Thread: What stocks do you own?

I am just curious about what stocks some of you guys own. I currently only have money in one stock some people might say that is stupid but I have made a great profit on this investment. I am looking for some more stocks to invest in and would love to hear what some of you are invested in and why!

I bought shares in Tesco a few months ago at around £1.75. Just sold them recently to put the money in cryptos.

i hold mostly us industrial companies due to the trump administration. the value realization the dow jones is experiencing is an opportunity not to be missed over the rest of the presidential term.

right now i hold a lot of chevron and im glad i went with it over exxon anyone investing in crypto's at this point is doing so under pure speculation

I used to own Apple, Facebook, Google, Amazon, Activision, and Corning. The best tech stocks in the sector! I sold them all for BTC in September.
