Why are you interested in joining Socialites?so I can just lounge my way around, isn't that was this group is all about anyways?

What activities would you like to participate in?poetry slams, organized knitting circle, learning how to play hopscotch with autistic girls

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?since im cool i have grand amethyst

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?nope, never

How can we help you?yes can I order a large fry and a big mac please?

How can you help us?How it Works and How it Can Help. Psychotherapy (also known as talk therapy) can be an important part of treatment for depression or bipolar disorder (manic depression). A good therapist can help you cope with feelings and symptoms, and change behavior patterns that may contribute to your illness.

Have any additional comments?nope.

I think we can do without one of those, but thanks for the offer.

Damp - November 27, 2017, 9:13 am

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?I'd really like to join another close group like this. I remember when I was apart of the order everyone was very active in the subforums, making close friends in social groups is very fun.

I'd like to meet some more people around HF. Everything's better on HF when you know more people that use it.

What activities would you like to participate in?I'd participate in anything that you guys do as a group, whether it be group projects generals discussions, or whatever it is you have your members do.

I'd for sure be an active member for general discussion within the group.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?I'm going to be honest here, and cannot list of many contributions I've made personally, most of my interactions with Hack Forums have been through the market, as well as Service offerings. It would be a great change for me to get outside of that part of Hack Forums and meet new people through this.

This would hopefully get me more active into other parts of Hack Forums.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?The Order The Executives (current)
Fusion

Eternal

How can we help you?

I believe this group can help me reach out to parts of Hack Forums I'm not normally active in. Also improve my overall activeness on Hack Forums which gets to be inconsistent at times.

How can you help us?

I believe I can help the group with my area of focus which is Information Technology, so I can help members that may run into computer issues or just want advice on if they may be getting a new computer. I do also believe that I can help people market thing that they're looking to sell on Hack Forums.

Have any additional comments?

Thank you for your time.

Jake???????????????? - November 27, 2017, 9:14 am i was hype to make my post but I remembered I got warned for some silly stuff lol. rip good luck with new recruits

Orchid - November 27, 2017, 9:25 am

So what does this group really have to offer? Just curious!!!

Saltpeter - November 27, 2017, 9:30 am

Take your time with these applications, we're looking for members that are able to stand out in a positive way.

CheGuevara? - November 27, 2017, 9:35 am

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?I'm am simply interested to see if Socialites can give a more positive attitude within HF.

What activities would you like to participate in?What activities do you host? The more the merrier as the saying goes.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?Many personal positive contributions which I can't say. But I have helped members in need of help, with various things.

Many things being personal, therefor I cannot say here.

Other positive contributions would be that I tend to do my best to spread positive thoughts, truth, love and things fitting into that category.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?Yes, three groups. Only one which I truly enjoyed being part of. Illuminati.

Though, it was the subforum (Occult), and not Illuminati the group which was the group I enjoyed being part of.

How can we help you?You tell me. I'm here to find a place I can enjoy, be part of, have fun & spread positive vibes.

How can you help us?What are you in need of? I'm sure I can help.

Have any additional comments?Best of luck with Socialites.

Bombaclut - November 27, 2017, 9:36 am

Looking forward to working together with some of the new applicants, best of luck to all of those that apply just put in your best effort and you'll have a good chance.

(Nov 27, 2017 10:25 AM)Orchid Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So what does this group really have to offer? Just curious!!!

We're currently in the works of bringing forth a tournament to get members of Hack Forums interacting & making new friends in circumstances they wouldn't usually. ETA: 1 Week.

We're working on creating a program orientated towards getting newer members more involved and having a better chance of being successful around the forum ETA 1-2 weeks.

We've been discussing a MRT/HJT type program backed by some of the members who previously completed the program, it'd be awesome to see some members who'd want to participate in these activities to apply for the group.

Trappy - November 27, 2017, 8:19 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I am interested in Socialites because I am impressed with the quality content that has come out of the group on a regular basis. For a long time I've been interested in a group with quality members with the common goal of enhancing the HF experience but have not had the opportunity to do so as of yet.

What activities would you like to participate in? Anything. I feel like my strengths are business and other things relating to money, as well as crypto currency and gaming, along with content writing.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? The Brotherhood Consensus Influence Revolution Harmony Aurora Novus Ordo Seclorum How can we help you? I'm looking to make friends and surround myself with high quality people.

How can you help us? I am looking forward to sharing my knowledge and working with other group members to produce high quality content for the community of Hackforums.

Have any additional comments? I've had my eye on this group for awhile (:

J. McCarthy - November 27, 2017, 8:38 pm

oRequiem - November 27, 2017, 10:47 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? There are a few people I know in there and it's easy to tell that it's a really nice group full of nice people.

What activities would you like to participate in? Anything the group has to offer.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? I've done plenty of giveaways, but I can't find the threads anymore. I'm pretty sure they were deleted since they were closed threads after thread wipes.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? - Illuminati - Revolution - Skill - Enigma - Torque - The Executives - Aurora - Influence

How can we help you? Interaction and being positive :)

How can you help us? Maybe I can help with some of the graphics? I've been designing for years. Not sure how much exactly. Also, if anyone needs someone to talk to, I'm here all of the time so anyone could come to me. Either if they need help or just someone to talk to.

Have any additional comments? When you look at my user groups, ignore the Revolution user group. It's a temporary user group since it's being rebranded so all Revolution members are going to be kicked I think today (28th), just to let you know since more than 3 isn't allowed.

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?

Seeing Socialites for a few months now and their handful of tutorials, I didn't only learn extensive things but I also got inspired to construct something myself. As an example, I'd like to take Socialites user Maxim. On a daily basis, I have some talks with him, this includes market focused discussions but also strong argument based debates in the 'suggestions & feedback section'. I strive to provide a community friendly behaviour for all members, whether people have the required L33T upgrade or not. Within Socialites already a dozen of members posted their contributions, either in a giveaway manner of a tutorial or guide in a subsection. I hope to form myself in the same alignment as 'the big guys'.

What activities would you like to participate in?

I'd mainly stand myself in the helping subculture, providing tutorials and helpful responses to any level of members, either in a specialized factor or a forum-dedicated factor. With some recent contributions already posted I hope to receive feedback on the work and build a new layer of knowledge on top of that. I knew the hard work I had to invest myself into the Forums in order to find a place in the community, and when we consider Hackforums as the Mount Everest, I'm not even halfway there. I truly understand that there are other members with more awards, reputation, userbars, or bigger statue within the community. However, I think that especially less recognizable people are able to do the tasks perfectly fine. We understand how new members feel, behave and community because we are closer to them rather than the big guys on the board.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?

Graphics Resources Thread: Link

In this contribution, I gathered a bunch of links, tutorials, tools, and templates available for everyone, without having to PM or post to gain. I stamped a lot of work into this to finetune it for every member. (This contribution uses on-site and off-site links).

2. Free Adobe Upgrades: Link

In this contribution, I upgraded members using a private method of mine. This upgrade gives you access to all Adobe CC applications and tools, for free. I stopped the upgrading of members due to lack of gratefulness and thanks.

3. Numerous of extensive and detailed reviews: Link, Link, Link

When I was apart of the Official Usergroup 'Influence' I had a task to create extensive reviews, by analyzing products and services. This was a very helpful tool for new members, as there is a reputation around the Marketplace we, unfortunately, all know.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?

Yes, I've been in different user groups, including:

- Sheepgang
- The Executives
- Revolution
- Influence

How can we help you?

I think Socialites and its members can help me on my journey to become a standful and opportunistic member of the next generation. Providing sources and knowledge and transferring it to the new guards of Socialites will tremendously increase my behaviour and outsource.

How can you help us?

I'd like to name Three key-features that I can bring to Socialites, no talking around here. Keeping it shorts, with facts.

- Activity
- Dedication
- Communication

Have any additional comments?

I confirm I have warning level above 0%, this will be removed on the 29th of November. Thanks for giving members like me a chance.

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? Honestly I just wanna join a group to socialize because HF is so lonely atm

What activities would you like to participate in? Any I think, depending on time it takes and time of day etc etc, loads of exams and shit to deliver in uni atm

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? I make a lot of hq posts, this will be my 9756th HQ post.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? Too many to count, but probably 30.

How can we help you? Group of people that I can talk to and befriend.

How can you help us? Person that you can talk to and befriend.

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?I am not.

What activities would you like to participate in?Disregarding females and acquiring currency.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?A long list of actual hacking related material....get it? Subject matter that actually fits the brand.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?I think you know the answer to this question.

How can we help you?Just continue being over-hyped, it's helpful by itself.

How can you help us?I don't do symbiosis

Have any additional comments?Red Lion for lyfe

Angelus - November 28, 2017, 4:37 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?Seems like a group that I could actually get into, share experiences and passions with other members, and maybe make some new friends, been itching to do so for the past few months anyways, plus being apart of something that could help the community makes me feel good

What activities would you like to participate in?Anything arts related for sure, maybe some innuendo topics or maybe helping put together events and just talking and having fun with peeps that I may be able to relate to and learn more about others

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?Had a 1$ GFX service last year, lemme link it, although it was nothing incredibly special I really enjoyed doing it and plus I'm pretty proud of my thread design for it being the first one I've ever done Here it is:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5666661>

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?Yea, but usually not for long in each group, they either died out or didn't appeal to what I really wanted to do, can't list them all if you're asking for that, but I really hope I can stick with this group

How can we help you?I guess just provide me a hospitable place to chill and an environment that'll support my passions and allow me to communicate fluidly and interact with many members, as well as outlets to be able to share my works and where I can view other's work and help them maybe

How can you help us?I am not extremely experienced in things you might want, but I am a very good writer (in my opinion) been doing it since I was 4 and I consider myself to have a creative mindset and am always striving for ways to express my creativity to others and make a difference, so yeah I can try and do that if you'd like :)

Have any additional comments?Thanks for considering me for the group, and good luck Froggy, even if I don't get accepted wishing you guys the best, have a good night ?

Rysko's Application

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?

Hackforums to me has always been like a home for me and I love to socialize and interact with other members alike. I feel though as if HF is dying down with the content and really would love to join along socialites in helping revive and push HF to many new heights! I personally feel that this group would really be the perfect fit for me because of the goal you all pursue. Over my time on hackforums the content your group has provided has actually been highly beneficial to me and many others and I would love to be a part of that.

What activities would you like to participate in?

I can create a whole lot of content, threads and posts regarding Socialites and the movement towards stirring up some buzz on the forum. I am a very ambitious person and love to explore new levels alongside other like-minded individuals.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?

I offer an essay/writing service on Hackforums that provides the community with a quality and handwritten paper from the one and only! I also have had many giveaways on HF for Instagram, Twitter and YouTube.

I am a really positive member and always try to keep my posts clean and helpful.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?

Been in a few groups but they unfortunately haven't been very persuasive or active.

Deutsche Bank - November 28, 2017, 9:09 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I like to be part of groups as it makes me feel exclusive and cool.

What activities would you like to participate in? Well you haven't really outlined any, but whatever interests me personally would be what I participate in.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? Grade A shitposting with occasional helpful contributions along the way.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? Complexity because bugga is a nice lady
How can we help you? By letting me in the group so that I can continue my quality shitposting in a private subforum

How can you help us? Ensuring that any and all members who take advantage of their position in the group get adequately shitposted, and flamed until they decide to leave. My good looks and quick thinking make me an ideal candidate for group shitposter.

Have any additional comments? I don't believe in bullshitting my way into groups. You either like me and what I contribute or you don't.

JuiceWRLD - November 29, 2017, 2:35 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I always love meeting new people on the site, and what better way but join a group built around that? I feel as if I don't know anyone on here and I would like to change that, and this is the best way to do it.

What activities would you like to participate in? Honestly, I am open to anything as I like trying new things, whatever the current activity is I'll be there for sure. I will also be very active in the group discussions.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? Instagram strategy, and sales with shoutouts and engagements. I always like to see the fitness forum because I love the gym and love advising anyone who needs it.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? Yes, I have, but it's been so long that the group was sold and they restarted so I can't remember what the exact name was. Currently, I am in no group

Have any additional comments? I wish you the best of luck with the group, If I am accepted I'm sure it will be an enjoyable time :)

It's to make sure you're dedicated to our group if you're recruited as Froggy doesn't want to recruit someone with 6-7 usergroups that doesn't care for anything more then the userbar, also just a tip but should change your user title have seen a lot of people banned in the past for putting group owner of a group they don't own.

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I enjoy helping the newer members of HF, technically people in general. I'd like to grow my base of connections and this group seems to be a good place to become acquainted with people. What activities would you like to participate in? I enjoy helping people with different issue, play Xbox, work on things (mechanically) and all around be productive while killing time. What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? I have recently opened a CE service, most of my clients are the new members everyone else pushed away, I have offered employment for members here on site to earn a few bucks and also have mentioned some in Cryptos that are fresh to it all together. Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? I am in Torque currently and revalations before it reloated. How can we help you? let me join the group so I can meet some cool people. How can you help us? helpful post, good advice and when not needing to be serious I'll have y'all laughing. Have any additional comments? nothing except I appreciate your time and consideration

Ash Ketchum - November 30, 2017, 6:18 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? Seems to be one of the only high quality groups left, and i want to be apart of that.

What activities would you like to participate in? Anything I'm pretty open to doing most tasks or at least trying new things.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? I help people off-site mostly i don't post guides etc I've mentored plenty or just given them friends, recent posted a thread to reach out to people suffering with depression etc and I've helped 5-6 people through some life issues.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? Almost all of the old ones like infamous instinct etc, I don't really remember all the old names.

How can we help you? By allowing me to contribute to what ever projects you guys do and allowing me to interact with more members.

Activity and patients 2 things that'll pretty much help in every area. text here

Have any additional comments? Currently in a few official groups which i hope u can disregard since most are either inactive or just have open spots for everyone til revamp.

zFacetious - November 30, 2017, 8:55 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I have read your mission, and basically live by it. It seems you guys are very interested in giving people a good start, and a warm welcome on the site. For me that is what makes or breaks a new member, If you receive a warm welcome and some direction on your first thread here on the forums I truly believe that will motivate these new members to not only stay, but will give them a positive outlook on the forum as well.

What activities would you like to participate in? I love greeting people, love pointing them in the right direction if I am able to, I want people who join the forum to feel welcomed and feel like they have help when needed. All in all I am willing to help with any activities you guys have going!

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? Since I joined the forum, I welcome when I can, giveaway what I can and try my best to be a high-quality user and help where I can.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? I have never been part of any official groups, Hoping this will be my first and last.

How can we help you? I hope by joining, you guys give me a better understanding on what it is you do, expand on your mission and help me help others. How can you help us? I feel I can help bring my positive vibe to your group, and am more than willing in anyways needed. Have any additional comments? I can really appreciate your mission, and I am super excited to be applying for this group I was here on another account that was closed due to inactivity years ago.

Also just approved for UB3R !

ZerFallen - November 30, 2017, 10:30 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? Well, I've been part of a few groups with the goal to help the site's members. Unfortunately, they've all failed in the past and I'd like to see one succeed. I love being a part of Archive and attempting to help the community, so I wouldn't mind doing it again.

What activities would you like to participate in? Whatever activities I'm capable of helping with. I'll have a lot of free time coming up in the next week or two, so I'll be around quite a bit.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? I haven't had anything to offer as of recently, however, you can check the threads of my past. I've done a lot of giveaways, services, and things of that nature.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? I've been part of plenty. Archive, L'appel du vide, Logic, The Black Lodge, a music group I cannot remember the name of, various lounge groups, and my current group. I've easily been a part of 10+ groups in my time on the forum; though I struggle to remember their names.

How can we help you? I don't require any help. So, you won't have to worry about me.

How can you help us? In any way I can. I'm pretty active and, like I said, I should have copious amounts of free time soon.

Have any additional comments? None whatsoever. Cheers. ?

Manalishi - December 1, 2017, 5:29 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I am looking to participate in activities that revolves around Socialites, and I am also looking to be more active on this forum, join in on discussions and interact with people on this forum, both new and old members. I know my profile does not prove this but I am also known on this forum as "Muddy Waters" which is my all-time favorite musician (which I unfortunately do not have access to any longer since almost a year back).

What activities would you like to participate in? Basically any kind of discussions, hopefully there will be some type of group events which I would gladly be willing to be a part of. I want to join in and interact with as many people as I can on this forum, some I already know very well but there's more people to get to know.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? None of which I can prove on this account, but I have had a very successful League of Legends account shop and sold accounts with extreme discounts to a whole lot of people on this forum. I have participated in a lot of music-dedicated topics and I have offered free graphics services and graphics packs made by myself.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? Trying to think of the names, but definitely I remember my first group I joined which was "Echo". I have been a part of "Dawn", and also the group that The Grim used to manage named "Nightmare".

EDIT: Forgot to mention "The Order" as well.

How can we help you? You can help me by providing a community of people who are connected, may share interests or may not. However I am looking for a good community to participate in and talk to.

How can you help us? I have quite some experience in a few areas like design, account cracking and a very big interest and analyzing in the evolution of American music, as well as the british blues era and I do play the piano, guitar and harmonica to an extent where people can enjoy listening (nothing close to a pro or anything). I am willing to share any of my experience(s) and help with events and be social and active.

Have any additional comments? This is the only group I have applied for as of right now, as I am not looking to make any money or marketing on this forum currently.

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? This would be my first official group I will join and honestly, I do like the idea.

What activities would you like to participate in? The things I am most interested in this forum are crypto trading/investing and having joyful interesting conversations in the lounge.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? Not sure what exactly can be considered as contribution, but I am kind of active in the crypto sub-forum and like to share and learn.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? I haven't been yet, but I think it's time to considering how old my account is. Honestly, in the beginning I was not very active but now I spend almost all my online time here.

How can we help you?Eh, as long as we are friends and have good time here, I'm good.
How can you help us?The same as above.
Have any additional comments?The userbar is sick, love it!

Have any additional comments?

• I would like to then you for your time and consideration. I look forward to joining this group and being productive and active. (Idk why this turned yellow lol)

Biggy - December 4, 2017, 2:19 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?Being Social is one of my favorite parts of this forum. In my short time here, I've met some awesome people that I've come to really like on a personal level, and I want to continue that trend as I venture around the forums. I also plan on contributing as much as humanly possible and would love to do that under the Socialites name. Not to mention, some of my favorite members around the forum are in this group, just shows how much of an HQ group it really is. There are not many groups around here that recruit solely based off of how much help they give around the forum, which is really impressive in my eyes. There hasn't been 1 situation that I've seen a Socialite member being a troll/disrespectful/not involved in helping or contributing. That's the exact representation that I want to help give the group of.

What activities would you like to participate in?Anything you guys have to offer. I do a lot around the forum, such as guides/giveaways/marketplace activities/generally helping members. I'm always down for something new.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?I've made many contributions during my short time here. One of my biggest contributions I'd say is being apart of the Wiki team, that I devoted hours upon hours to. Other then that, here is a list of threads I've made around the forum that have been a positive contribution:

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?Yes. Influence (for the wiki team), Prosperity, Aurora, The Executives.

How can we help you?Just welcoming me in the group would be all the help I'd need. Just want something I can be apart of.

How can you help us?I can give my day to day contribution/insight to anything revolving around the group. Not to mention, I can give high quality enforcement around the forum under the usergroup's name. I plan on doing so much within this community, my list of contribution is only the beginning.

Have any additional comments?Love you guys. Great job with the group thus far.

SIM-403479 - December 4, 2017, 2:20 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?I am looking to bring my activity back to HF and the groups section. The groups section on HF is my favourite because you can socialise and connect with other users on the site in a secluded area.

What activities would you like to participate in?Not sure what kind of activities take place but I would certainly join in! I have joined in with many group activities in the past, including crypto groups, giveaways, gaming etc.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?I have donated quite a lot of $ towards keeping HF alive, I have upgraded and donated to other users also. I have uploaded various guides which help users learn how to crypto trade.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?I have been part of lots of different groups previously, I would also happily leave an inactive group to join.

How can we help you?I'm not sure how you can help me personally but I would love to see what ideas you guys have.

How can you help us?I am a fully qualified accountant so I can help best with business advice, tax advice, crypto trading etc. I do also know lots of other things so I would be happy to answer any questions users may have.

Have any additional comments?I look forward to hearing from you guys.

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?

This group seems to act for the community and newly registered members to guide them through the forums. I'm always trying to help others in the tech section and also giving advice in marketing topics. I'm also hosting a contest and trying to give back with what I have. What activities would you like to participate in?Giveaways, Marketing tutorials and writing guides in the sub forums. Also involved in group events and projects. What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?I've helped hundreds of people may it be in a reply or a PM. I'm hosting a contest and have done many graphics services in the past. I've taught private methods and been here for a while now always with a helping spirit. Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?Yeah I've been part of The Void, Illuminati, Fly By Night, The Executives and Revolution. How can we help you?I'm always open to advice myself, help me writing content for the forums as this is what its about. Finding ideas and making ourselves worthy contributing and adding bricks with our name into the ever growing foundation of the Hackforums community. How can you help us?I will write HQ content carrying our name explaining useful subjects and bringing the solutions to obstacles members may be fighting.Hosting giveaways and write series on a topic constituting a library of knowledge accessible to all members. Also helping members of the group with their marketing questions and help with website dev and graphics. Have any additional comments? Thanks for reading my application and good luck to others !

All applications prior to this post have been reviewed. You will be receiving a PM momentarily.

Compulsive - December 8, 2017, 7:05 pm

COMPULSIVE'S APPLICATION

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I am interested in joining Socialites as I feel that a group that specializes in the new and upcoming rather than the elite and established is something that HF has been missing. This type of group is something that I have been secretly dreaming of in the forums. I would love to be a part of the process and the evident evolution of interaction through the forums. What activities would you like to participate in? As I do not see a current list, some activities that I have been planning to do but under a group that will support it would be forum-wide puzzles, chatrooms, and other social events that could be organized.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? Normally, this is where someone would post threads that they have made and are proud of, but in this case I feel that my replies throughout my whole 4 years on HF can be seen as a positive contribution in terms of making those who are browsing feel welcome. Over thousands of replies and hundreds of reps, most are about being friendly and a good person, rather than business.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? I have been a part of a few groups, such as the old Empire as well as Influence.

How can we help each other? I decided to combine these two questions into one, as having a mutualistic mindset is something that can greatly benefit the forums as well as each other. Providing a platform of support both as the receivers and the givers can benefit everyone in the group as those who put in will surely get out of it, whether it be through smiles, or new friendships. We can also focus on the betterment of those around us, rather than those that we are comfortable with and friends with. Have any additional comments? Thank you for making group where the direction is pushed towards the new and not the old. Thank you for reading! ~Compulsive

Soulmate~?? - December 9, 2017, 4:36 pm

ANONYMOUS - December 9, 2017, 8:23 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I would enjoy being a part of Socialities to help new members of the forum gain traction and have an enjoyable stay here. Whether this is answering all their questions in PMs, or helping to keep them on track in the sub-forums.

What activities would you like to participate in? Supporting the new members.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? I have done free giveaways, given away my ebook, and have sold an ebook that offers support at any time of day.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? I have not.

How can we help you? I believe that people respect others who are part of user groups. This would allow the advice given to new members to be taken better than just someone without a group.

How can you help us? I can offer any services to the group that are needed. If it is something that I need to learn, I will learn it. I can help people with drop-shipping questions, questions about the rules, and more.

Have any additional comments? Thank you for the opportunity to apply :)

Unity which was cancer because the leadership sucked
How can we help you?By telling me How I can help you.
How can you help us?By helping where ya need help, and releasing shit
Have any additional comments?Thanks for giving people a good time

TB12 - December 10, 2017, 6:00 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?I moved to Canada a few months ago and haven't made any friends so far. I do have online friends but don't really have any on here, gets a bit lonely. Was hoping to have the opportunity to start talking to others here more personally and form some friendships. I'm a social guy when comfortable and given the chance. I've also been surrounded by negativity a lot of my life so encouraging each other to do well sounds very nice.

What activities would you like to participate in?I don't know what kind of activities members here are interested so I'll admit to being a bit clueless. However I do like playing games, debating, talking about each other's struggles, and debating about the world as a whole.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?I haven't done anything specific unfortunately. I try to answer questions members may have on the forum, haven't really seen much of a way for to contribute besides that sadly.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?I've been in Skill, Novus Ordo Seclorum SheepGang, and Influence.

How can we help you?Give me a chance to socialize with others and be myself. I'm not an ass that's for sure. I need friends on here, it would motivate me to come on here a lot like I use to.

How can you help us?People can talk to me about anything so if anyone needs to talk or vent I'm here. I got some good topics to bring into the group so the subforum won't be too quiet. I can bring in a positive attitude and a desire to help others. Sounds cheesy I know, but it's true

Have any additional comments?

This group sounds like it could be a great deal of help for me. I'm ready for anything needed to be contributed to the group.

?BowmanBot? - December 11, 2017, 7:38 pm

Why are you interested in joining Socialites?

I love helping people and this group seems like the perfect opportunity to help people succeed in their endeavors. I was apart of 143 back in the day and absolutely loved what that group did for this forum. This group seems like a great way to meet new people and become informed on their interests.

What activities would you like to participate in?

Whatever and where ever I am needed, I will be there helping coaching and giving my advice and opinions on various subjects that I believe my input could be beneficially.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?

I was apart of 143 huge support thread, besides that I have just posted in various threads contributing where ever I could and can. I love helping people with real life situations and can add what little knowledge I have about programming, crypto currency and money making.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?

143, Anime Lovers, Instinct and a couple others back in the day.

How can we help you?

All I want is to engage in conversation with people across this website and have the opportunity to help them however I can.

How can you help us?

Of course I will help any way I can, I am a great leader IRL and would like to use that to contribute to this group and improve users' experiences on the website.

Have any additional comments?

I just want to help people enjoy the great website that Omni has created for us. There is always room for improvement of one's personality and skills.

Thank you for reading! ?

iNuke - December 14, 2017, 4:55 am

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I am interested in joining Socialities because I miss participating in groups' activities and sharing new things. Moreover, I like your idea behind it, which is to help new members get a good start on Hackforums. I believe this is a good idea that should make the whole forum even more HQ with some time.

What activities would you like to participate in? I'd love to participate in group discussions. I love meeting new members, sharing things, having good discussions. I'd also love to start helping new members by showing them the good way and giving them some advice/tips. This could be cool to do that as a group, take some time to help other members.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? Recently, I've been more active in the Crypto Currencies section, in which I love reading and sharing ideas around the Blockchain technology and all the coins. In the past, here are some of my contributions to HF:

French Lessons: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3344497> Contests:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3622544> |

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3622070> Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? I do. I was a PROUD member of Infamous and 143 for a long time. I was also a part of Legacy back in the days.

How can we help you? The group can help me by making me meet new members, and discuss with them. Also, I contribute a lot more when I'm in a group. It pushes me to do more.

How can you help us? I'm a cool French guy so I hope I can bring some cool vibes and maybe I can help with French if anybody needs it haha. Give me a try and you'll see ? haha

Have any additional comments? Thank you for giving me the opportunity to make an application. I do hope you like it. I'd really love to participate in Socialites' activities. One last word: I apologize if you spot any English mistakes in my application, I'm doing my best.

Hope to see some more members applying soon. We will be adding some new members to the group next Friday and that'll wrap up this wave of recruitment.

If you'd like an opportunity to join Socialites now is the time to apply.

The-Fluffy-Kitty's Application

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I enjoy being a part of groups, meeting new people, helping with what I can. What activities would you like to participate in? All the reindeer games. I'd be fairly active whether it's a lounge, or nearly any topic at hand. I'd also be more than willing to help with any projects

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? I had an ebook, and I post decent content.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? Sheepgang, The Executives

How can we help you? By allowing me the chance to communicate with users I may not yet be familiar with.

How can you help us? "Anything you need I can get it on site. I been going hard in the kitchen all night." Honestly, I can aid with anything from front end development, graphic design, beat production, selling, and digital marketing.

Have any additional comments? Best of luck to all applicants

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? I am interested in joining this group because the goals and values perpetuated by the group align with what I strive to achieve, and have always ever since I joined, on this forum. There are a few capable members in the group that I have been acquainted with in prior years, so I know this group is a good reflection of what it is that I want, which is a group that serves a purpose for the community.

What activities would you like to participate in? Lately, I have been lurking the forums instead of being active like I once was due to the duties I am mandated to fulfill outside of the internet. The group scene has also fallen in the last few years which also made me lose interest in groups as a whole. I am willing to play an active role once again and will participate in whatever activities the group holds.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community? In the past I could constantly be found helping users out in the Rules, Announcements, News, and Feedback forum. I was also a part of the HF News for a long time, working under the user Sir. In addition, I used to be a contributing member in the White Hat Help section and in the Coding forums.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?

The Alliance

Null

The Wraith

HF Writ3rs - HF News and HF Wiki

Infamous

Instinct

AnimeFAN!

L'appel du vide

Logic

Nexus

Reverence

Rhythm

Root

The Black Lodge

The Brotherhood

Void

How can we help you? I don't need help. All I request is that the group maintains its image and to continuously perpetuate a quality image onto the forum. How can you help us? Even though I haven't been visibly active lately, I have been constantly browsing the forums, as noted by my Online Time. I have a wealth of knowledge and experience regarding the forums and can assist wherever needed, and to help members within the group.

Have any additional comments? Thank you. ?

I am assuming this wave of recruitment is done, are you still sending invites out?

Why are you interested in joining Socialites? Socialites sounds like an amazing group to become apart of and to be involved with. I am looking for a group to build with and make friends in.

What activities would you like to participate in? Group projects, gaming with group members, and possibly even some sort of products with group members.

What positive contributions have you made to the Hack Forums community?

I did several giveaways while I was a leader of Nightmare and have given back hundreds of dollars to the community. I also am very active in the marketplace and crypto-currency trading section and provide insight and advice to new traders.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past? Yes. I was in Nightmare and also the leader of one of the subforum groups- 'The Society' Thank you for looking at my application. ?
