Thread: Reputation system is fucking broken

BrBi - December 6, 2017, 3:18 pm

No this is not the wrong section since most of my messages are posted here, nearly every + or - rep I've received comes from this section...

Actually i've seen everyone can give negative reputation based on nothing, like the last rep (which kindly says that he is waiting for me to post my own private sha256 of my own private file here).

The reputation system is broken, since I've negative rep i can't post in determined sections of the forum, and I'm labelled as a "not reputable" seller in the market.

I'm a fair person, so I don't multi-account for rep or ask other people to share rep... Like many others do

This post will just get you more negative rep.

You are basically asking for rep with this post...

The reputation system is working as intended. Contribute to the community in a meaningful way if you'd like to be in the green.

This is posted in the wrong section the fact is that basing on your reputation you are judged by others and also you're not able to access part of this forum

"Private SHA256" => "Private File"

He only asked for sha-256 of the file you uploaded on virustotal to see your "bypass".

There is no such thing as Virustotal bypass and there never will be.

So in short...

Because you have negative REPUTATION you believe others judge you....

So does that mean if you have positive REPUTATION others won't judge you?

I don't see how the system is "broken"....

Maybe look up the definition of "reputation"....

Contribute to the forum and people will give you the appropriate recognition, be it positive or negative.

Also maybe read the Help Docs about reputation:

We recommend you take the time to read the HF Help Documents section. The answer to your questions should be contained in there.

The reputation you received is a measure of users' opinions on you. Site restrictions introduced when you've passed certain thresholds are instilled for a reason. With that in mind, the reputation system is working as intended.
