Thread: Caught a 1.2m+ bull shark last night

Olympus - December 24, 2017, 3:50 pm

Me and my mate just got on holidays so we decided to go for a fish i caught a massive mullet in my cast net so we decided to set one of the rods up for a shark. So we got some wire trace and 4 hooks and about 2 hours in we pull in a massive bull shark. Here are some pics :)

Australia its not as big as they grow thats just a juvenile but it is a big fish when you compare it to other fish such as mulloway or threadfin salmon and put up a good fight.

Looks like he's on a pier. Cant excxpet him to reel in a full size shark. It would take hours plus lots of expensive equipment

Went fishing with my Dad when I was about 12 off a pier in Florida, we caught a baby Shark off of chicken liver. It was kinda funny because we had know idea how to unhook it, we had to have the local Asian fisherman help us.
