Thread: How do I run a mouse/macro recorder in the background

Elduin - November 20, 2017, 9:02 am

This might be really easy for most of you. I downloaded a mouse recorder to auto like some stuff on instagram.

But I want it to run in the background while I'm doing other stuff and so I can have it running on multiple accounts at once. How do I fix that?

I tired the android emulator noxx, that got a macro recorder running inside of the emulator. But that macro recorder is too simple.

Thanks in advance.

you're making this way to difficult. Create a small JS script to do this, and excecute it in the console of your browser. Works perfectly well in the background! If you tell me what it is you want it to do exactly I'll even write it.

Do it like this.

You can't have the mouse move and expect to be able to use your pc at the same time.
