Thread: Help! Keep getting spam calls where they mask the call as my own number

So long story short, i keep getting calls from "my own phone number" when in reality it's scammer spamming me. He just masking his number as my own. Is there any way to stop this or track him? Will to pay good money if possible. It just your typical call scammer but I've already wonder if you can track them

Since it shows up as your own number, you could try blocking the call in your phone's settings.

They call from other numbers too

Just keep blocking them, it's a hassle but they should stop after a while.

Contact your provider, and see what they can do about it on their end.

I'm pretty sure you can phone your phone provider and request them to block all hidden numbers.
