Thread: Always Logout all sessions/logged in user of all websites after pc reboot

Calibur - November 7, 2017, 3:27 pm

So i just reformat my pc and install a fresh copy of chrome then after several reboots i noticed that each time i reboot my pc, im being logout from ALL the websites i've logged in to. I have tried reinstalling and it still didn't work. But when I tried logging in on firefox and then reboot my pc, im not being logout from any website i've logged in to, my sessions are being kept.

Anyone have an idea on how to fix it? ?

There either might be a mismatch or you're deleting your cookies on exit.

To stop Chrome from deleting your cookies on exit:

1. Go to chrome://settings/content/cookies
2. Turn OFF 'Keep local data only until you quit your browser'

To get rid of the mismatch (hopefully):

1. Navigate back that folder I gave you: %USERPROFILE%\AppData\Local\Google\Chrome\User Data\Default
2. Delete Cookies/Cookies-journal.

Note: You should have Chrome CLOSED while doing this.
