So I'm planning on selling some stuff using selly.gg but I have one question to which I could not find answer to.

I'm going to accept PayPal only and wanna know If buyer can see my PayPal email and refund his money somehow? I know that he can't thru selly.gg directly but is there some other way?

Also can PayPal limit me or give me ban just for receiving money from scammy buyers?

He will know your email & he can file a dispute with pp.

Selly is just a gateway, he will still be able to chargeback, see your email, etc; just like a normal transaction.
