Thread: ARK to \$50 in 2018

The Godfather - November 28, 2017, 4:50 pm

Here's another thread for ARK. We saw just yesterday a pump to the 42k range, or $4.00-4.05 range due to the completion of the Business Identity. However, the pump was sadly very short lived and lasted (3.9+ range) very shortly, probably 1 hour or so mins before it hit $3.8 and subsequently went down. I suppose people were looking for profits after the downtrend ARK has been on lately, SAT wise.

It went back down from the $3.6 range it was at, and is now sitting at 34600 sats, or $3.45 currently.

Now, there was a bullish divergence for ARK (sat price on downtrend, RSI 30day blue line and MACD 30day/60day pink line on an uptrend), however with people taking profits the trend broke and now is back into the downtrend (shortly) after breaking out of the channel.

What does this mean? It is now yet again fallen beautifully into my initial chart channel I made over a week ago, showing how strong the channel is and we can expect a rebound @ 30k-33k on the long strong support, as ARK always historically has had huge rebounds off of the strong long support line.

With the RSI 30day and MACD 30day/60day on a very nice and steady downtrend, it'll set us up beautifully for the mobile wallet release (most likely next week, doubt such major releases would come on the same week, it would pump and dump the coin, which isn't really what they want (especially be oversold).

The MACD will round down and when it comes back around in 3-5 days, it'll come up very strong, especially if it hits 30k-33k sats.

Get Ready ? ? ?

I see ark hitting $10 easily. If lisk can reach $9 or so, so can ark.

Lisk is trying to do what ARK has done, however they have no functioning or working or fully completed projects. It's pure hype and marketing, and peaked @ $11.34 somehow.

Lisk hyped up its Javascript SDK release/preview, ARK already supports: Python, Elixir, RPC, Java/Javascript, .NET, Go, PHP, TypeScript API, Nucleid, Ruby, and SWIFT IOS, and soon C and C++ and a few others.

Again more reasons as well, read main post: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5753850>

Mobile wallets release probably next week, Business Identity completion will be huge very soon.

ARK to $30 in 2018, don't make a mistake

Thank you. Again guys, with the chart and channel movement, we can see a good rebound around the 30k range (lower end)

EDIT:

ARK LOOKING BEAUTIFUL FOR A DIP AT 30k, just look at the MACD 30/60 day! The RSI is good as well. will oversell again

Have about $1000 worth of BTC coming in tomorrow, this thread has me seriously thinking to put it into ARK. Should I wait for it to keep going down or should I just buy into it tomorrow?

Also, are you recommending this as a long-term hold or short-term.

I doubt it'll go down past 30k, at least violently as in 28k or so.

30k was the support, as I said but Bull claimed it wasn't. ??

Anyway, you can still invest tomorrow, don't know what itll be priced at then. ARK however, long/mid/short term is a great buy.

ARK responded perfectly as I predicted at 30k (on the white long strong support line it rebounded)

MACD 30/60day and the RSI looking round and stable and ready for an uptrend... ?

Mobile wallets release anytime, likely next week though... get ready :)

If I enter ARK right now, it's at 32k, would it be around 36-38k within 24 hrs? I mean, as per your best guess?

I have around $320 in BTC, do you advise to go all in?

Olympus - November 29, 2017, 12:56 am

I'm jumping on ARK as soon as i'm done with ltc. ARK has some serious potential and can't believe it has not taken off yet. Once btc stops hogging the market, hopefully it then finally takes off nice TA!!!

The Godfather - November 29, 2017, 5:24 am

ARK is HEAVILY testing the 30k support. Extremely strong support, hasn't broken through significantly yet.

Hard to say but it took a MACD deep dive free fall.

Even if price action goes up, and possibly RSI as well, MACD constitutes a lot. If it is clearly going down/will go down, it'll reach the same range of price as the initial first dip low point

Well I did say buy around 30k, specifically at 30k.

32k your only 6% down or less... lmao.

It means that the support like I drew (white line at bottom) is being tested, that's why when it hit 30k it jumped to 33k back down to 30k, 32.5k and back down to 30k

It essentially means there may be a further dip if it breaks the 30k sat support line (which is very strong, been tested many times in the last 10 or so hours)

If it breaks though can go lower. However it is unlikely even though it may be right at break point. Reward will be huge regardless short/mid-longterm

Rubentastic - November 29, 2017, 6:00 am

I've sold my ark at 3.50 (bought at 2.30-2.40). I will buy back when I think it hits it's lowest point. Great coin and the team also post a lot of positive stuff that influences the price in a positive way.

Ah well, I am somewhat sad because it went down, but I am hopeful because your analysis and experience in this matter are far superior to my one week of clueless trading experience. So I will hold it as long as it takes or until your thread suggests that I should let go.?

I will be more than happy if it reaches 36-38k in the next week. I am not putting any stop loss. Or a premature asking price.

Don't see what's stopping 36-38k or even in the 40k range, unless BTC just dies over night more than it just did a few mins ago (from 11k it dipped to 8.6k and back to 9.9k)

Rebound and break of wedge + mobile wallets release will easily break out

Eh that sucks, can't predict the market. That's why I bought right now, tomorrow BTC could be a bit steady and all alts are green.. you don't know what to expect & I never got in ARK before it started mooning the other day so i'm happy I got another chance.

You're getting in at one hell of a price right now.

20k sats is beautiful, when it's back on track stable in 30-40ks that's a 50%-100% right there

However it's hard to say it broke support so badly, but then again so did every other alt

That is what I studied today, made $500 these past 2 days just from day trading.

TheRedDragon85 - December 11, 2017, 9:27 am

Over the course of the last few days acquired around 2000 ARK, with average buy price around 21.8k sats. I believe in the tech of this coin, and believe its potential is far ahead of those currently with a higher market cap. Also, with barely any marketing, this is a sleeping giant imo, wouldn't be surprised for it to go up like NEO, but in the long term, not short term.

Keep on "flipping for a solid profit" you'll get burned a lot of the time vs holding.

I'm chilling, I'm over 50% up so ?

It rose from the dip of 20-21k sat to 25k sat, and it was yea dip but ark has been in a huge downtrend since October and the huge pump and fork thathurt it badly. From that 25k to 33-34k because the mobile wallet went from 98% to 99%. Lol imagine when it actually comes out

UncleBuck - December 25, 2017, 10:45 am

To be honest, i think $50 is happening what so ever with Ark in 2018.

There is no reason it should not see progress like Ethereum did.

If Ark gets the work done, and get the word and marketing out aswell, it could see the $100+ in 2018

ARK is all about developing a product. That's the approach the team takes.

They themselves in an AMA said: we don't want to market an unfinished product

With great working products and developments and the partnerships they are making and how they have set themselves out for for 2018, ARK will moon.

They are setting up for marketing and have hired PR firms to begin marketing. Even showed up on a Forbes BEST 2018 Cryptocurrencies article, as the FIRST pick.

Once we begin heavily marketing and combined with all we have in store for the new year, you all will remember this thread.

January will be VERY interesting for ARK. Especially around the 18th.

50k+ sat goal broken. 70k here we come.

Once we find support at 60k sat we are at the perfect position to break the 120k day ath

The Blockport partnership is a great addition to facilitate Q1-Q2 and future developments for us.. SmartBridging combined with Blockport implementations and push button deploy Blockchains and more ICO projects built on ARK's network and combined with the issue of centralized exchanges in high risk now (and will be worse as major exchanges close or get "hacked"), the decentralized transfer and exchange that will be implemented will be big in 2018 and More so for ARK.

FIAT to Crypto will also be facilitated through the partnership as wel.

Get ready 2018 will be a great year for us. With our presentations at many Blockchain conferences (notably one on January 18th) and the hire of the PR firm and increased marketing coming as we roll out more products (working ones), we are due for a bull run no doubt

Don't forget how close ARK as a company (SCIC) is with the French Government. Another strong point of ours. Look at POWR with its Australian gov ties (quite different situation but similar). Huge things in store.

Not to mention the whole NXT DGB and XVG massive Rallies that progressively have over 20k BTC in volume and more.

Please get out of ARK.

You are an impatient short short short term investor

It is STILL at $7.3 and fluctuating the 50k range.

It is 2.5x up since I called this weeks in advance to BUY at 20k SATS.

BTC, NXT, XVG, DGB, and others are pumping insanely high with volumes of over 20-30k BTC, forks for BTC, and much other things.

If it didn't rise that much we are in times of division of money flow. We were stable over 51k before the btc rally.

ARK has had an amazing run up since I called this and you say "ITS GOING DOWN A LOT :)"? Fuck off

You can't be so narrow minded and think a 1-2k sat pull back is "DOWN A LOT". It's not going to indefinitely push up there will be stabilization points and pit stops, and not factor in outside influences of forks and other coins.

You are the most ignorant and idiotic person I must have ever spoken to

I made the call for ark to bounce back over a MONTH ago and made multiple update threads and progressed through the weeks on this thread when are was under $3 and then 20k sats.

It's now $7.3. It's now 49-50k sats.

You're a dumbass I'm not mad simply things didn't work out as I'd hope to and the other outside influencing factors don't help at all. You aren't within the community so you don't know anything.

And what? Am I a prophet or something? I've made many calls on HF and many on my own analysis and personal ones most of which have gone through just as predicted. Just because it didn't reach an expected or hoped for target doesn't mean "i failed to predict the price right" you imbecile

I could give less than two shits about if I predicted the price right, after all most of my calls reach expected targets.

The whole PRBuzz problem (that you don't know about within the ARK community) wasn't good for us today.

I'm sitting on a nice 3x buddy in a month and more out of ARK. I've made a lot of people a lot of money not with this call but some others but I can't predict every single sat increase. I'm not John McAfee

I feel like some people think they will become a millionaire in 1 day investing 20 bucks lol.

There are cryptos worth investing short term, and cryptos long term.

Just by reading and researching Ark it's not even hard to tell it will be a valuable and great coin in the future.

But you need to hold it, ofc the price will drop, but it will rise with time, and if you can't manage to see it fall, which it has done several times, leave the Ark, and the rest of us will ride with Noah to the moon in the future!

Message is ment for the ignorant people who sweat when they see the price changes..

HOLD YOUR ARK FOR LONG TERM, you will not regret it!

I'd invest in a ledger. It supports and has integration for ARK.

I have tens of thousands in investment long term holds and for some reason haven't gotten mine yet, which I'll be ordering today.

What do the majority of people in this sub not understand? THE WHOLE MARKET IS DOWN
BTC IS 12K

That is 15% DOWN from 15k last week.

If none of you knew, when BTCUSD drops, the USD value of Alts drop.

The fucking value "decrease" I see so many people here speak about is BTCUSD correlation

That's why we speak in SATS

Thats why I say TRUE increase / decrease of price is by SATS not USD

fuck you guys are set back

We're at 51k sats, what's wrong with you all?

And yes it'll be too late unless btc or Tether explodes downwards January 2nd

If you're planning to hold it for long term, or atleast a couple months, I'd defenitly say yes.

I sold at approx $7.35, I said that I believe I got out in the right time due to the price having dropped. Of course it drops in USD is BTC drops. It still means that since it's value is $6.70 or whatever now, I would of gotten less USD if sold now, regardless of your SATS.

That is why I got out in the right time.

I do not believe it will change at all the coming weeks.

I don't know of any exchanges that use paypal, your smartest option is to convert your PayPal to ETH and use ETH to send to exchange wallets to dodge the $30 fees. There are many reputable exchangers here that can give you ETH for PayPal

ArkCorev2 from 25-45% done.

Their working, whales won't hold the price when it releases.

The Godfather - January 4, 2018, 10:18 am

Perhaps the biggest step - Core v2 - is from 25% to 45% completed now.

This will separate us from the base of LISK (we are a fork of them and they are one of our biggest competitors), and make the code more efficient, allow much increased scalability, fees reduction, faster transaction times, among other things and indirectly will affect the success of other parts of ARK

Expect it near the end of Q1/Start of Q2

Thats how I see ARK

1 day candlesticks, definitely looking bullish, quick summary:

Volume is there

Bullish channel Relative Strength Index keeps growing with time

High momentum from MACD

Target is 0.001 Can't predict date for target, but if I had to guess, it would be around 1 February.

4 hour candlesticks, thats our channel zone. We need to break through the channel before further upward movements, but even if we stay in the channel it keeps growing.

Resistance for 9 January 2018: 0.00065

Resistance for 15 January 2018: 0.0007

Resistance for 21 January 2018: 0.00075

ARK is long term. If you want to make more money look into riskier investments with higher ROI.
TBH your statement didn't make much sense because ARK has more room for growth than NEO, but its your money so make your decisions and whatever you decide be patient.

We don't need weak hands. This is a long term hold.

Also, if you're so blind to not realize the whole market is down, please go to CMC and see maybe not the 24hr gain but weekly or so is down

Been a long way coming.

Chose what you'd like, BTC is in very unsafe waters, may see a dip to $9-11k as per speculation and others in the space.

You may choose to sell out and buy in at a lower accumulation point.

What price do you think it'll hit when it finds another stable point? Bought at 4.50 a few months ago, but only like 30 shares, and now again but more seriously at 5.60, still pretty hopeful with Ark as it seems like the savior among a sea of shitcoins

I'd personally put %50 in now and %50 after bitcoin finds its bottom.

Cyber - January 16, 2018, 8:57 pm

I was going to buy in a few weeks ago when it was like $3 and then it shot up to like $7 man it sucked because I didn't know how to convert to get the coin fast enough so I missed out on that train lol. The market is a great time to buy right now though everything hit the fan. I'm currently in tron and I bought in at .15 so I may hold onto that and also invest into ark now because that was the coin I wanted to do first but the tron was cheaper and there was a lot of hype saying it was going up.

Notice how my 2 week early prediction at the beginnings of the thread clearly showed trends and worked 100% as predicted.

We've already been a stable $9.50-10.5 however but dipped hard recently.

On top of that we have huge developments and marketing campaigns coming very soon.

This will be a top 30 or 20 very soon. Especially with ARK Core v2 and the first ICOs built upon or chain and with ARKVM they'll be coming very soon.

It'll be facilitated through push button sidechains and not just allow ICOs upon the platform — small companies or individuals can develop their own project on a self side chain.

I completely agree with this. Ark has been doing very well for itself, but amongst an economy of coins that 10-20x in a couple weeks or less, some crypto traders might think it's moving too slow.

I definitely think healthy growth is what we're looking at as well; the Proof of Stake ecosystem they have in place is one of my favorite takes on the PoS model. I mean it's only $7 right now, look at its competitor Lisk at $22.30. Ark is much more under the radar in terms of its marketing, which at this point I'm starting to wish they'd focused on it more.
