Thread: Instagram Boost - Upload image/video - Auto Liker & Follower

undeRq - November 18, 2017, 11:22 am

Hello guys, this is my "project" to fill more my CV and i want to share it with so you can use it for free.

I was thinking about buying membership or donation and i think donations are better since i won't pay for marketing right now.

Its not 100% complete but it is working.

This is following followers of other instagram profiles (its better this way because if your niche is "Funny" you will follow all people from example fun_bestvids who wants to see funny stuff), also liking pictures from "Location" if you want to get from your country only. You must fill both inputs to start the script.

There is download image/video script too, so you can easily reupload, saving captions and popular hash tags.

I will update this time by time and i hope it will work well.

Note: I can't steal your passwords because you are logging in on instagram through their api and i store session and keeping it to prevent storing a password.

You can't access to the files because I am running this on two different VPS-s.

Take a look at my progress: instagram.com/bootystyle/, instagram.com/clipomania, instagram.com/mrtavgladan

ALSO, i am working on unfollowing people so it will be next feature..

wow nice! i just tried it out and it's so good :)

Ganja - November 19, 2017, 1:02 pm

Looks nice, but I really, really, hate the smoothscroll.

are you planning on sharing the script? also can you put in bot accounts to increase the likes?

Michael - November 24, 2017, 5:15 am
Posting here to check out this website.
It's currently down for me though.

I don't think I will share it. And I am planning for now only REAL followers, maybe in future with some bots.

Now, auto-responder to your newest followers is here.

Kinda hard of adding your Instagram, since they gave me several challenges.
But other than that, site looks very clean.
Maybe it would be better if you added an option to see if there is any script running so we can see which script we'd like to enable or disable.

Probably will do it. Also, I am currently working on "caching" images of your instagram profile, but yea, my next step is to create which application is running...

Ok, "which script is running" is in, you can test it by going on "Instagram".

Update:

Auto Direct Message Responder, once you add text, script will auto-respond every 30minutes to your 200 latest followers.

"Totally Free!" - *Totally

This image that you used doesn't completely light up with the boxes it is put in between. Not sure if that's how you wanted it or what, but I think it would look nice if it did match up. The orange box where it says "Real Followers" also sort of bothers me because the highlight color for the text isn't a darker orange it's a black/gray however for the other box and for the text on the white background it seems as though the highlight is overall black but the opacity is adjusted to fit the scheme of the colors, if that makes sense?

Thank you for this! I don't really have time now to edit homepage, but will do it. ?

Really bad idea to put this on your CV.

Just a reminder that you're accessing Instagram's private API. They can take legal action any day against you, especially if it's tied up to your name.

Not something an employer would like at all.

I don't think they can do it, unless they change their TOS.
