Thread: [\[Official\] Sui Generis - Music Recruitment](#)

scam. - January 20, 2018, 7:27 pm

su·i ge·ne·ris unique.

MISSION STATEMENT

To assist artists in gaining overall knowledge through the process of constructive analysis and collaboration.

ABOUT US

Currently, Sui Generis Music is only open for recruitment to artists, both lyrically and instrumentally. All genres are considered, literally all. Anything from contemporary piano to EDM, you are more than welcome to our family.

This group will only compose of peers who possess interest and are knowledgeable in their respective field, so please bear that.

JOINING

Simply post your songs/beats below, along with a brief explanation as to why you'd like to join. If you have any questions regarding this recruitment, please message mael.

Please note: We will be looking for all interested music enthusiasts in the near future.

Lukas - January 20, 2018, 7:43 pm

Looking forward to picking up some new recruits.

CueBasE - January 20, 2018, 8:24 pm

This is awesome. Love to see music groups here.

I'm 26 years old. I'm a professional drummer and producer. I also own a recording studio where I work as a recording engineer.

I've studied music theory and education in college as well.

I can bring knowledge and a good listening ear to the group and I would also love to work with other artists.

I do have a soundcloud but it consists mainly of basic ideas rather than full songs. I will leave one of my originals below.

The-Fluffy-Kitty - January 21, 2018, 12:55 pm

I absolutely would love to be a part of the music and creative force of the Sui Generis group.

I have been involved with music since picking up a guitar at 7. I fronted a metal band in highschool and during this time I also began learning to make EDM/Hip Hop with DAWs (I started with FL Studio and now mainly use Ableton.) I enjoy arranging music and sound design. I also have a huge library of samples and plugins.

If given the opportunity to join Sui Generis, I'd be happy to share samples, assist with creating presets, collaborate with other artists and create content for other group members. I would love to learn from other artists as well as share my knowledge and assist with what I am able to.

I also make custom beats/music tracks for people on simbi.

<https://soundcloud.com/user-285985648/sui-generis>
<https://soundcloud.com/user-285985648/prisonersoftheflesh>

And feel free to listen to the other tracks. I'm looking to improve (especially with mixing/mastering.)

Thanks for taking the time to acknowledge my application and best of luck to all those who apply. ?

I work in the music industry, so this is of interest to me. I may not have compositions to offer, but come from a musical background, and grew up playing instruments on a near conservatory level. I feel confident I'd be able to help users who are working on their own music, from an advisory point of view. I executive produce, and can add constructive feedback. If you believe I may have something to offer to the group, let's get in touch.

Users will be added to the group within the week. This thread will probably stay live but if you are wanting to apply I'd recommend doing it now.

REEEEERRRE - January 24, 2018, 1:42 pm

I would be very interested in joining. I make music for fun but I take it very seriously. I'd be willing to help other musicians work on their craft along with working on collaborations and projects.

Here's a list of projects I've made: (I should note that my music taste/style has definitely changed over the years. Voyage: oldest project when I was apart of group called Keyworld. Staine was my side project during that time, I was in a very interesting place of mind, also my most serious project. i1yk is literally projects that I have no interest in finishing or if I feel like fucking around I post on it.)

<https://soundcloud.com/vyge/kingdom>

<https://soundcloud.com/i1yk/water-trigger>
<https://soundcloud.com/i1yk/i-wanted-to-see-if-i-could-still-make-a-song>

I recently was able to access a computer that I thought was broken, has all my old sounds and projects so I'm going to start an archive page for those.

if you take music serious youre gonna wanna be apart of this

I don't post much but trust I came back for this group

Cavalier - January 24, 2018, 2:11 pm

Really hope you guys dont sell the group any time in near future. I've recently decided producing edm is my dream in life. My long goal. I'm going to start going very hard in next week. It's going to start being my daily thing, producing. Ill come back in a month, maybe a month and a half with some work. Really hope you guys are still open then. :) Love you

Freddy Kru?ger - January 31, 2018, 1:04 pm

I've been making music for a while but I stopped and now I recently got back into it. I play guitar as well as make electronic music. Being drenched in something and being around people who do it makes you improve much faster overall, that's the main reason why I want to join.

<https://soundcloud.com/theopethian/a-step-into-the-biohazard>

No guitar tracks because I'm not good enough at it yet, but I'm mainly playing blues and post-rock.

I have recently started learning the acoustic guitar, however I am only just a beginner and to top that off I only just recently joined the site. Keeping that in mind and assuming I am still legible to apply then I would happily send a few clips of me playing a few fingerstyle songs.

+Cloud - February 1, 2018, 6:10 pm

hey guys

+Cloud here been doing music for a few years now

I mainly play guitar and make beats on fruity loops my spirit animals are post malone and pink floyd here are a few songs i've been working on

<https://soundcloud.com/plus-cloud/makin-it-quick-wip-1> - this one is called Making it Quick, I wrote it on guitar one day when i had no internet then put it into fruit loops. i have lyrics to this song but i dont wanna release it yet.

<https://soundcloud.com/plus-cloud/somin> - this is the first song i made when i bought my Focusrite Scarlett Solo i remember when i uploaded this i wasnt happy with how it sounded but i've changed my mind and have come to like the sound, ive made lyrics to this song aswell but have not finished all the verses yet...

<https://soundcloud.com/plus-cloud/hnng> - this is the song i made when i got my mpk mini mk2 which is a mini keyboard, to be honest i was mucking around then accidentally just played a masterpiece....

i have alot more things that i've made but i dont usually upload them onto the internet.

would love to come along and collab with some other members on hf whether it be guitar jams or dank beats.

Lukas - February 3, 2018, 10:24 pm

I'm literally in the studio all day long, I'd rather not post my soundcloud for privacy reasons but would be more than happy to PM it to you.

I'm 21 years old and currently in my last semester of college before grad school, any time I have non-school related I am mixing vocals in pro tools practicing trying to perfect my craft. This group would be perfect for me because all I already talk about is producing music and I could for sure use some others perspectives on some of my work and vice versa. I could help a lot of beginners out as well

My name is Logan, I am 19 years old.

My dad was a drummer since he was 16 and my uncle was a bass players since 18.

With all of my dad's side in the music industry. My uncle was a radio host for 40 + Years and made a name for himself locally.

I have been playing music myself since 11 years old and started off with guitar. I then moved to drums, then got into EDM and started producing.

I did that for around a year from 16-17 and was in a cover band in the middle of that, then stopped doing music for a few months to focus on college.

I still play guitar and am currently learning piano and would love to socialize with other musicians. Although I don't feel that I am at the place I need to be to start producing my content publicly I would love the opportunity to join and improve myself while helping others.

jk good luck with your group man

the6ix - February 27, 2018, 8:26 pm

This seems like a great opportunity! I'd love to meet other users that produce music just like I do, especially in the same genre.

I'm 18 years old, and have been producing music for the past 4 years.

I have a 1.3k following on Soundcloud, and average around 2-3k plays per song.

I produce music in FL Studio, and make music for the following genres: Trap, Chill, Future Bass, Hip-Hop Instrumentals

Check out a few of my songs I have posted...

<https://soundcloud.com/phora/flex> (Rap + Trap/Future Bass)

<https://soundcloud.com/phora/ekali-babylon-ft-denzel-curry-phora-remix> (Trap)

<https://soundcloud.com/phora/express> (Future Bass)

<https://soundcloud.com/phora/my-heart-sinks/s-JTaNj> (Slow/Melodic)

Also, soundcloud wouldn't let me post it... but here's a remix I did to Post Malone's new song Psycho.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aqY7pfeQhos>

Or you can check my account out at <http://soundcloud.com/phora>

I think it would be great to be in a music community, and learn more about how others produce and make certain types of music and sounds.

Looking forward to meeting you all!

Really looking for some cool new members to talk to, best of luck to everyone who applies.

The Director - March 13, 2018, 7:23 am

I've always sort of wanted to become a rapper at 8 years old...(I know right?) it was either a politician or this... and once I found out what a politician was.... I DEFINITELY changed my mind when I realized it wasn't just a cool word. I actually love all genres rap,EDM,some k-pop, R&B, Blues, Jazz, Rock, Indie Pop, etc(Even Country lol) but G-Unit actually inspired me at first and I became a fan of Hip-hop until 14 where I actually started writing my raps on and off for about 8 years, I've got lyrics stored away until I find good beats, I'm currently 22, and turn 23 in 2 months. Hoping to start my own music label/Talent Agency in the future and looking forward to collabing with any artists and learning production to begin making beats. I've been busy building businesses and trying new income streams in the past couple years in order to focus on my music passion later on but here are two samples of my works.(Excuse the quality, Was recorded off an iPhone 5S about 4 years ago)

rl fennec - April 18, 2018, 4:48 pm

I'm Brandon and I'm 21 years old from Australia.

I've always been an avid music enthusiast. I'm into all different types of music as they all have their own ways of portraying messages and emotions. Specifically I am very into rap and lyricism. I write a lot of lyrics/music myself and have some big projects in the works. Personally I get so much satisfaction when stringing the perfect line together, including metaphors and analogies, double entendre's and punch lines. It would be nice to join a group who appreciates music and, more specifically, lyricism like I do.

Hey awesome you guys are recruiting music enthusiast. I've studied music in France and London, been a part of a group as lead singer/guitarist.

I produce on Ableton and have been doing so for a few years already. I've also given private lessons on music production. I'm an experiences guitar player, mostly blues, soul and pop.

I don't have anything online and all I could find for you is a 51 second demo of a jazz clip I made.

Knife? - April 19, 2018, 10:30 am

I have always had a passion for music and I listen to it daily. I have been a musician all my life time and I have been singing since I was a younger child. I have memories of me being filmed when I was younger when I was singing. I have strong feelings towards music and I can bring a lot of positive and inspirational vibes to the group. Singing will not be much of a useful part to the group but I can definitely help users write their own songs and maybe help them find the right rhythm for it. I am a huge fan of The Weekend since we sound quite alike when singing with a Microphone and we share the same interests.

Yes hello is this a group for the talented.

Dr. Gonzo - May 20, 2018, 1:30 am

I'm an aspiring EDM producer. I just got back into it after a long metal and rock binge. I play the guitar, but I've always been better with the production side of things. I was formerly in a metal band. But now I'm picking up the DAW again and starting to produce EDM. I started listening to EDM back in the early 2000s when hardstyle was big.

I've posted a project beat i was working on. Its fairly rough but If you listen to it I'm sure you'll see some potential.

I'm trying to relearn techniques, get samples together and figure out my style. I'm open to any EDM really but I've been dabbling with deep house and psytrance lately.

Hexiah - July 24, 2018, 3:41 am

I've been playing guitar since May 2015 and it's one of the most enjoyable hobbies of mine.

I got into guitar because I was trying to find myself musically. I wanted to do something productive. I had friends that produced music and made beats. So I had a sense of direction in what I wanted to do.

So I watched YouTube videos and slowly started learning to play. I found other artist that I connected with and it helped me find myself/build personality with my music "style" with artist such as "Corbin, Sosi, Lil Peep and more.

I actually ended up sending a few guitar riffs to my friends and they were sampled. One of the beats were used by Sosi. An artist I had listened to before. The song was mixed/mastered by a producer who also worked with Lil Peep in his early days. (song called toxic city) He is part of the group Team Sesh and produces songs for Bones. I don't know him personally. Just thought it was a cool note to add.

<https://soundcloud.com/seesosoi/handle-with-care>
<https://soundcloud.com/braydo/slowly-going-back-to-the-way-it-was>

I'd like to continue making music and possibly produce something of my own. I feel this group will help me find other like minded people. I would also like to share some of my own personal work with other users and possibly collaborate in some way.

I've been making music for a couple of years now. It'd be cool to be a part of a community dedicated to making music.

I mostly focus on tropical house kind of style. I've been experimenting with other stuff tho - like this lo-fi thing, this EDM thing or this Peep beat style thing (I've never released any of these but I really like the lo-fi one, might release it one day)

My most popular song is almost at 20k plays on SoundCloud right now -

If this is still open.. I've been practicing music for a few years now, mainly the piano but also the bass guitar. I've never taken any courses on instruments/music so it's an ongoing effort to self teach. My real love for music lies in the Electronic genre though I listen to all types of music. I enjoy mostly emotional electronic songs as well as upbeat and energetic tracks. Recently I've been attempting to produce some songs that have the sound of pre-2000 electronic to it

I've uploaded an attempt at a track I worked on a bit ago. Not the best but It's something I enjoy doing. <https://soundcloud.com/mrprox/sounds-of-old>

Anyway, I know Electronic might not be the main genre of your group but I'd love to learn more about producing music and possibly incorporating my instruments to it. HF's music section is mostly posts about people's songs and not so much learning/collaboration so I'm hoping this group would fill that gap. Thanks.

Idk if this is still open but if it is I'd like to join I mostly do dubstep/edm although I mostly never upload my songs since I don't like em hehe ?

I've mostly always been interested in music but started making it when I was 9 (14 now)
I only use FL studio at the moment but thinking of investing in abelton as soon as I can afford it. I don't really make my own melodies either (never really gotten into the groove of it) so for the most part I just use loops and set em up.

I'd love to join but if I can't I understand

As I said I don't really ever post songs, but here's one I've been working on for a while now
