Thread: Smoking weed for the first time, any suggestions on what to do?

AsianAndy - November 13, 2017, 9:07 pm

I'm going to smoke my first joint this weekend with some friends and I want suggestions to make my experience even better. Obviously we'll be bumping music and might watch a movie, no need to suggest that.

Strain for any of those wondering is Skywalker OG Kush.

dont smoke weed it's a gateway drugs

Crosshair5698 - November 13, 2017, 9:17 pm

If your heart rate speeds up when your high your just anxious and/or paranoid. For whatever reason when I first smoked I was so in tune to my body that my heart felt like it was beating strong, but it's nothing and happened to a few of my friends also. If you get paranoid just know that it's normal

Sheeple - November 13, 2017, 9:18 pm

Just know it's weed and you'll always be fine, after all it's just weed.

I've been against hard drugs all my life. I despise anyone that does pills (for "fun" of course), snorting, or needles. I will immediately drop you out of my circle.

Trust me, I will never do anything other than safe drugs it in my life.

I'd tell you how I got it but that would be a very stupid thing to admit on the internet to some random person.

All drugs can be safe lol, and the drugs that aren't "for fun" cause more deaths then the illegal ones, how is smoking anything better then snorting because one is socially accepted?

Cocaine you can have a sudden death. Heroin is so addictive and cheap, you can get attached on the first dose. Smoking crack is a good way to ruin your life.

The only "safe" drugs are drugs like LSD, Xanax, Mushrooms, Weed, and such.

No shit, I just fucking said LSD and Xans are safe drugs and I don't care if you do them, learn how to read.

Now if you're trying to say LSD and Xanax aren't safe you're a fucking retard. Nobody has ever died from Xanax or LSD before, and if they have it was from extreme doses that would be impossible not to be intentional. Xanax however, you become a braindead loser if you do them a lot, I understand that part. I just don't care because it's safe.

LSD as a drug is safe, however; some trips are fucked up and you can do fucked up shit to hurt yourself/others while not even knowing. Same with xans, they'll fuck you up.

Yeah I know, a friend of mine was with someone that fucked up his trip and he never wants to do it again, said it was freakishly terrifying. Xanax is a dumb drug to do but it's safe. You won't die from it, but obviously you always run the risk of harming others if you are stupid enough to operate machinery for example.

xanax isn't a safe drug, LSD is def not safe while you're on it. Any drug can be "safe" [in the meaning of addiction] if you're responsible and halve self control.

"LSD is def not safe" ? it's safer than drinking alcohol. I don't need to even mention this, it's too obvious. There are too few reports for LSD related deaths to even make a consensus on it that it is not safe. But thanks for your suggestions.

If you are smoking it through a bong - don't pack it full just to impress to friends. Same goes with ripping the entire cone to empty it JUST to impress your friends.

If you have a joint then just take a few puffs and pass it around. Get an understanding of what it is doing to you and if you can handle more. If so - go for it!

Take it slow - enjoy it and let the feeling come to you naturally.

Accelerated heart rate and sometimes even panic attacks are normal in social situations when smoking, hell, even I get them. Go slow, know your tolerance and have a good supportive group of friends to chill out with. Enjoy!

Again, I don't associate with people who are addicted to drugs so none of this is a problem.

Second, you can't OD on shrooms in the sense you will die from them. You can OD and have negative effects of course, as well as possibly hurt yourself. I don't get what you people don't understand what I mean about "safe" -- the DRUG itself can't kill you without an intentional overdose, your actions on the drug can kill you. I may not have ever done drugs before but I can assure you I've done my research on all types of drugs just because it's interesting as hell.

Well smoking weed for first time is quite the shittiest feeling ever so best bet is smoke a BIG BONG capped with crack,heroin,weed and as much drugs as possible so you drop as soon as you inhale lol, jk, but seriously smoke a bong, dont smoke a joint as the tobacco will not go down well, if your smoking for first time.

???? - November 21, 2017, 8:48 am

You might or might not feel it. It isn't uncommon to feel completely sober the first time you smoke. Don't worry about it. The next time you do you'll feel it for sure.

You only have to hold in your puffs for like 2 seconds, MAX. You don't have to for that long. 99% THC absorbs on impact, you hold to get the other chemicals in it.

You will probably cough. If you're doing it out of a bowl or straight smoke your throat will burn like a motherfucker.

BTW if you're not 18, don't smoke. Don't stunt your growth.

Don't smoke too much in your first go, you'll probably green out. Have two or three cone through a bong and ride it out.

They say weed doesn't kill people and this is true, but everyone has some sort of underlying schizophrenia, depending on how dormant it is, it could be triggered. Hence why some people hallucinate with it and many don't.

If you have any hallucinations, stop immediately. It is likely that your level of underlying schizophrenia is too much and is triggered by the THC (Delta \(9\)-tetrahydrocannabinol) which is the psychoactive cannabinoid.

There are two main types of weed though, Indica (grown in hydroponic setup) and Sativa. If you like the body stoned feeling then you'll want Sativa, if you "wanna get high" (subtle towlie pun there), then you'll want Hydro/Indica.

Remember, it's not a Gateway drug but it can be addictive, use it for recreational purposes only.
