Nice clean design, which I like!

You may want to turn off directory listings though (eg: <https://infoshare.host/vfm-admin/css/>)

I see that your code is using JS for things like the captcha, which will obviously have to be changed for TOR, as most users disable JS on the first start.

After registering an account, I can see that files have already been uploaded? And I'm able to download them.

Also, sorry if I'm just being stupid here, but I cannot work out how to upload my own files?

The tor site is in beta as we both know JS is disabled haha and I have disabled upload for about 20 more mins, I am adding private files and allowing up to 44Gb uploads :)

should be fixed though right now, look for "Select Files"
