when do you usually post your tips? in what platform do you share your tips (discord or emails) ?

I do not offer refunds if you lose. Tips can be posted at different times depending on what teams I have selected, but I will give you a notice for when they will be posted. Tips are shared in a discord group where you can discuss etc.

I have just checked the site out, and I believe so.

Fix Yo Bottles - November 21, 2017, 12:26 pm

you should probably take out the 80% win rate because that is false.. The best handicappers in the world, known as "sharps" only win about 58%-62% on a GREAT year.

other than that, i wish you the best of luck.

Maybe you're talking about yearly statistics, I'm talking about since this group opened.

Galardowyn - December 1, 2017, 6:02 pm

So my week is over now and it's time for the results . I have received bet for today also but I won't count them in the review .

Don't forget that I only took 1 week so that's not totally representative of the service itself . Also note that I bet the same amount on each bets I was given (10 euros) .

Overall I think Op is ok but sometimes he forces himself in giving some bets to cover up and he shouldn't as it doesn't work like that . I would advise also to give a risk status on each bet and maybe add a little note on why you picked that tips .

Wishing you all the best Groot and as I said it's only one week so not that representative .

I can obviously share my spreadsheet with the people interested .
