Thread: Charged back 500 dollars by dark eye / GreatAgain &uid=217648

Autophobia - October 19, 2017, 9:36 am

I started dealing with dark eye <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=217648> yesterday about my mentorship sales, he currently already had my ebooks and have been using them with success and realized he needs help setting up Shopify automation with a method to not get shut down, spreading and places he can pull content from so he paid the 500 dollars to get that and everything else my mentorship can offer.

Proof of him getting some success with the ebook after his first day [also shows he had time to use the ebook before, He claimed he didnt know my method took time today]

Proof of what he request from my mentorship

Proof of explaining shopify to him and showing him my store link to give him a visual

Proof of me sending him accounts to pull content from Sent about 8 in total enough to supply content to his account forever [Not showing the usernames or snapcodes]

more proof of me answering all the questions i dont provide in the ebook he originally bought so keep in mind me answering this stuff is all part of the mentorship as i state in my thread anything not covered in the ebook is not part of pm support package just the mentorship

Proof that he had full understandings of the method and had already made a account with high views so it clearly shows how much time it needs. Also shows he used my group chat to answer any other questions he had that i didnt cover, My mentoree chat helps eachother out.

Him being explained fully about my refund policy because he already inquired about it

Him requesting his refund due to not knowing how much time it takes, Keep in mind he already using my ebook prior and was putting in the time already so the time is clearly not a problem

Him trying to reason with me even though he got 70% of my methods

Him referring to when i told him i'll tell him one private spreading method a day to make sure he has full understanding before moving onto the next, user received one method and was told all the information above all thats left in the metnorship is to learn 6 - 7 more spreading methods take would take less then a hour to do everyday and and that is it.

He was added to the group chat and stayed there with no problems or concerns for 24 hours seeing what my other mentorees were doing and asked me countless questions, I'm currently on mobile so I will upload pics as soon as my comp boots up.

He requested a refund and in my thread I clearly don't offer a refund policy but a 30 day guarantee, he states he deserves a 24 hour refund policy I simply told him no seeing he originally bought for spreading methods, places to pull content from and the Shopify method and I have already given him the Shopify method and many places to pull content so he continued to threaten me with a report and to charge me back etc etc and it happened, in my conclusion he simply got what he wanted then tried to pull a quick one to get his money back.

Him threatening me with a report, Keep in mind he wants 400 dollars in btc back the user paid in amazon gift card that he ended up getting ripped from my account so in the end he would of just taken my 400 dollars if i sent it to him and had the gift card ripped from me anyways smh

Needless to say i wont be accepting agc anymore

Sokar - October 19, 2017, 10:11 am

Not cool for him to charge this back, especially after he says that he already has it setup and is able to make profit. Sorry for your loss friend. Keep grinding as I know you do and I know you'll make that back in a day.

Metallic Silver - October 19, 2017, 10:16 am

Legit report.

Manboy practically guides these retards on a leash to make money and they still have the audacity to pull shit like this.

Hopefully this resolves.

Autophobia - October 19, 2017, 10:25 am

Pulling a long shot and am in amazon support trying to get the codes back onto my account i have a slim chance being a amazon prime member for years and over 10k spent in the last month on amazon so ill update yall.

Currently having no luck seeing he claimed it was fraud, Moving up the ladders to talk to the supervisors

TwisteD - October 19, 2017, 10:44 am

Yeah its clear he just wanted free help, what a pos. Hope you get your money back man.

N??n - October 19, 2017, 10:52 am

You're literally spoon feeding this dude lmao hahaha thats very funny brother youre the best :) :) :)

if you want you can buy my method for 500$:) :) thanks :) not advertising btw, yoiure just funny :)

Autophobia - October 19, 2017, 11:09 am

Small little update, after going back in forth with amazon reps telling me they cant do anything i got a supervisor who is looking into it

Zuber:  I was able to locate the GC and to help you out here, I've escalated this to our GC team and they will get back to you within the next 24-48 hours.

funtela - October 19, 2017, 12:52 pm

This guy is just a fucking asshole.

Manboy Mafia still mentors me to this day. And I'm one of his vouch customers. The amount of time he puts in for me is insane. I can only imagine for paying customers.

I really hope Amazon helps you settle this.

Peter - October 19, 2017, 12:57 pm

I will me making a response to this when I get home from work.

Vitani - October 19, 2017, 1:11 pm

Looks like a legit report. Sorry for your Loss OP, you definitely deserve the money so not sure why the guy charged back.

I hope you get this solved soon.

Autophobia - October 19, 2017, 9:17 pm

I doubt he will resolve this, he flat out told me he was gonna charge back if I didn't send him 400 dollars in btc (wouldn't ever seeing he simply would of just taken 900 from me instead of just the 500 dollar gift cArd)

I already made 6x what I lost Imfao money isn't a issue for me but I hope this report helps someone who isn't as well off and gets them thinking before dealing with him because from the outside looking in he looked and seemed trusted

Meow - October 20, 2017, 3:47 pm

Legit report, you're literally spoon feeding this dude, idk what else he expects to get for $500. Maybe he though you would setup an account for him, post on it and he would only add his PayPal e-mail to Rocketr ?

Biggy - October 20, 2017, 4:38 pm

He requested a refund without even 24 hours passing.

So many children on here just want a get rich quick scheme.

"I bought your ebook, when do I get my car and house?"

Ranger. - October 21, 2017, 3:01 am

Doesn't he have a shit ton of old, open disputes on him as well? I was kind of with him at the start of his DD-thread but the one at fault in this deal is pretty clear now..

Who knows i didn't really look. Hes just become a headache at this point seeing he created that thread that got closed claiming i scammed him, Left rep leading to that thread and now is going around reporting my snapchat accounts that he knows of and one of my mentorees who posted his snapcode in that chat the same night he was in it keeps getting reported too.

Seems like hes in it for the long run, Its sad to see how far people will go simply because they didn't get their way. Oh well.

Its a 30 day mentorship LMFAO thats my big thing about this is he claimed he didn't know it would take a'lot of time when he previously bought the ebook so he knew what the method required time wise seeing the most time costing parts are in the ebook and obvsly the mentorship was going to add time to it. Imo he just wanted to get the info he didn't know and i wasn't offering to ebook buyers so he felt he can swipe it real fast

So what was the result of the charge back?

Amazon basically told me his account is under review / on hold because he made a fresh account and bought a gift card and sent me it and thats it then claimed it was fraud next day. She said she sees it happen all the time and basically told me if and when he resolves his account i can go after him for the gift card but as the account sits i cant do anything because the codes are claimed on his locked account.

I'm not mad about losing the money i surely don't need it. Its all principle at this point.

Autophobia - October 30, 2017, 8:46 pm

Update: The scammer has changed his name to GreatAgain

Update Amazon updated me and sent me one of the two claim codes he sent me. I will be calling amazon about the second claim code, From my understanding the scammer also has gotten his snapchat account deleted and his paypal frozen.. Looks like karma got em, Shame seeing i cover both topics on preventing those issues in my mentorship if he would of actually finished it instead of rip info real quick and dip.

Still out of 300 dollars as of now but at least progress is happening.

Karma's a bitch, even though you don't really need it I hope you get your money back.

It's all principle at this point. I never needed the money from the git go it's simply the fact he tried to get one over on me that pissed me off. Hopefully this report spreads the word to other users who deals with him

I'm confused on why you decided to comment on this ages after you scammed me its like you're proud of what you did or something coming back to look back at your accomplishment of scamming me. I received half of the payment back already so no idea what you're getting on about.

owmasters - January 17, 2018, 9:55 am

Haha this guy gets gold star treatment and I'm out here using the ebook and my own spreading methods to pay the cash for mentor with money made from the ebook method itself and I was planning to pay in amazon gift cards like I did for the ebook and this idiot ruins it for me xD

Where does he live!!

EDIT

I'm not part of the mentorship yet but I've been following Shaunee on his snap since I first spoke to him, completely legit and makes as much as he says. Seems to have a big heart, though he isn't afraid to push back if it's required lol

What the actual fuck :D

Either way OP, the best of luck with this.

Dox him and send him a dick from aliexpress.

Then tell his parents.
