I'm currently running one shopify store, it was a brick and mortar company my father started and I converted into an online store through shopify and have been building it up. We just launched the online store in May and we are doing 1-2k a week online, but these numbers are changing very soon as we are hiring more marketeers.

If this is also an entrepreneurial group then I'm into this even more. I'm currently a Entrepreneurship minor at my college and I'm looking to network with individuals on startups that I have planned and to gain/share insight.

PM me for a skype call, I'd love to chat about what I have to offer for this group.
