without getting support involved

have an acc with a fuckton of furni, but dont know the security questions

I have quite a few with lots of furniture that haven't been used in years.

There isn't a way anymore and their support don't help.

I've tried for years to get my main acc unlocked via support and they're fucking useless. I wish there was a way to bypass it.

Don't bother trying with support, their system is crap..

justg - December 30, 2017, 10:09 am

If you try to unlock nowadays, they literally just say "tough shit, figure it out"

Only way would be contacting habbo, good luck

Dufjox - January 2, 2018, 3:17 pm

their support is the fucking worst, you only get fucking automatic mails sent back

BunnyBot - July 28, 2018, 6:25 am

I think it's possible, but it's useless. It is always better to create a new account and not to suffer with fuses and think about how to get around them. so much easier

HankCallahan - July 31, 2018, 10:21 am

I agree with the fact that out of support is a total suck, they can not get through. It's easier to create a new account.

I think that probably not. here too good protection. But if someone got it, tell us about your experience. It will be interesting to listen.
