Hope it is useful for you.

I feel like this section of the forum has been lacking HQ threads lately.

Do you have any tips for getting an email from a Twitter account?

KLS-temp - December 23, 2017, 11:12 am

Hey ! Without meaning to be lazy, I think that if you put a short description of what each website is meant to do, it would be really useful :) Let's say 1000 people check your topic. And that they would only need 2 links of your list, but that they check the whole (approx) 40 links. It's a lot of time wasted.. But if you put a really short description, it's good for everyone, except you of course because you need to work a little more..

If you don't feel like doing it, I can do it for you if you want ^^

Use the "Forgot Password?" link to get a hint. SE'ing would work too, but I'm not explaining this since it is against the HF Community Guidelines.

Really nice, what can we do with twitter ID when we have it ?

If you just wrote down the persons Twitter name, and then they changed their name, you would lose their account. If you have their ID, they cannot change this so even if they change their name, you can still find their new account. Same goes with Facebook, used to be with Instagram but they seem to have stopped you from being able to get ID's. Anything you can get a unique ID for, it's worth doing.

You would have to go to each site and nose around but try this site for articles on investigation social engineering and skip tracing.

This is a fantastic site and look for The Ultimate Skip Trace List to use to do.

Most professional databases like Delveloint.com and skipsmasher.com have emails for a person. If you know who you're hacking you can just search them and match the hint to what you see.

I have about 9 of those type of databases and I can say it sure does make everything so much easier.
