Thread: Macbook Air 2013 13"

Hey guys, I own the new MacBook Pro 15" and it is just too big to carry anywhere. I need the smaller one to carry around - meetings etc. Anyone has a good deal on one? Doesn't matter it can be used too. I'd pay 500-550 dollars max. Thanks!

Before you go buying, realize that a macbook air isn't that much smaller than the pro.

It actually is, lighter, thinner, smaller (than my 15inch pro). :)

Of course it is. But why would a macbook would be really worth it

That is an awful deal. Airs have the worst screens (TN) and shit processors. You can get a 2014 pro for that much on ebay if you're lucky.

I already have PRO as I said, I need something light and small such as Air, please just read the main post...

I like my air. It's very light. I advise you to get one.

I'd get the 12inch macbook.. its very underpowered but even thinner and has a GREAT screen.. I can know, i've got the air early 2014 and the tn panel is just so awful.. no advancements since 2010 :(
