Thread: VIBE is up 500% after getting on Binance. DONT FALL FOR FOMO!

Silent Sweat - January 10, 2018, 6:54 pm

VIBE just got on Binance today and got a giant surge in price as a result. I haven't seen any videos on it yet so I just made one.

Edit: Just to clarify, no where in the video is there investment advice. Literally just covering a story here of a coin that is blowing up. In fact, I am even skeptical of the coin towards the end of the video. Please invest wisely and do not fall for FOMO traps. :)

I'm not sure why people always promote coins that have already gone up 5 times lol

Slicid - January 10, 2018, 7:14 pm

Right now is the best time to invest into other altcoins.

Bro, we've seen this happen like 20 times with multiple coins.

> coin x gains 1000%

> it is the new bitcoin, must keep going

No, it will stop. And you will lose money. No one will enter right now.

Just covering things as they happen! Nowhere in the video do I say to invest :)

BTW, while I agree with the idea of "coin gone up 1000%, doesn't mean it will keep going up", what you need to do is look at the market cap. If a coin goes up 1000% and it only has a $20m market cap and only 1,000 people know about it and it is getting ready to be released to the public, then there is obviously major room for growth still.

An arbitrary "+1000%" number is not the whole picture; there are other variables that go into play of the price, rise and fall of a coin.

But yes, FOMO is definitely bad. I 100% agree with you all there, and thanks for caring enough to leave the comments!
