Thread: [\[Pimp your HF Profile\] Special characters & symbols](#)

Haroshi™ - December 10, 2017, 5:42 pm

I noticed that hackforums didn't have a thread like this.
These can be used for your username, usertitle or in some cases even thread title or as emoji. I will update this when i find more characters and symbols and i will only add what is worth posting in my opinion, no language symbols.
Some browsers can show characters/symbols differently in post (not in username).
WARNING: USERS ARE UNABLE TO FIND YOUR USERNAME IN THE MEMBERLIST WITHOUT THE CHARACTERS
This is what you should see:
But some browsers show this in post while still showing it properly in username:

When I originally registered "Armada" was taken so I used Ascii characters for my name instead.

Fun part about that was one of the characters was unicode and made it so the forum software would not allow users to put me on their Ignore list. lolol

Apparently alot of people didn't knew these characters and symbols could be used, besides that now there is a place where all chars and symbols that can be used on HF can be easily found in one place, semi organised.

Besides that it aint like you can find all of these on 1 website.. and i saved people effort from testing each and every one of them.

Enough reasons for me to open up this thread ?

It's not the one that i wanted but ay its close enough

KOTOR - February 21, 2018, 11:48 am

Unicode and Emojis ruin the aesthetic of an original username. Same goes for numbers and other special characters.

Few people madea complaint that they could not ignore me.

And the final nail to the coffin was someone else complaining they could not register the name they wanted because someone else who got closed already had.

I replied back with something along the lines of "I know what you mean my alias only had like 20 posts and got closed, now I am stuck using ascii characters"

Shortly after I got a real cryptic PM from Omni just saying to "Be quick"
Realize he renamed the original account so I could assume the name. ?

Truth is, I think he did it so people could ignore my annoying ass. lmao

Elitas - February 21, 2018, 4:15 pm

I will never degrade my profile to such low quality 'pimping'.

But have fun with your animations, some of your profiles look proper gangster.

Some indeed look cool Imfao take "Anima" and especially "PAIN" for example, PAIN looks alot better then Pain.

Lmfao that is quite the story, I wish I could get the name "Pain" but it seems to be long gone in the dark banned hole

Subjective.

I think "Pain" looks much better than "PAIN". PAIN looks a bit cancer.
