Thread: [Reputation abuse \[SOLVED AND ANSWERED\]](#)

SIMAAS - November 5, 2017, 3:52 am

I have got my answer on the reputation abuse, the question I had was not reputation abuse.

Sorry for everyone's time who read this all.

I would lock/delete the thread if I could. But since that feature isn't available yet. I ask you not to post on this thread.

Biggy - November 5, 2017, 3:55 am

From my short time here I've learned that this isn't considered rep abuse.

"Deal with caution" isn't considered abuse unfortunately, neither is revenge repping.

Twist. - November 5, 2017, 3:59 am

Lol this guy seriously made a full fledged thread about my rep on him when he wasted 3 days of my time. This guy told me "I don't want to rush" and "I'm almost finished" several times and didn't provide progress pic. When I ask for pic he suddenly tells me he will be back in 30 minutes (to make a quick garbage design that you claimed to have almost finished for nearly 2 days)

And your dumb-ass has still not realized that you cannot imply that someone is a scammer, without first linking to a valid DD, even if you're using terms such as "finesse" - staff team ain't dumb, little man.

Well I think that the guy is special and the staff should take a look at his account. People like this should not involve themselves in forum communities.

I'm just tired of clients like him and I wanted to know if this is allowed or that it's normal for people to behave like that in this forum ?.

Just questioning the rule or Reputation abuse, not asking for it to be removed.

Twist. - November 5, 2017, 4:02 am

Funny, you only show 1 side of the story. Apparently im not allowed to rep a garbage gfx designer who takes your money and claims hes working his ass for you when hes not even at home.

Ranger. - November 5, 2017, 4:06 am

SIMAAS, just send him the invalid rep PM and if he doesn't solve the invalid scam rep within 24 hours then report him to staff.

So funny how you can do all this leg work trying to claim nothing but can't send me a simple progress screenshot of a thread you have claimed to have almost completed twice now:

how about not going off-topic to explain to everyone why you lied about my gfx design twice. What a gfx artist lmfao

Elitas - November 5, 2017, 4:45 am

Just to clarify, this is not textbook rep abuse.

Using terms such as 'finesse' could potentially be considered reputation abuse. However, you must give the user a 24 hour warning to change the reputation.

Fighting in the RANF section will likely not end well; for any of you.

People don't need a reason to neg you.

If an ub3r or l33t member negs/neutrals a member, they are fully entitled to return a rep. Revenge rep is allowed.

Quote:What are examples of invalid scammer reputation?

- Ripped me off in a currency exchange in Skype
- This member stole $100 from me
- member has open scam reports
- Multiple account scammer
- scammed my friend
- chargeback on payment
- known scammer
- tried to scam
- took my money and didn't provide service
- this guy is a thief and will rip you off

Quote:Someone left me a Deal With Caution reputation, isn't that abuse?

We do not consider DWC (Deal With Caution) reputations abuse by itself. We consider it good advice for all members in all situations when doing deals.

Quote:How do I report an invalid scammer reputation?

We suggest you send them a Private Message informing them of site policy and the consequences unless they alter the reputation within 24 hours. Give them that time to alter it. Do not report the reputation to an admin until that 24 hours has passed. Do not threaten the member in the PM. Instead copy/paste this:

I am sending this PM to you because you've given me an invalid scammer reputation. Policy dictates that I send this text to you. HackForums policy requires that all scammer inferences in reputation require a link to a Deal Dispute forum thread that you have created. Either you didn't leave a link or the link you did leave is to a thread not created by you. As such you have 24 hours to alter your reputation to be within policy. Failure to do so will result in your reputation being reported to an admin which can result in severe action against your account. If you'd like to confirm this policy please read this help doc:

I know that fighting is not appreciated here in RANF, I didn't ask for the users response in defence in this thread.

I just wanted to receive a staff members answer if things liek these should be reported or not, since this happens quite often on hackforums. And as some members said, sometimes it counts as abuse sometime it's not.

I would appreciate when I get a serious response here about my question that the thread would be locked.

I would advise you allow them to "defend themselves", but don't respond. It will show maturity and will certainly help your case to not bother fighting here (goes for both parties).

To answer your questions, below are all the documentation which explain what an invalid scammer reputation actually would be:

Quote:What are examples of invalid scammer reputation?

- Ripped me off in a currency exchange in Skype
- This member stole $100 from me
- member has open scam reports
- Multiple account scammer

- scammed my friend
- chargeback on payment
- known scammer
- tried to scam
- took my money and didn't provide service
- this guy is a thief and will rip you off

If you would consider that reputation invalid, you can go ahead and send the 24 hour notice to the user.

It is very difficult to know how Omniscient would see the above rep. If all you really wanted was a response from a staff member, then you could have just PM'd them and avoided all this additional drama.

CPA Exposé - November 5, 2017, 4:58 am

You're implying OP is a scammer with no official deal dispute made which is against the rules.

Also, he asked for your address to refund the money.. Why not just do it and end this crap?

Also, for OP is it shady to claim you're almost done and spend time responding to arguments and threads, but somehow never have time to show a simple sample of the work you've done. He does have a point there.

youre better off removing that part of the rep or just changing it to 'you are asking to get played' and speak english like a normal person use more commonly used words

Ahh I didn't know the meaning was that clear.

OP send the 24 hour notice and if it hasn't been changed then you can report it.

You know the law. I'm sorry for this, I should have just pmed a staff member.

How do I lock this on the new update?

Captain P. - November 5, 2017, 6:00 am

Are you both retarded? Jesus fucking Christ. Fucking let it go. Some dude who I never spoke to or interacted with negative repped me with "DWC", see me bitching about it here?

I also think it's shady from the OP. Asked him for a sample, yet didn't provide.

Would be acceptable if the OP stood up for his actions and just confirms he didn't do anything yet, but that doesn't make him a scammer. ?

Oh and he claimed he deleted all of his work because he's done with his client.

You need to wait for a staff member to close it.

He's right - There was no need to make a thread like this. PMing a staff member if you were unsure would have avoided a lot of unnecessary hassle.
