EVERYONE! Lately there has been a lot of rumors and HYPE! spreading (Mostly from korea and vietnam) about a malware that spreads on facebook messenger. I am not sure if you are aware of this one specific attack from an autolt malware called 'digmine' which secretly uses victims cpu or gpu to mine the untraceable crypto currency monero on the victims computer (this malware attack currently only will work on computers that use the browser google chrome, and the victims must have auto log in for there facebook accounts for the malware to spread to facebook friends of the victim). The profits are returned to the person who controls the malware, does anyone know of 'digmine', or hear of other crypto mining malware like this one. I am specifically looking for one that will mine bitcoin from coinhive on victims gpu and cpu through a simliar malware. You can read more about the current attacks here.
