This user changed his name after receiving multiple scam reports. He was known as jfish.

The story:

He bought my ethereum twice, and decided to try scam me when I sent him 50 ripple and $60 in eth.

After I gave him the transaction, he stopped replying. After a few hours, He blocked me on skype.

I then threatened with police action and told my friend to make a thread, and after receiving some negative rep, he decided to refund me all but 21 ripple (Since he didn't bother read up on ripple, they take 20 ripple and hold it in your wallet.)

He told me he will give me 21 ripple on tuesday when he get's paid (last tuesday he was suppose to pay me), I've given him a week and he has clearly been online, but no response.

Conclusion:

I am going to file a police report when I have the time to get my money back. But users have to beware. He is a scammer and liar, and has been reported many times. Please beware as he is a selective scammer, since hack forums doesn't ban scammers he will keep doing this succesfully , unless the community knows you should twc.

Ripple was $3.5 a few days ago (76$)

If we can get it out that people should TWC then he won't be able to scam anymore. That's my main objective, alerting the community!

Bump, he still hasn't responded
