(Jan 23, 2018 09:00 AM)EOS-7 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Gaming Platform(s):

My current main platform is the Xbox One as I recently broke my computer, I have a laptop with a 970M inside so can play most games on this anyways. Here are the consoles I own but rarely use: Nintendo 3DS - I love Pokémon & will never stop playing iPad - I use this mainly for Lineage 2: Revolution & older pokemon games

PS4 - I'm an Xbox guy myself, you wont see me on this Region:

I am currently based in the EU but growing up most of my friends were NA so I got very use to playing unforgiving games with high ping, I can play on any region as long as my ping stays below 160. Anything over that and it's a 1 1/2 second delay which is grim.

Currently Played Games: Unreal Tournament 99 - Old game but my first, started playing when I was 8 & have 12 years of experience with about 7-8 of that being active playtime.

Fortnite - Currently playing on the Xbox One & PC, only around 70 games played - 22 wins. (Don't take those stats seriously, I let friends play on my Xbox too.)

MMORPGs (Runescape, World of Warcraft, Black Desert Online & EVE Online) - I switch between these selected MMORPGs, I have active membership on all that need it still.

WarZ / Infestation Survival Stories - Dead game now but was extremely fun perma death & open world. PVP was serious & so was I while playing.

I won't go listing all the games I've played / play sometimes but there are many. I normally sway towards permanent death games where the stakes are a little higher & that's anything from ROTMG to PVP games. I very rarely play single player games, I'm very competitive.

What can you bring to Skill?

Here are some of my gaming achievements I can remember over the years, I don't have the proof on this laptop because as mentioned above my computer broke but if necessary I can try dig them out of my old harddrives. Everything written here is the truth. World of Warcraft - 2240 Rating in 2V2 - Level 70 twink in MOP.

World of Warcraft - 3004 Rating in 3V3 - Max level.

World of Warcraft - 2195 Rating in 5V5 (yes, really. I missed 2.2k in 5s by 5 rating before the season ended)

Runescape - Played since 2006, sometimes I play quite often and other times not so much. I have maxed, great pures/skillers & a hefty amount of gold. Although most of that is from my Runescape Cracker.

UT99 - I have owned / still own several (8+) world records for speedrunning. I have several of my self built maps as leading time trial maps, I made them when I was very young.

I am also currently finishing my second year of my degree which happens to be BSc Games Computing / BSc Computer Science, I have experience in all types of game development from SDL /w C++ to 3D games in Unity & blueprints. I'm by no means a master but happy to contribute game development content is the opportunity ever arises.

Why do you want to join Skill?

Since my computer broke about 7-8 months ago I really haven't been playing games at all, sometimes I rock a couple of games on Xbox but really wanting to get back into it and find some people to play with and that didn't go so well from just posting. My laptop currently has a 960M / 970M (sticker is gone and I'm not home) so I can run most games just fine. I am an extremely competitive player at heart which must be clear with what I've previously mentioned. I rarely play single player games as I truly believe games should be experienced with others, I also tend to lose interest if there isn't some sort of competition.

I can play within a team or solo, I may be competitive but I do not take games seriously. By this I mean I am not overly toxic towards other players, I say overly toxic because I'm 100% sure everybody has rage moments.

You're going far in life.

What can you bring to Skill?

I believe I can give my assistance or opinions on games or tasks within games,

I would let everyone know about Easter eggs in different games I find,

I can bring companionship or a battle buddy if you will, in games we all have.

Why do you want to join Skill?

I want to hangout with my mates from hack forums while I am able to play some of my favorite games,

I want to explore new games and the best way to do that is to hear it from gamers.

I would also like play games I currently enjoy and possibly get people onto games they've not tried either.

What can you bring to Skill? I think I'm pretty good at csgo, overwatch as well. Wouldn't mind chilling and playing with some group members.

Why do you want to join Skill? I'd like to join skill because it relates to me as I believe many Skill members play games similar to what I play. I know package as well and have done deals with him in the past.
