Thread: [\[DISCUSSION\] Vegeta & New form?](#)

Patsergedrag - January 15, 2018, 8:04 am

So i was watching the latest episode (123) of DBS and something came up in me.

As we all know, vegeta has broken through his shell and unlocked a new form. What we don't know if it is a form of Ultra Instinct, or above it.

It could just be a max upgrade of the super saiyan blue, but it would be cool to see if it is a form of ultra instinct.

Do you guys think Vegeta and Goku will have to use the potara to fight Jiren or nah?

Just think about it ;)

Well The Great Priest said "He focused a power far beyond his normal SSB within his boy". So i think it may a mix of some sort.

Well is like SSB 2,,, but ultra instinct is like a base power not a real transformation I think,,, like kaiohen is not a real transformation is base power that gets higher,,,and I think ultra instinct has a higher base power than SSB,,, for me it would be like great that being in Ultra instinct he transforms into a super saiyan form ,,,
