Thread: Theme

Omniscient - October 22, 2017, 8:37 pm

It's making me ill. Who wants to start work on making a really nice MyBB theme for HF?

It just has to be CSS changes with zero template alterations. I just want the colors to be correct especially the background which is usually #333333.

I just can't stand to look at this.

Outlaw. - October 22, 2017, 8:39 pm

My eyes hurt, would love to see the color changed to a darker one.

SIM-2015410 - October 22, 2017, 8:39 pm

Nasyr started one here I think: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5578539>

Hydra - October 22, 2017, 8:40 pm

Please consider my theme, Flat Darkness. It would work well with MyBB 1.8's theme color picker.

Of course it still needs lots of improvements and that can be worked on.

I personally thought iHydra's theme he has made was pretty nice maybe he could make some edits to it and some other changes to make it fit Hack Forums better to your satisfaction.

Repz - October 22, 2017, 8:41 pm yeah man PLEASE! I just posted on this theme not the biggest fan, hope something similar to the old HF is the result. Love you papa Omni.

Saltpeter - October 22, 2017, 8:41 pm

I'd like to see Hydra's theme included as one of the default. It is the only one I've ever used on the site personally.

This is not for 1.8.. I guess

SUI-3183372 - October 22, 2017, 8:47 pm

A theme change ASAP would make things a lot easier to swallow while we wait for functionality to return.

Right now just navigating the forum is tough. Personally, I haven't bothered posting at all while I wait for things to improve.

SIM-3257834 - October 22, 2017, 8:48 pm

A theme that works well with AMOLED displays would work wonders for battery life.

Mr. WAVES - October 22, 2017, 8:49 pm

@Omni just put a random theme from MyBB. This white shit is killing my eyes. Install a temp theme.

Alice Dee - October 22, 2017, 8:50 pm

Hydras theme is really good. I haven't used it in a while as I now use Safari. Would be cool to see it as the main HF theme though.

Or maybe give the community a chance to design the official theme? For HF, by HF. I mean, the user base is large enough that it's impossible not to find people who can probably dedicate time for this. Maybe just install a temporary darker theme (everyone technically hates the white background as it somehow strains the eye), then hold an event for this particular milestone.

It was not finished when I made the thread, it was for updates. He posted that he wanted it, he may alter it as he pleases, however, it's a close call to the sort of theme HackForums uses and needs. Verilog - October 23, 2017, 4:29 am

There is an inverted version of default MyBB theme coded by MyBB community user "holysht", which has almost zero changes in regards to templates and only dark color scheme.

You will just need to change background color to #333, you might wanna see this :-

<https://community.mybb.com/mods.php?action=view&pid=939>

But this is pretty basic theme based on MyBB default style ^^

My suggestion would be to go with a responsive MyBB theme.

Nasyr - October 23, 2017, 5:34 am

You guys need to remember that iHydra's theme is an extension for the 1.6 version of the website. He would also need to alter several templates, classes and more to make it fully operational on the 1.8 series of MyBB. I do like his theme and it's generally clean but on 1.8 as a quick install would cause a number of errors and collisions until it was altered to be 1.8 compatible.

He updated it last night to work with 1.8, obviously his is a CSS File, so he'd need to convert it to the proper format.

1.6 or 1.8 for extensions don't matter, it's just quick jS and CSS. I would have to convert it all into an actual MyBB 1.8 theme and if I do, it'd be for 1.8. Regardless, Omni probably won't be adding Flat Darkness in.

I really don't see the point unless it will benefit the site in terms of performance which probably it would ease down on the database size temporarily.

But it's whatever it doesn't bother me in any way but I have a feeling some people in the marketplace would have a heart attack.

Whew what happened here o;

Theme changed and my goodness does it feel much better on the eyes. Just need the white quotes and I won't go blind :P

Not Your Average Orange - October 23, 2017, 3:32 pm

I'm liking the new theme. One small thing, the quote buttons are kinda weird:

Looks good so far. When it's done, it'll be even better. The one thing I would like to suggest is to lessen the width of the forum. I'm not a fan of full width themes.

lwristis - October 23, 2017, 3:40 pm

The quotes are still whitey.

Froggy - October 23, 2017, 3:41 pm

You should change max-width to 1100px. 90% can still be huge for people with widescreen monitors.

Also, might wanna margin: auto; the container and not touch anything else in terms of width and margin for the rest. Those 2 lines did the job for me when I was testing it.

I'm so happy to finally see a width limit. The first time I have ever used Hack Forums with Chrome on full screen.

Hopefully we'll get a "Home" option back next to "Upgrade" in the top navigation bar eventually.

Obviously these are just cosmetic changes that aren't/shouldn't be at the top of the list lol

ToXiiC - October 23, 2017, 5:21 pm

I think the header is ok... brings us back to the original HF... but everything below the header needs some work. Bring back forum icons and change the grey to make the text easier to read or change the text color itself to be a little lighter. Although it's not finished, I would definitely say you are moving the right direction Omni. I wish I had the money to donate right now because I feel like now would be a better time than ever for all the hard work. Stay positive and take your time, we will all love HF regardless of what you decide to do. ?

One more tip... instead of taking away the forum tabs to make it more mobile friendly, just have someone help you with a mobile version all together. I think m.hackforums.net would be a lovely idea and I honestly loved the tabs on MyBB. It really saddened me when I saw you took the forum tabs away. Just some of my thoughts.

Anxuein - October 24, 2017, 8:45 am

Theme looks sick. Few things need resolving (e.g. pagination controls) but good progress.

Hydra - October 24, 2017, 7:02 pm

Some feedback on the theme. Can we get some padding going between .post_author area and post.controls area to differentiate between each post? Signature line should probably be solid and darker in color. The .post_date (post date post #) would probably be better without a border-bottom. Lastly, lighten up the text color - the current shade of grey blends in too much. #999 would be a safe bet or lighter maybe? That includes post author statistics.

Step by step, we'll get there :) Personally not a fan of the flat + gradient mixing but that's why I made Flat Darkness, I'm picky.

SaintJimmy - October 24, 2017, 7:23 pm

Theme isn't nearly done. So while you're free to voice your complaints realize it's still a work-in-progress. I'm multi-tasking between fixing things in the theme, plugins, templates, and core code. I'd say a couple weeks are needed to get the bulk of the work done.

Please just be patient.

Quote:Omniscient, are we encouraged to come up with a theme better than this one? If someone makes a nice one, will you implement it?

No, because I've already committed too many changes to this one to start over.

The fact is that each day you'll see adjustments until I'm satisfied. If you liked previous versions of HF realize that I created those too. So please, trust me enough to know that font sizes and colors in certain places have to be adjusted and will indeed be done. All previous HF themes were near perfect and all created by me personally.

The member Designer started this theme but wasn't able to finish it. He gave me a work-in-progress and that's what it still is.

The Purple/White category tabs (Hacking, Coding, Computer, Gaming, Marketplace, Money Ect.) on the home page was good and I'm pretty sure it will come back. Just give it some time.

We already have the awards on the right side again, pictures for each forum and sub-forum, we got our prestige back, our avatars, rep, ect. I'm pretty sure the category tabs will come back because that was really good and made it easy to navigate around!

But I'm really enjoying the l33t and ub3r colors, I mean the blue ub3r is just fantastic, the yellow l33t is awesome. The yellow stars for l33t is great, and the hot pink ub3r stars are amazing! It really gives ub3r and l33t that 2010 feeling!

Do you plan on supporting "Classic Mode" for posts? The user area for each post has a border that doesn't end where it should. Or, rather, I'm unsure if this border should be there at all. Maybe add a border to the entire column on the right, rather than having a border around the bounds of the user area.

It would be a really nice feature to be able to tag a user in a reply and they get notified you replied to them. (Something like Twitter)

It can be annoying when you come back to your thread and you have to quote 12 posts, it looks ugly and takes up a lot of space.

Thread prefixes/tags are looking pretty bad right now. They're in a separate column to the left of the thread title. They should be at the beginning of the thread title. If one thread has a prefix, it adds a TON of grey space for the rest of the threads which, IMO, looks pretty bad.

Just noticed this one: code boxes really hurt the eyes to read. It's a dark theme, but the background to them is a bright white and the colors are soft. I would darken the code box background significantly as I'm sure most people have a hard time reading stuff like this:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4238146&pid=40180929#pid40180929>

Another thing: the menu on the top left doesn't work with JS disabled. You can make the same menu you have there using pure css and html, which will work when it is disabled. I've already made something similar using css transitions. Here's the exact css I used, hopefully this can help (edit, I included the little bit of html I use with this in the latest thread I made):

Spoiler (Click to View)

Code @keyframes fadethisout { from {opacity: 1;}
  to {opacity: 0;}
}
@keyframes fadethisin {
  from {opacity: 0;}
  to {opacity: 1;}
}
input[type=checkbox]:checked ~ label[for="collapseobjlabel"]::before { content: "[ + ]";
  cursor: pointer;
}
input[type=checkbox]:not(:checked) ~ label[for="collapseobjlabel"]::before { content: "[ - ]";
  cursor: pointer;
}
input[type=checkbox]:not(:checked) ~ .collapseobj {
  opacity: 1;
  max-height: 1000px;
  animation-name: fadethisin;
  transition: max-height 1s ease-in;
  animation-timing-function: ease-in;
  animation-duration: 1s;
}
input[type=checkbox]:checked ~ .collapseobj {
  opacity: 0;
  max-height: 0;
  animation-name: fadethisout;
  transition: max-height 1s ease-out;
  animation-timing-function: ease-out;
  animation-duration: 1s;
  overflow: hidden;

My next concern wont be changed but I wanted to voice it... I understand the want to remove tabs... but I kind of liked them. This site is large and has a lot of subforums and I liked being able to see the size of those subforums, and the latest posts in them (though most of the ones on the homepage that you could see from tabs weren't the subforums themselves). This is more true for markets than anything else. It feels a little harder to be able to navigate the site and see what it has to offer because in order to see what it does, you'd have to go into one of the main categories, which is an additional page load whereas before I could just go into another tab. Just my two cents.

And it has been stated... move the "welcome back" part to the right to match up with the rest of the header, or move the headerlinks to the left.

This site has never really been mobile friendly, so its a good step in the right direction, especially the menu on the top left.

I would increase font size for mobile, though. Currently it's too small, and while the menu link on the top left helps for mobile, I still have to treat the site like a desktop one. Add an @media query increasing it for resolutions for, I don't know, under 600 or something? It's not the only thing that can be done to improve the design for mobile use, but it's a good start.

Overall, site's change with time, especially one this old. Any plans for mybb 2?

Edit again:

when you quote a post, the link to actually add the post to the quick reply is white. That needs some fixing.

Also, this is just personal preference, but buttons should inherit the purple color like they had before and be styled, I think they were that way before and it would go really well with the theme.

And the current page for pagination's color is black, looks a little weird to be having black on a dark grey background for a dark theme.

Calm down there tiger.

???? - November 3, 2017, 9:57 am

Well if you're gonna upgrade you might as well take the big plunge, unless we're moving from mybb entirely it will have to happen eventually. 1.8 will have a good lifespan and some plugins probably rely on the 1.x structure or something, so I guess we're in for a ride until 2.2 or something lol.

bobtylen - November 3, 2017, 12:19 pm

ok i'm not going read all this pages so why dont just keep the old blue theme? was the best lol

Agfx - November 3, 2017, 12:56 pm

It looks fine. Glad to see a change imo.

snappari2 - November 3, 2017, 1:00 pm

Yeah damn i'd like a new theme this one hurts my eyes aswell.

To be honest, I think it's just because the text blends in too much. If it were a little whiter it would help. And the poster stats are kinda small, where our awards are, but that's another matter.

When you upgrade your forum sometimes the style is required to upgrade too, I'm sure that's what happened here. Now omni or whoever is basically building a new theme from scratch.

When selecting multiple quotes there is a visual bug. The text that allows you to quote the posts or deselect them is white as is the background.

I have to say, this theme is coming along rather nicely.

DevSquad - November 5, 2017, 3:12 pm

The bar at the top hurts my iris.
It literally burns.

@OT, I can

NGU_90 - November 5, 2017, 3:14 pm

No offense the top bar looks funny and hilarious to me, just overall looks ugly tbh.

AutoWorld - November 5, 2017, 4:15 pm

I personally like this feel. Can't wait see finished product.

Narrate - November 5, 2017, 4:18 pm

I'm not feeling the bar on top.

The bar itself functionally is pretty nice, but it's currently an eye sore.

Generating - November 5, 2017, 4:27 pm

I'm glad there is change coming, but I feel like the forum needs more lightness. I feel like everything is too dark and the top bar should maybe be centered or something with a different color? Just a suggestion, I honestly don't know.

The current theme is the change.

Current theme is not that bad, just doesn't look ordinary for a MyBB theme. I find a lot of things out of place and have hard time to find what I am looking for.

(Oct 22, 2017 08:40 PM)iHydra Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Please consider my theme, Flat Darkness. It would work well with MyBB 1.8's theme color picker.

Of course it still needs lots of improvements and that can be worked on.
Looks very sleek and simple, will be giving this a try. ?

Quobi - November 8, 2017, 5:56 am

I love the way it looks with iHydra's theme and without the logo and navigation bar as I removed them by myself: <http://prntscr.com/h7siml>

Once Omniscient finish his work I might start creating a theme too. :)

Remix™ - November 8, 2017, 7:37 pm

This new theme is horrible.....Why did we change to something before getting like a test vote?

Lamee-Ven0m - November 8, 2017, 7:38 pm

I dont care for a theme, if the function is there im happy, The theme is nice.

Like an Old phone, You can ring/Text anything extra is a bonus.

I make the decision on what theme we use. It's not subject to a vote.

Anyways, this thread has run its course.
