This would serve as an epic mockery of the feminism cancer that's going on atm.

Only real boys will like.

That's literally exactly what feminists are saying. That 'men are just men and they're shitty human beings'. I think we need to prove that there are bad people in both genders. Like the murderers, rapists and fat people who can't get any sex so they get mad at the opposite gender.

Yes. Hackforums will become the mocker and not the mockee.

That's what happens when boys put their minds and hearts together. New words like "mockee" that are lit and fire are invented with little to no effort.

I'm a man so it's not my place to take a side but I do advocate for educating yourself on these things. Misinformation is a pet peeve and it spreads like wildfire. Feminism is not anti men and the approach to an objective view on the subject is not to prove there's bad people in both genders. Feminism is a political/social issue around sexism so to slam either gender isn't going to make a dent in their movement.
