Thread: What happened to all the rats?

GH0ST.dox - October 17, 2017, 2:23 pm

After taking an extensive break from ratting I come back to see that the only decent RAT left is Eagle Eye Rat, which I am just assuming is decent because I have never used it nor seen it before.

I remember that LuminosityLink got raided like 3 months ago or something, what happened to Orcus, and all the others? I am too lazy to learn to make a RAT myself which is why I'd rather just buy the damn thing but it looks like there are no good providers here on HF anymore since this forum is flooded with feds. Someone should point me to an actual RAT that I can use where my license won't get banned if I am caught doing "malicious things".

EDIT: Found out Orcus is still up and running. Do they ban often for malicious intent? I am guessing they do since Armada had that whole Brian Krebs ordeal a while back?

People are getting out of it because they are all getting arrested or realizing the risk isn't worth the reward.

Yeah that makes sense, guess it's not worth to make thousands if your going to owe it all back in the end. Do you know any off-site RATs that I could buy?

No, I don't dabble in buying rats only learn how to prevent them :)

Quasar
NetWire
Babylon
nJRat

Shit RATs die off
Thats what happens.

Especially when all of you skids pay lunch money to unemployed coders who dump you guys when they get actual jobs

The only decent RAT is Eagle Eye? barely even heard of that RAT. There are plenty of RATs still around. What happened to Orcus? Nothing, I see it all the time on here. How about Netwire, they dont ban you. Luminosity? list goes on Joins April 2017, knows about the Krebs incident from over a year ago.

Latest IP matching 5 others. Smoooth. lol

Yes, I will ban any license or user found to be using Orcus maliciously. Has nothing to do with Brian Krebs, has everything to do with running a legal business and general ethics.

PerfectStorm - October 17, 2017, 5:30 pm

Theres not a single developer that you can go to and admit illegal activities, and not get banned for it. Grow up ghost.

Skidware is dead

.NET software is crap too

Dont bother with Orcus or some shit RAT

There are enough Rats out there which are open source and as good as the "premium" rats that are sold here if you just do a simple google search...

I want you to realize that I was using 143VPN when making that thread, therefore when you checked it probably did show up as "5 users under this IP". My IP has changed like 20x in the past 2 months so even if I were a multi I wouldn't have the same IP.

On 2nd hand, thanks for notifying me that a license would be banned if I were to purchase Orcus. Also what is stopping someone like me from purchasing using another HF account? Not trying to come off as if I'm going to, but what is stopping me or somebody else purchasing Orcus from another alias using BTC or something, you'd have no clue.

Not saying I'm going to go up to the developers and say "Hey, I'm currently using your software to infect thousands of machines and benefit from them."

I'm saying that I don't want to get banned if they see me posting on the forum about clients or some shit and suspending my license.

EddyProject - October 18, 2017, 6:21 pm

RATs are interesting tools in of itself, but why would you need a botnet of computers with webcam viewing capabilities?

There is a stigma associated with RATs because of things like that, nothin good comes from it.

They are so easy to set up and spread because people won't educate themselves on proper computer security.

It's a scary situation, and people don't want to risk it.

Well that clearly proves your immaturity. You should NOT be posting here about anything regarding your "clients" it's illegal and I'm sure if you keep it up you will get banned from HF as well as the licenses to your RATs. It's very likely the Crypter developers will ban you if you alert them to your activities too. Stop doing it.

Simple.

You have no clue what I do, or do not know about my clients.....
