Thread: BoostLauncher | Boost Gaming Performance and leave the LAG in the PAST!

gigajew - November 2, 2017, 8:14 am

Information

I developed this shareware primarily for myself, I have pretty old computer hardware, and I'm using WiFi off of a USB dongle. Not exactly optimal for gaming. Before I developed and used BoostLauncher I had random huge lag spikes that rendered the game virtually unplayable, I can now leave that in the past.

It's able to temporarily disable some services that are notorious for causing in-game lag and other problems and I'm releasing it now to hopefully get some feedback from other gamers like myself to improve the software in the future. I'm also planning to add support for adding more games than just League of Legends in the future if it proves popular.

I know some people with shit PCs that could use this.
Also might want to leave a virustotal scan result.

Let me know if you see any improvements, or if you have any suggestions about new improvements

Currently it does this:

- Sets priority mode on LeagueClient.exe process, and any sub-processes
- Disables services: Windows Update (background downloads), Background Intelligent Transfer Service (BITS)
- Disables Windows Game Xbox game cover for better FPS can you make one for dota 2 game?

GrandpaSherman - November 19, 2017, 2:23 pm

I'll test it to see if it improves latency.
