru's webmail that did follow it, but they stopped that specific service (wonder why, again).

Rating was reduced since you just decided to SPAM the thread just because you didnt get a response that same day. The accusations however, were amusing coming from an impatient person.

PS: Others got it to work too.

UD ranges around 75-90% as per functions.

PM sent.

Hi mate,

Just purchased and used for 15min ive tried AOL and Gmail and every single webmail, tried to send test email, Nothing is going thru My firewall is OFF and AV along with windows defender, >NET firmware is updated.

P.S

Ive gone through your thread and noticed a lot of people having same issue.
Why are you selling this product then? Why did i purchase?

Ive used your keylogger 2 years ago and i thought wow your still up and running but looks like theres issues?

and still looks exactly the same? Do i need an update?? If so why would people be getting an outdated Sentinel?

Could i get the updated version then

Waiting for a response :)

Dude bring out time to work on your tool. Everyone is complaining!

Even the output stub size is large. (Before you come saying it's from the features i selected, no, i used both default settings and also tried with less features, yet output is 840kb or above)

Most painful part is, when you finally get the test to work on your pc, then send to another pc to test, it returns empty logs(when passwords are saved on the pc).

Even without testing in any pc you keep getting some useless logs(Wonder where those sh*ts are coming from)

Please Stop selling an unstable tool!

First off, the stub size was reduced to 400kb in the old version, but we have placed it under beta for the time being.

Also I don't understand the "works on my PC but not on any other PC". You basically just contradicted yourself. If it works on your PC, it will work on all others PC as well. Unless you are extensively turning on AVs to combat against the raw unencrypted stub, which will definitely be detected.

As I told again, the functions have been thoroughly tested. It works for you too, when you say "get the test to work on your PC".

Hello there, I am fairly new to all this and so far all seems to go well, I purchased the basic package.

I have a doubt regarding Obfuscator, everytime I use it on the stub I can't execute it, on any pc that I tried it says that i cant run that file on that pc, does it have anything to do with 32 or 64 bit? Cause it's that typical message...

Also tried using FTP and all went well test is all good but after installing stub on another pc or even mine, I get an error regarding autoIT...

And also, I need to disable everything so the stub doesn't get picked up by AV, even the sentinel folder needs to be under exclusions or it is picked up...

Maybe it has been too long since this has been released and it's no longer FUD?

Thanks for your time'

PS: Sending me the updated file would be nice too!

Hey, the obfuscator is automatically used by the application Sentinel.exe while building/compiling, there is no need to manually use it. Also if you noticed, manually executing the obfuscator only throws 1kb outputs which aren't technically valid, it has a few command parameters for execution.

The 32bit or 64bit error message from the stub is the "fake error message" from the second tab, you can customize it with any message you want.

The Sentinel folder does compile the SMTP sender, password stealer, keylogger stub and other files within a single EXE, and obfuscates the raw input, hence exclusions will be needed. Also due to constant usage by a large userbase, 100% FUD is no longer viable or possible. Its always at 80-90% FUD though.

If you purchased recently, the file is already updated - nothing to worry about.

Thanks for the reply mr. Damien, I have only one more request regarding FUD.

If I use a crypter like Spartan Crypter my stub will be as you say 80 90 percent FUD is that right?

Nothing works as mentioned , followed all the correct procedures , used all forms of email platforms mentioned in the tut and HF (your thread) and other platforms. Less secure app access is ON

Thanks

P.S

Also why is it no matter what info i put into the email section, even if its all random info/ wrong info. When pressing test email it ALWAYS says sent????

Whats going on there? Ive typed in all the wrong info just random letters and numbers as a password and it still states email was SENT. I am losing my patience now.

It "sends" the SMTP request via the SMTP server. If the things are incorrect it obviously will be rejected @ the server (in this case, smtp.gmail.com). Use a fresh gmail if an existing one is used. It may be blacklisted due to use with other KLS or misuse of the SMTP server, or just for security in general.

Check Gmail.mp4 if you're still insisting on it not working, drop me your TV and it'll hardly take me 5mins to figure out this problem myself.

Commencement of testing:

1- Registered Gmail account

2- Verified by phone (PVA), enabled less secure apps. ( https://myaccount.google.com/lesssecureapps?utm_source=google-account&utm_medium=web) [

<http://prntscr.com/m01dn8> <http://prntscr.com/m01dpx>]

3- Sentinel main application launched

4- Test email went through: <http://prntscr.com/m019bj>

5- Keylogger build settings set:

..Default intervals

..Screenshot logger

..Clipboard logger

6- Stub compiled

7- Stub executed (disclaimer; WD disabled for test reasons)

8- Logs recieved:

<https://imgur.com/Se3I26T> For anyone who is like, "test work but the keylogger do not send keylogs!!" - here you go: <https://imgur.com/TiFpt0v>

Not to mention it also shows the "origin location" of any files copied/moved from location to location. (a feature of the clipboard logger) I'm pretty convinced you're just wasting my time at this point. I am busy and not even at my main workstation so I just executed these tests completely via my laptop, on a fresh gmail with less secure enabled (I already have a gmail solely for testing the KL from 2015 onwards, still running).

Unlike annoying people who just want to spam a sales thread to kingdom come, people do contact directly via private channels, and most of them already figure out how to operate the KL with the videos and instructions provided. Obviously those who don't follow them definitely don't get it working.

Constructive advice? Issue? There is no issue. Its all on your end. You're just looking for an excuse to blame the tool, while the workman himself is in question here. I'm busy so I don't have time to get on TeamViewers and no, paying for a single license doesn't mean you own my support agents or they're your personal slaves.

Took me about 20mins to register a fresh PVA gmail and get it working on that. Can be within half the time if you dont have to carefully analyze every aspect of the process to find any such non-existent issues/bugs which you are claiming here.

Sure, passwords is a thing of concern, people deploy raw or LQ crypted stubs which aren't even 100% FUD and they dont get logs - which isn't really anything I can do, that is an entire other issue altogether mostly related to FUD times. This thing you're talking about though? That isn't even an issue. Thanks a lot for wasting my time.

ALSO: Sensibly speaking, I think the issue is still on your end. Considering you used all the correct configs for Rediffmail and Gmail, I can probably conclue that SMTP server (port 465) is altogether blocked on your PC, hence not allowing any logs to go through, nor the test is going through. Most plausible explanation imo

Thanks, I purchased the basic edition but maybe the exploits are a must? Avast and bitdefender keep blocking the stubs and i want to use on a protected pc. Sometimes not even chrome lets it go through... Are you implying that I use the exploits hence the 80% FUD?

Sorry to be kind of a pain I thank you so much for making this software, I just need to understand i am kinda noobish on logging but I am a fast learner.

Exploits are not a must. You can use the stub as it is with a normal crypter and its fine.

Also no worries, if you are not able to get it working.

I'll send you a PM with a structured testing mechanism I've used. As far as the config is correct, and the functions are kept at a minimal (mostly they're just "not using UACBypass or HideProcess in any PC after Win7, not clubbing IP Logger with other stuff, turning off log coloring if not needed & so on)

No, the basic version works as fine as the other versions as the base EXE will remain the same in it. I'll put up a compare for the two EXEs later on as well.

I sent you the test mechanism, check the post above you if you're facing the same issues of "logs not reporting". Since, they did. It isnt a KL issue, its a user issue / human error.

DamienVC - December 27, 2018, 2:27 pm

Speak up? Read your post, what you said was debunked in the quoted post. Not to mention you've just wasted my time rn on the test I had to do, because someone wasn't able to follow the steps in the video (probably never watched the vid either)

Also, stop being salty about a neg. Rep doesn't mean anything

DamienVC - December 27, 2018, 3:00 pm

Guess someone's really pissed about the neg. You got that because you deserved it. You started slinging accusations against the product, in question, which I debunked right after. Why did I call you an asshole? Because that's what you are being right now. You're just copy-pasting old posts, spamming the thread, and not even admitting that it is your fault that you couldn't operate it. Not to mention why you've been avoiding the reply to your last sensible post.

For the 5th time, REPLY to the post I quoted, which you've clearly been avoiding. I've already wasted ENOUGH of my time demonstrating and debunking the accusations you've been throwing. Stop crying about a neg on your profile which you clearly deserved.

Also for the last time, I'm not the one deleting your posts. They're in violation of the rules of the site. Also in the eyes of the site, you're the one with an open chargeback, so yeah, had we been dealing via contracts, you would be the one against whom a deal dispute would be open :)

Also, I am still responding to you (which I really shouldn't be doing, since you're just spamming the thread rn). I cant delete the posts since that will make it look like PBD, which is against the rules. I'd stick to following the rules if I were you too.

Hello, uncheck the functions with a "shield" icon which require admin privs.

(Dec 27, 2018 08:45 PM)evin7 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Dont know how my posts are violation of the rules of the site, when your the one that used abusive language which the site i guess deleted your comment but its nice to see you admit that you did call me an asshole :)

Stop cypypasting your old posts, you're just spamming at this point. You're a known chargebacker, so you aren't even a customer anymore, so I'm not obliged to treat you with any respect. Enjoy a license termination as well as being on buyer blacklists. Had an on-site contract been made for autobuy sales, you would be the one with a deal dispute open against :)

I'm not changing the neg so stop spamming, you deserve it.

Hey, does the FTP work on FileZilla?

Also are you sure its FTP and not SFTP?.

Also, does the other keyloggers die in 20mins as well? I don't think its a problem with the KLs but with the server.

Try an AwardSpace one.

You do know you have to rebind the HWID if you use it on a different machine right? Follow steps in Activation.mp4.

Install .NET and run the builder with admin privs.

If its the stub, there is a chance you could be mistaking it for the fake error.

(Dec 29, 2018 06:15 PM)AllyZme Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hello! I purchased this keylogger and it looks awesome. However, it seems the stub isn't getting past antiviruses..

Sadly, its not viable to reach 100% FUD anymore, which is why it lingers around 80-90% FUD rate.

A crypter can help you achieve 100% FUD.

Since the raw stub (before obfuscation) is pretty detected, WD will obviously detect it.

Even after obfuscation (due to a large userbase), the end stub will only be UD, and not FUD.

For 100% FUD, as the user below mentioned, use a crypter.

Hello guys,

I have recently purchased the keylogger, ran and accessed the license and built the stub with default settings. I then ran the stub to infect a test system. However, nothing actually happened at all on the test system. No keylogger file was created in the chosen folder (C:Windows\log), no process was created, and obviously no reports recieved by email.

I followed the readme even to make sure I covered everything, but still nothing happens.

Send me error details.

It can either be:

- .NET framework issue (builder is coded in vb, so it will require .net framework to run)
- supporting files not present (you need to extract all files and not just use the plain exe)
- error message (that is customizable in tab 2, it isnt a real error)

Hey, the keylogger is in use by several people at the same time, which is why having it FUD is not hard.

For a crypter, you just need to purchase a crypter with "native" support, which most crypters like TopherCrypter & SpartanCrypter already do. They're readily available on HackForums as well.

Let me know if you have any questions.

It is.

There are two macro downloader exploits (one being rawcode and the other being obfuscated code). But the catch with Premium package is that there is an 'embedded exe' type exploit included. This exploit will always give a FUD doc if the specified exe file is FUD.

You can encrypt the stub from Sentinel to achieve 100% FUD, and after that any choice of exploits for deployment is upto you.

(Jan 13, 2019 06:00 AM)D33PWEB Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hey. Is the logger currently fud? And can i buy using paypal? Dont have btc at the mo. Thanks

You can buy with PayPal, yes

As for FUD, no. It is not 100% FUD; reason explained on the thread; due to a large active userbase, and constant usage of the stub 24x7, it is not viable to maintain it at 100% FUD levels. Although, the stub is indeed UD, at around 80%~. A usage of any crypter with simple native support is enough to get 100% FUD.

Let me know if you have any other questions, thanks.

Hey, the last update is dated December 2018, I'll still send you the link though, if you dont have it already.

(Jan 16, 2019 10:04 AM)travisci Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What exploits come with the advanced edition? and is the produced exe FUD ST/RT? or does it need a crypter?

Just a basic raw code macro DOC, nothing else. XLS, DOC obfuscated macros and PDF is on Professional, and Premium has the embedded EXE type DOC (which is always FUD). The rest of the macros are under heavy usage whenever updated so they're not that FUD. The stub is 80% UD~, would need a crypter for 100% FUD, yes. (reason explained on the thread; too large of a userbase)

REG is included in almost everything but that's a pretty easy exploit to do.

(Jan 17, 2019 07:13 AM)skype101 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Where can i buy crypter send me the thread link to the seller pls

Quick google search leads to all that you need.

Spartan: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5421240>

Topher: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4836905>

DataProtector: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4745433>

Make sure the crypters are actively updated from their devs / sales thread, and make a choice on which one you want.

Not as of rn in the public version and its detection rate is 80%~ UD, so WD might pick it up. I recommend using a crypter.

I use bytencrypter and I get 4/30 detection with the .doc exploit. There are prob better crypters that will get a lower detection rate, just look for one that updates its stub often and contact the developer beforehand, letting them know you are wanting to use the crypter alongside this tool and they can give you any advice you may need :D

As I've mentioned it is only 80%~ UD due to heavy usage of the stub. To get 100% FUD, you'll need a crypter.

I purchased literally yesterday or the day before and have been getting constant support every day. DamienVC has been helping me a lot. I am not sure what problem you're running into. You need to open the readme, read through it all and follow all the instructions and tutorials you're given. The file size should not be 20mb at all mine is less than 1mb

For a true avkiller you will need ring0 access. Obviously not for this price, or in a keylogger to start with.
It uses a few gimmicks to freeze & terminate AV processes. Works with a few, not all AVs.

If you're Harry, then you already have the silent exploit :).

The silent is sold separately and not with the keylogger (and as of rn I assume sales are closed).

Not all, but some, yes.

It attempts to kill the rest but if they're running on higher privs, then no.

A question but it didn't really have basis lol, since I have linked you the updates in 2018.
Nonetheless, its fine.

Yes but note that the PDF is not going to be some sort of ultra FUD silent CVE-based PDF exploit, its just going to be a simple macro executing cmd, and limited to a few Adobe versions.

So what is the best conversion file?

DOC/XLS/PDF macros can do the job, yes. Even EXE itself can do the job. Although to attach with mailboxes you need FUD binaries.

Click on the "purchase" buttons on the first post in the thread. After that, it will autodeliver.
The stub size is around 800~kb, another version has 400~kb. The exploits vary from .reg, .doc (3 types), .xls, .ppt, .pdf (macro mostly).

We've discussed this on Skype. Gmail blocks if anyone connects to you from another country. So if you intend to use it on people in different countries, try another mailbox like Mail.com or Zoho.com

Also it won't work if your Gmail security is high or if you have 2FA on that Gmail and so on.... (use a dummy one)

(Mar 9, 2019 08:14 AM)medhat Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) please which another version has 400~kb?? tell me i need to know

(Mar 10, 2019 04:47 PM)AngelCry Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So this keylogger is FUD? i don't need a crypter? Sorry, but no.

As of release, the keylogger remained 100%+ FUD for over a year. But then our clients count were in the thousands so maintaining a FUD keylogger became out of the question.

As of rn, its not possible to get a 100% FUD public stub. It is UD though, around 80%~.

(Mar 11, 2019 08:23 AM)Peronasama Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) still works?

Yes, it still works.
PDF exploit is a macro exploit working on limited versions of Adobe/Foxit. So it isn't really a CVE/silent/click-and-run as you think.
Its a macro so detections are minimal.

Is a crypter needed in order for the actual Sentinel exe to be FUD or the raw output can be used?

(Mar 17, 2019 09:30 AM)ApexLead Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is a crypter needed in order for the actual Sentinel exe to be FUD or the raw output can be used?

Raw output can be used, but it is only 80%~ UD. For 100% FUD you need a separate crypter.
Reason explained as I did earlier, KL has thousands of active users so maintaining 100% FUD is no longer viable

I have a solid 3 - 5 MacOS Mojave boxes that come in per day and need to get something reliable to be able to monitor these boxes.

What is something good solid and reliable?

I need something quick and fast as i do not have time to mess around setting parameters. Preferably something already with a GUI and simple to understand UI/UX with proper documentation and instructions.

Also, we get 5 - 10 Window Boxes that come in every day as well. What do you suggest is a good solid RAT for Windows?

I am willing to pay for this information but it must be reputable/reliable and solid. It must have good reviews from active contributing members on the forum. If i do pay you then you must provide me with these links of proof that the product is reliable and good.

So, the only real difference with your KL, say - compared to Orion, is that you offer some form of obfuscation to evade AV detection, which seems to be less than FUD. In addition, you offer binding and PDF/DOC exploit? Am I correct? Planning on purchase..

If you have the debugger error, then make sure 'de4dot' and any such decompilers is uninstalled and removed from your PC.

Issuing a VM version later when I have time.

Doubt any other keylogger on the market rn does provide anything equal to Sentinel's power.

The Rocketr links should not be valid anymore.
