I'm probably late to the party but just finished watching it and it's easily a 9/10, 10/10 for me, would definitely recommend you to take a look at it

I definitely think Made in Abyss was the best anime that season and an easy contender for one of the best of the year thus far.

I might give it a watch since it has such good ratings, but personally not a fan of the characters looking like bobbleheads.

Haven't watched it but going to add it on the never ending list cause it looks pretty good.

Professor Pantsu - October 18, 2017, 2:37 am idk about 10/10 but it's pretty fucking good

Haven't finished yet, but god damn I absolutely ADORE the scenery. The amount of world building done strictly through just visuals is simply amazing and feels so lively and real that I feel like I'm watching a Ghibli film. Tack that with the music, my god.

Masterpiece level music and background imagery. The story and world are so unique and they stray from any typical anime trope, without leaving out detail of normal human actions (such as showering, pooping), that this really does feel like a possible fantasy world. For that, it's super endearing and draws me closer and closer to the world.

It's one of those anime that I really love but never want to finish because I know that I should treat this like a sort of rare food.

Wasn't a fan of the mc's being kids but trust me, you'll love it.

Also finished Shuumatsu just now...

so fucking good too

I thought them being kids kinda made it slightly more innocent which I think was the intention, despite the lewdness here and there lol.

And also watching Shuumatsu atm as well, I'm getting the same vibe as MiA

It has magic but probably not the type of magic u think about.

No mecha either, the guy is a semi humanoid with robot parts but that's about it, he's pretty much a human

I watched it and I would say it was really good, though I think 10/10 is a little bit of a stretch, it had a little bit of things in it that bother me I would say 7.8/10

This anime was amazing. I loved the progression of the characters as the story progresses. The anime is portrayed as childish and almost cartoonish from the outside, but is actually more for adults. It has a dark side to it that is slowly introduced. The story, art, and soundtracks were amazing and fit well with the style of the anime. Would recommend to anyone who enjoys a good adventure! It'll keep you binge-watching the whole way through!
