Thread: [iOS 11.2.2 worst experience ever with iPhone.. \[Rant/help\]](#)

Updating to this firmware will make your phone shutdown at 30-40% battery life.
Will randomly keep your phone rebooting and.... will make your phone randomly freeze/lag when there is no heavy duty going on..

Anyone having the same problem? I seriously want to downgrade back to iOS 9. I bought this phone and it was already updated to the latest iOS version... I never update my phone. The reason I did update from iOS 11 -> 11.2.2 is because I was having battery issues but the current iOS only made it worse..

I'd assume you need your battery replaced as I have had no battery issues whatsoever on any version on iOS.

Just replace your battery (Don't pay someone to do it, watch tutorial on youtube it's really simple.)
And it doesn't cost much at all.. just make sure Charging Cycle is 0

I updated yesterday and it all went (shit..). I'm pretty sure that the battery is functioning alright.

There are lots of complains for iPhone 6/s running the latest iOS.

iPhone 6 here, battery drains in just under 2 hours listening to music or browsing the web, on lowest brightness. Apple needs to get their shit together.
