I How long you've been into Anime/Manga?:

I think everything started blossoming when I first watched Dragon Ball Z Kai on Nicktoons. Would wait the entire week for it to come on but the thing that got me was the long months in between breaks. They killed me!! Had to know what was going to happen next. —> more screaming

What's your favorite anime?:

I could go on and on with this. I don't have one singular anime that I enjoy most, but a singular one in relation to the genre. Let's say, the trapped in a world cliché, RE:Zero takes the cake no doubt for me. I loved the crap out of the anime, and you can't stop there! I went on to read the light novel which was so long and amazing albeit being fan translations and chock full of errors from translation. For romance, my absolute top one would have to be Toradora. Throughout the whole anime, how the characters mesh and develop to create a different experience to all other ROMCOM anime's. For a dark fantasy type deal, Black Butler seasons 1-3 are by far my favorite. Sad part is that I've yet to see the new movie that came out not long ago :/ A recent favorite of mine was FLCL. The soundtrack was superb, the art was great for the time, and now they are making two more seasons for it? HYPE TRAIN

What's your favorite manga?:

I honestly haven't read much manga due to the fact it's kinda hard to do it all on mobile. But what I have read Nazo no Kanojo X. The whole idea of the anime, swapping spit to stay "okay" was kinda bawdy and unique to me.

OPTIONAL: Your MAL profile or other listing profile?:

<https://myanimelist.net/profile/oscast?q=oscast>

Will you be active in the group?: Of course.

And last but not least, Rei or Asuka (you MUST answer this and choose one):

Rei because that's just the type of girl I like. Crazy is really hard to deal with, and Asuka's whole deal with her past would be hard to get around. Rei also has downsides like Spoiler (Click to View) dying and having to be reset, but it's hard to explain. Short and sweet, Rei over Asuka!
