It seems Omnis implementation of the headache inducing shitty modern blue theme didn't go as planned. there was no problem with the previous theme. Please revert the theme back or create an brand new one. (or give us a choice of what theme we can use.)

Its this god damn mosaic tile background that is giving me a headache. Im trying to find a way to block it from loading.

There was nothing wrong with the other one.

There problem solved.

You're a douche.

HF does not owe you anything. You are acting as if it does.
