Thread: HUGE PROBLEM! User can change username to existing name already.

EdoFazlinovic - November 18, 2017, 9:08 am

<https://i.imgur.com/A89KVwh.png> => Fake Junx

<https://i.imgur.com/mq22qHL.png> => Real Junx

uid=137863 = SCAMMER => changed username from MARIO to Junx

Different join date, different reputation. Different everything, but same name. How is that possible?
Can this be fixed? Thanks

User Mario changed name to Junx succesfully. => Guess not a bug, but should be fixed or updated this feature

Fck I almost got scammed for 500$

EDIT: UPDATE:

I did so fast transc. because i already traded with Junx and everything went smooth and clean...

EDIT 2:

If this thread is nonsense, please admin or mod delete it, but I don't think it's good if somebody can change their username to some other already existing one.

I mean check UID is good thing, but alot of newbies can be scammed like this.

In my inbox there was "Junx", not "Junx." or "Junx:" or "Junx!". It was "Junx" like real "Junx"

I already posted it, but I will do again

<https://prnt.sc/hc546d>

EDIT 3:

I'm a new guy here, my forum account name is 2 months old only, how can i know what happen in last years?

I just joined in September 2017. ?

I'm just pointing on something that I think should be fixed.

Please understand me.

EDIT 4:

I'm not scammed by anyone, but almost I did because I sent 500$ to real Junx BTC address...

When fake Junx said he need 500$, I just sent to BTC address which real Junx provided it 1 day ago earlier.

Why I sent so fast btc?

Because of this => <https://prnt.sc/hc54tc>

Fake Junx just sent me msg here on forum and I even didn't look what where or something like that, I just sent him on BTC address which he provided me 1 day earlier.

And I did good thing, lucky...

you can change your name to anybody. so i could change name to Omniscent or something like that.

Fck this shit.

Delete this option to change usernames. <.<

He doesn't need to delete the option to change usernames. There are other ways to fix the issue.

(not a bug either, invisible characters are just allowed)

Ub3rs have already lost the ability to junk threads. In recent months, people have been discussing the removal of the ability to delete posts. Now you want everyone to keep the username they registered with? Please, try to understand the adverse side effects that would have...

We already have numerous ridiculous threads about other issues, including the removal of some features similar to this. The last thing we need is people posting more threads complaining about the loss of the ability to change their username. Whether they'd do it for malign reasons is out of the question. I'd like to think at least some people wouldn't want to stay known as "jackwest29851" forever.

I sent 500$ to original Junx because lucky me I used old btc addresss.... Not the fake one. But Fake Junx sent me message..

Well at least, update "change username" feature... would be cool and fix those bugs... :S :S

M?xim - November 18, 2017, 9:22 am

Please fix your title. There's no bug regarding username changes.

The feature should remain so long as you can backtrace their username history. Just keep their user ID somewhere... a text document will do just fine. No matter what they change their username to, their UID will always be the same.

Disses - November 18, 2017, 9:24 am

Link the real and fake profiles, so others dont fall for it.

I will post update when i get all the images. I have them just need to organize a little.

That's why everyone has an unique UID.
Make a valid deal dispute and mention the scammers UID in it.

You're allowed to dox anyone for any reason. But you're not allowed to post/share personal information here on the forum.

It's most likely a compromised account.

seems like his account was either compromised or sold.

Goes from being active, to about 5 posts a year, and then this final scam.

OP sounds like 12 years old tbh, it's not the first time something like this happens, just post a community alert in marketplace.

Yes seriously. It is a problem. If you are high rated member and somebody change everything including your name and scam everybody how would you feel?

What is wrong with you?

Imo only alphanumeric characters (with the exception of underscores, etc.) should be allowed in a username, but that's up to Omniscient at the end of the day.

Jimmie - November 18, 2017, 10:10 am

This is a issue but you could do this before with special characters it's nothing new.

perm - November 18, 2017, 10:12 am

This is not new. Stop acting like it is something new and "huge". Omniscient has been aware of this for years.

Don't worry contacting you now via PM and I'll send the BTC back, just be careful next time :)

Edited fixed. ?

Omniscient - November 18, 2017, 11:00 am

Actually I'll add this to my bug fixes. I had disallowed a huge portion of the hidden characters, some of you might remember that.

I have to review my code changes in 1.6x and put them into 1.8x.

But note we ban anyone impersonating members. Just contact staff. And you should always review an account.

Soon trust scan will be back and you'll probably be able to see enough info including recent username changes.

Sorry to hear you were scammed but right now HF is not 100% and you have to be 1000% more cautious because of it.

Great.

I've witnessed impersonations off-site, but on-site is on another level
