Thread: [\[Official Group\] Famous - Recruitment - Social Media Enthusiasts](#)

Biggy - January 15, 2018, 7:45 pm

About the group

Famous is directed towards all social media outlets, including, but not limited to, Instagram/Facebook/Twitter/YouTube. This is group that will prosper together; helping each other grow our social media outlets one day at a time. Each member will be expected to bring something to the table. For instance, if we make an engagement group, we do expect you to join in on this. This doesn't mean we expect you to have the biggest instagram account or facebook page, we just expect you to engage. This group's mission is to help each member in it grow in their platform, if that is something you are not interested in participating in on a daily basis, please do not apply.

Which social media platform(s) are you on?: Instagram

What's the name/link of your page? (Leave blank if not comfortable having this public): @i1yk, it is a personal page.

How big of a followerbase do you have?: Over 950+, when I took it seriously, I went from 300 to over 900 in less than a week. Just started.

What niche is your page(s)?: Lifestyle and Fashion

What can you bring to the group?: I live in Los Angeles and I am connected irl w influencers who can help promote. My main goal is to turn my personal page into an influencer page by using myself and personal brand to reach out to my following and offer them products, etc. (And not to brag, it helps that I am in the middle of all trends and have a good grasp on what's cool and what's not. I'm also attractive.) In the future, I don't mind promoting other members pages and products at all!

I can also bring my experience with Shopify into it. I have been in the Shopify game for a little over a year and have been partnered and helped out many people with their stores. My experience can help members of FAMOUS get their established Instagram accounts monetized by using their OWN Shopify store. If you have your own store and Instagram account, you cut the middleman and you will not need extra funds. I can teach users how to do it all. In addition, if I have my own store, there's a lot of money to be made where we can go 50% on projects/partnerships.

Are you willing to actively participate in the group and help members grow? Such as through joining our engagement group and shoutouts?: Yes, yes, and yes! That's the main goal!

Which social media platform(s) are you on?: Instagram ?

What's the name/link of your page? (Leave blank if not comfortable having this public):

How big of a follower base do you have?: I have a personal that is over 1k, and a small network of makeup accounts that are also over 1k (I started them 3 days ago). This is without engagement groups.

What niche is your page(s)?: I have 2 makeup pages, 1 bikini page, and 1 personal account. Within this week, I will most likely expand to a few DIY pages.

What can you bring to the group?: I can bring knowledge. I have a lot of connections in Hydra and other engagement groups. I have learned the best way to grow pages in the fastest amount of times. I offer powerlikes, growth bots, and marketing for brands. I have a lot of experience with Shopify. My friends that I have met have a pretty big network of DIY pages that hit explorer and use their pages to promote their products. I can easily teach the members and offer a specific mindset that can turn Instagram into a full-time career. I can bring a different vibe to Instagram, it's no longer just buying/selling ogs, creating a network; it's now about using all of what is available and turning it into very stable job. I want others to feel the dedication and determination I have. It would be great to have a group of like-minded individuals literally DOMINATING Instagram. I feel like I can get that motivation into the minds of the members.

Are you willing to actively participate in the group and help members grow? Such as through joining our engagement group and shoutouts?: Completely. I kinda spilled what I can do in the previous question. But to reiterate, I am MORE than willing to participate. I believe that helping members grow is beneficial for everyone. If anything, I would want to start a business with members. Who knows! Also, I'm interested in personal branding; so, any group member who is comfortable sharing personal ig's, I want to help grow their personal brand and turn members into content creators themselves.

Which social media platform(s) are you on?:

Currently I am running two Instagram pages. One is a Fortnite niche & the other is a travel niche. I also used to have a YouTube gaming channel with 4k subscribers (which was decent at the time), and good amount of Instagram accounts, my biggest one being a food page with over 50k followers.

What's the name/link of your page? (Leave blank if not comfortable having this public):

Instagram.com/FunnyFortniteVideos

Instagram.com/Jungle_Travels

How big of a followerbase do you have?:

26k

What niche is your page(s)?:

Travel

Fortnite

What can you bring to the group?:

I know a ton about social media, specifically Instagram and YouTube. I ran some Twitter accounts a long time ago but I wouldn't consider myself an expert at that. My social media career started back in middle school when I started a YouTube channel where I would post Call of Duty commentaries and such. Overtime I learned a ton about YouTube, how to optimize tags, show up on recommended etc. From running this YouTube channel I met some people and I eventually became a content recruiter for a YouTube network called TGN. I would find partners/content creators for the network and also help manage my partners channels. In return I made a percentage of my partners profits and I made about a grand a month in only 8th grade! I eventually left the network and took a break from YouTube. I soon found Telegram groups right when they first started and it helped me grow many pages. I would grow pages and then sell them just to make a few bucks. I learned so much about Instagram from this, how to get on explore, grow pages etc. I made some money from OGAds but I realized that was a bad idea for my pages in the long run. I ended up focusing on one food page that I grew to about 55k and then sold it and took a break from Instagram. Recently I started up a Cannabis page and it's been doing pretty well, I'm going to bring back a few more pages and it would be great to grow them with this group.

Edit: Well my cannabis page got banned and to replace it I am now running a fortnite account. Only has 1500 followers but I've been growing it pretty well every day. I also have my semi-active travel page that I use for powerlikes and such.

For sure, I would love to help other members of the group with Instagram & YouTube. I know a lot that I can teach others and I would love to learn from others as well. I can hook the smaller channels up with some engagement and I am for sure down to join the engagement group and grow with everyone :)

Then I sold it as I later couldn't be bothered with it. I've owned 30k+ pages, but the most in my possession at one time was when I had a few pages which were a 2k, 4k, 7k, and 17k - These were all personal pages by the way. I mostly grow personal pages as these are more fun and I prefer it over growing boring over saturated niche's. My personal account with 4K followers currently averages about 900 likes. The 17K account I used to own averaged about 1K and 200 comments. Making it extremely active. I also how/about Engagement groups, Like Groups, Powerlikes, Promo's etc, etc.

What can you bring to the group?: Knowledge on how to grow pages and how to turn your page into a business. (Monetization) (Whether that be CPA or drop-shipping/Shopify or just selling shoutouts)

Are you willing to actively participate in the group and help members grow? Such as through joining our engagement group and shoutouts?: Yes, I'd be happy too. I'm also already on Telegram and in a few Powerlikes group anyways.

I hope my rep/unupgraded status doesn't scare you away from the opportunity you are giving me.

I'm incredibly known on other forums with having more then 700 reputation on another forum. (PM if you want to know who I am/Proof) I don't use this often but now I'm starting to become more active. Thanks for giving me this opportunity and thanks for reading.

I also used to grow eWhore Snapchats but I felt wasn't needed in this post as you are an Social Media based group and not a eWhoring based group.

Instagram
Facebook
Snapchat
Twitter
Bumble (For Business lol)
Reddit
Quora
Tumblr
Linkedin
Periscope
Pinterest
VSCO

What's the name/link of your page? (Leave blank if not comfortable having this public):

How big of a followerbase do you have?:

Instagram is my largest. I have between 11k-12k followers and get between 2k-4k likes per picture with around 400 comments a picture. I also have several verified people following me from semi-pro athletes and artists. My fanbases on other social media are relatively smaller, however, still have a lot of engagement.

What niche is your page(s)?:

Marketing and motivation pages primarily. I have a lot of pictures of nice cars, girls etc. It is more of a lifestyle niche where various entrepreneurs follow and engage with me. The beauty of this in my eyes is that I have people from very different professions engaging with me on a daily basis. For example, people who are in medicine, fashion, marketing, dropshipping etc.

What can you bring to the group?:

I own one of the biggest marketing companies in my province and can show you news articles and various press releases I have proving both the reputability of my company as well as the big clients I have helped. I have grown Instagram accounts for people with both large and small amounts of following and run my marketing agency full time. I also have 15 employees that work for me and help grow my client's accounts, which I can provide to the group for no charge.

Are you willing to actively participate in the group and help members grow? Such as through joining our engagement group and shoutouts?:

Absolutely! You have to help other people grow first to receive anything back. I have no problem giving shoutouts and being an active member. I am really passionate about social media and the rapid change it is instilling in the world meaning everything I say will always be valuable.

How big of a follower base do you have?: Currently, I have about 350 active readers that will view my content at any time (not counting organic engagement through my publication, tweets, search indexing, sponsors, or users who find my account through the Medium landing page).
What niche is your page(s)?: I am an investigative journalist for specifically that of cybersecurity where I adopt a political and legal stance. (This is not my full-time job but I do it for fun and I generate contracts from it.)
What can you bring to the group?: I would feel as if there is not much representation within this group when you consider platforms other than Instagram, Facebook, Twitter and a handful of others - I could be completely wrong. I can deliver value to members in regards to content creation, publishing, how to get a publisher, how to freelance for an outlet, etc. All in addition to the knowledge I hold for technology, programming, web development, analytics, marketing, etc.
Are you willing to actively participate in the group and help members grow? Such as through joining our engagement group and shoutouts?: It is all about delivering value to other members so they do the same in return, yes.

Which social media platform(s) are you on?: Facebook (personal), Instagram (Personal and business), Snapchat (Used in a personal and business way)

What's the name/link of your page? (Leave blank if not comfortable having this public): Rather not share public for the insta business because it has my personal info - if you need it just send me a PM.

How big of a followerbase do you have?: For my new business it's at around 500 real followers (1000 bought). I have had previous experience in having a tumblr that had about ~15k followers in my past.

What niche is your page(s)?: Photography! I'm a model photographer. Been considering creating a podcast for my personal. Unsure on how/or when I will pursue that.

What can you bring to the group?: I think I can bring some creative ideas to help build off other members. I am too trying to create a strong business platform for my photography company so the more integrated I get with some experienced members would help greatly!

Are you willing to actively participate in the group and help members grow? Such as through joining our engagement group and shoutouts?: Not really sure how engagement groups work - but as for shoutouts I won't be able to do them unless they are in my niche, in that case, I would have zero issue doing this! I also love helping members in general so any way I can without maybe personally affiliating my business I would be glad to do!

Lets say it wasn't in my niche but it was a clothing company I would love to get sent some merch and promote it on my photography page through one of my models and shout out in that way!

About the group

Famous is directed towards all social media outlets, including, but not limited to, Instagram/Facebook/Twitter/YouTube. This is group that will prosper together; helping each other grow our social media outlets one day at a time. Each member will be expected to bring something to the table. This doesn't mean we expect you to have the biggest instagram account or facebook page, we just expect you to engage. This group's mission is to help each member in it grow in their platform, if that is something you are not interested in participating in on a daily basis, please do not apply.
