Thread: Officially Ratted Again - My Final Goodbye

Regulus - November 3, 2017, 10:11 am

I am gonna keep this short.

I was sitting at the computer and suddenly a text document popped up saying the following

"You can be ratted via a JPG/DOC file nowadays so I am not clicking any links"

This was something I wrote a while ago to someone but it seems like I got ratted anyways

This will probably be my final farewell because I am tired of getting used and aimed at all the time
It feels like I am always a victim and people are targeting to infect me or use me.

So, so long HF - It's been a good run.

SIM-1589588 - November 3, 2017, 10:13 am

That sucks man, I hope you have gotten rid of that infection. If not, I will suggest you to get a checkup done before you leave HF.

At the end of the day it is your choice but if you do leave permanently then I'd like to thank ya for being one of the funniest dudes on HF, cya dude

I am always being a victim it feels like and it feels like I can't be on this forum without getting used.
I am tired of resetting my PC all the time. I lose so much private stuff everytime and I can't bare with it anymore.

Why don't you just buy a separate laptop/chromebook for HF stuff. I mean it just costs 200 bucks maximum and you can click as much as infected links you want. Just make sure to 2fa your account.

DelziumTheProudWhale_temp - November 3, 2017, 10:25 am you cannot get ratted by opening a jpg image but you can get ratted by opening doc files

Not a bad idea.

I always use 2fa so no worries.

Actually I believe you can.

M?xim - November 3, 2017, 10:27 am

Meh people like to mess with you. You just got to stop using Skype and downloading things from people you don't trust fully.

if you have a 0day yes, but i doubt someone would use it to rat an hackforums member, just use eset and you should be fine it usually detects all hf crypters

I barely never ever use my Skype to be honest. Only Discord pretty much
But yeah it sucks. I'll use HF from my iPad for a while now so won't be very active.

Hate being a victim all the time, makes me sad.

I actually use that

SecurityCult - November 3, 2017, 10:32 am

You can't be ratted by a .JPG, You can however be infected by a .jpg.exe which is just a fake extension if you don't have the file/folder settings set to "show file extensions"

Or using a spoofer that keeps the .exe in the name but uses a special character to flip the extensions.

Re image your HDD and get over it buddy and don't download files from people you don't trust...

Edit:

Btw you literally sound like you're crying for attention over a thing that happens daily on hackforums you're probably infected by some skid on HF

I sort of doubt you've even been ratted and you just wanted to get some attention, poor bby :'(

How is it an alert? you didn't alert anyone about who possibly ratted you.

You made a thread crying about being infected like a total noob saying "My final goodbye" to HF.

second.

Well last time he was "ratted" his account was used to scam members.

Not sure why you're going so hard. Regulus is like the nicest person on this forum.

Turn off your computer when you're not at it log out of HF while you're ratted Doesn't take Security + cert to know some basic security tactics and if you know your ratted why the fuck you gonna keep your PC on anyways buddy probably scammed everyone himself on a socks5 and is using it as an excuse to do another scam spree

EDIT:

Sells Spreading Methods; Gets fukt by own spreading method.

i've never seen anyone get this triggered about a community alert.

there's other things that you can take your frustration out on, my dearest friend. how about your wrist?

Because, I just find the entire OP hilarious so I'm having some fun.

Cammy - November 3, 2017, 11:11 am

You're being the "victim" all the time because apparently you don't know a lot about computers and blindly trust almost every file you download or website you visit so that's why people target you Consider learning a thing or two about malware, don't download crap all the time and your problem is solved

I-GANK-I - November 3, 2017, 4:41 pm

^ i agree with Cammy, pretty stupid if you ask me.. leaving the community for mistakes that can easily be avoided with a bit of knowladge.

dont get me wrong, i do regret this is happening to you and i would rather have you stay on the community.

however there are solutions such as DeepFreeze, look into it.

Will save the trouble of reformatting if you use your PC for just malicious stuff.

Armada - November 3, 2017, 5:17 pm

I hope you reconsider leaving us my friend.

I get targeted pretty much weekly, however just got used to it.

Sorry you have had to deal with this.

wit - November 3, 2017, 5:19 pm

Why would you download anything on HF before running it thru VirusTotal

DenizZ - November 3, 2017, 6:30 pm

Regulus don't leave please <333

HighTier - November 3, 2017, 8:18 pm

I hope you will be back. ?

NinjaLeaks - November 3, 2017, 8:22 pm

Damn, sad thing to here, like some users previously said maybe just get a separate machine for HF related things or a vm that u open all ur "non local" files in. Hope you come back :(

test - November 3, 2017, 8:27 pm

What kind of sketchy shit are you opening to be ratted multiple times?

If it is a real jpg and not a spoof as far as I know then it can't but exploits always come out.

Just don't open shit and download stuff.

Ruins browsing experience. VM is fine for running stuff but not browsing. But yeah depends if OP is using laptop or desktop.

You have online image viewers and doc editors

You should install commonsense.exe into ur brain and use a VM+good AV if you go to sketchy sites or something

Still its obviously sad that people try to take advantage of you, fuck 'em and avoid dealing with strangers in the future.
