Thread: \$2,600 cashed out online - November 2017

Feeze - November 30, 2017, 4:02 pm

This is a small profit compared to other online entrepreneurs but it's a major accomplishment for me and my first month grinding online.

I am just posting this not to gloat or sell something, but to inspire others to never give up.

Best regards,
Feeze

Another good piece of advice is, get a side job offline and get just a little bit of money to help fund some of your ideas to monetize online. You'd be surprised how much smoother and successful a project runs with a little bit of investment.

"This is a small profit compared to other online entrepreneurs"

Never say this. These earnings are great for anyone! For someone who just made their 2600$, or for someone who has 100,000$ in the bank. Congratulations. Now your goal is to double that, then to triple, and so forth. It's an amazing feeling being able to make any money on your own. The day I realized I didn't need to work a "real job" was one of the best days of my life. I'm not a millionaire by any means but I do really well for my age. Keep it up, rooting for you bro.

You must run a fine line between depressing yourself over it and understanding you can always do better.

You're right though, double goals, triple goals, whatever once you've achieved them

Thanks for all of the support, I've made about twice as much since I posted this as well!

JAS - December 7, 2017, 1:51 am

Your really going somewhere GL op

Feeze - December 8, 2017, 9:13 pm

Thanks bro I appreciate that!

arbab20 - December 9, 2017, 12:48 am

the thing about money is " the more the merrier"

wish you good luck for future, and hope i can bank some too in near possible future :)

Feeze - December 9, 2017, 10:42 am

You will, just stay persistent.

Ragg - December 11, 2017, 6:03 am

Damn, congrats on your earnings man.

Been thinking of trying to make money online, but have no money to invest, not even an e-book.

Feeze - December 11, 2017, 10:40 am

Start with free research. I mean there's a ton of free resources out there.
