DUTCH MAN GAMBLES ON BITCOIN BY SELLING EVERYTHING HIS FAMILY OWNS

Deany - October 12, 2017, 7:29 pm

I was expecting "local priest burns down church"

LastSession - October 12, 2017, 7:30 pm

Great meme but besides that this guy is EXTREMELY retarded to invest in a huge bubble. I feel sorry for his children and his wife.

I'm sure CPS is talking to them as we speak. What an irresponsible thing to do with a family and kids. I wouldn't care if he did this if he was single but selling his kids toys for an investment. What a fucking dumbass.

Everyone saying that with absolute confidence has zero knowledge about the market. Bitcoin is just a huge bubble with no real value. People are investing in it because people like you are saying it will sometime hit 10k and they just think in general it might rise in the future. This suits perfectly the definition of a financial bubble.

The "currency" (or rather an object of speculation) will implode sooner or later, and I don't think it will take long.

yeah but thats the only reason anything has value.

If adopted as main stream cryptocurrency is more efficient than current standard.

No.

There are lot of things you can spend BTC on. Let's take HF for example. Some products are only available to buy in bitcoin -> people who are interested decide to buy bitcoin to buy the product, they might even buy more than needed to buy similiar products in the future.

I don't say BTC has no potential at all. It has. But 5k or wherever it is at the moment is way too much.

Just like the in the infamous dotcom bubble you will see a correction for that one too.
